HOW THE DOG DIED.

A certain Irishman was very proud of a huge bulldog he possessed, which was his constant companion. One day a friend met him without the dog and looking very disconsolate. "Well" he asked, "and how is that dog of yours doing?" "Oh, he's dead. The iligant baste wint and swallowed a tape measure." "Oh, I see. He died by inches, then?" "No, sure he didn't. He went around in the back of the house and died by the yard."

BIRD TROUBLES.

The widely advertised act came to a sudden end and the professor emerged from behind the curtain and apologized for the actions of his pet in about these words: "Ladies and Gentlemen—Hi ham very sorry to disappoint you this evening. We are compelled to cease our engagement until the management engages a new orchestra leader. ATHENA MAN NEARLY CLAIMED BY DEATH

A. J. WILLABY SUFFERS AN EPILEPTIC STROKE

Well Known Retired Farmer Has Narrow Escape—Second Stroke He Has Had—Former Young Women of City Return From Alberta.

(Special Correspondence.)
Athena, Ore., Aug. 5.—A. J. Willaby, a prominent retired farmer of this city, suffered a very severe epileptic stroke at 9:30 yesterday morning and he was very near death's door.

Mr. Willaby was sitting in his home yesterday morning and although not feeling very well, he was not very ill. The stroke came on him very suddenly and his wife hearing the noise, rushed from the kitchen and found him almost gone. Her cries for assistance brought several of the neighbors in to aid her and by holding him up and working his arms, Mr. Willaby was brought to consciousness. Dr. Newsome, having been summoned in the meantime, arrived on the scene and by hard, steady work he was able to bring Mr. Willaby out of the spell. Today his condition has improved and it is thought that probably he will recover.

Mr. Willaby quit farming several years ago, leaving his land in the care of his sons, and came to this city to spend the rest of his days quietly and peacefully; but this is the second epileptic attack that he has had. He and his family are esteemed very highly in this community and the news of his almost fatal attack yesterday was received very gravely by all.

Mrs. Arthur Douglas, daughter of Geo. Cross of this city, and Mrs. Fred Cross, daughter of John Keene, of this community, arrived several days ago from Alberta, where they have been almost two years. Their husbands, two well-known young men of this vicinity, did not return however, as they had a crop of wheat in that country, which had to be taken care of before they could cross the line again.

COAST CHAUTAUQUAS.

Dates Will Be So Arranged That There Will Be No Conflicts.

Portland, Or.—A new alignment of all the Chautauqua associations of the Pacific coast, so that there will be no conflict in dates or lack of co-operation in routing of talent is expected to occur at a meeting that will probably be held September 15. Representatives of the Coast Chautauquas are now planning to meet to bring about the above objects and the Albany Chautauqua association, of Albany Or., will invite the different representatives to gather there. Wallace R. Struble, secretary of the Albany association, is sending out invitations.

It is believed this meeting will result in a better working basis for all the coast chautauquas. It is thought it will bring about more perfect arrangements for handling the speakers who come on the Chautauqua circuit and will likely enable the different associations to secure better attractions.

It is expected arrangements will be made whereby speakers who are too high priced for any one chautauqua to bring west will be routed around the coast circuit, all sharing in the expense of the trip and thus making the cost to the individual associations much less than would otherwise be the case.

All these details will be worked out. It is expected, at the meeting now scheduled for September 15.

"FIESTA OF DAWN OF GOLD" IN SACRAMENTO

Sacramento, Calif.—So great is the demand for space for exhibits at the coming state fair that the directors of the California State Agricultural Society are planning extensive additions to the present accommodations at the fair grounds. New sheds, corrals, and stock pens are being built, and a number of large tents, with board floors, will be utilized to house the myriad exhibits.

Secretary Fitcher is fairly overwhelmed with applications for space, and the directors now assert positively that the fair will be an extraordinary success. This success will be largely due to the energy of the leading business men of Sacramento in arranging a "Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold" as an adjunct to the fair. The magnificent program which has been prepared for the fiesta is a powerful attraction. Letters are received daily by the committee, many of them from the far eastern states, asking for information and details of the fair and fiesta. It is now believed that the original estimate of 200,000 visitors during fair week, will have to be revised, and it looks as though that number will be greatly exceeded.

A SENATOR'S CRITICISM.

Senator Penrose was talking on one of the Atlantic City piers about the stormy "Electra" of Richard Strauss.

"Strauss is very original," said a listener, "but, senator, do you think his theory of music is sound?" "Yes, indeed—all sound," was the reply.

One May Overcome

constipation permanently by proper personal co-operation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, when required. The forming of regular habits is most important and while endeavoring to form them the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is most valuable, as it is the only laxative which acts without disturbing the natural functions and without debilitating and it is the one laxative which leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition, thereby really aiding one in that way. To get its beneficial effects, buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is never classed by the well-informed with medicines which make extravagant and unfounded claims to cure habitual constipation without personal co-operation.
