DETECTIVES IN GUISE OF WEARY WILLIES

MADE QUIET OBSERVATIONS WHILE AROUND UMATILLA

Surprise Expected to Follow Discovery of Identity of Two Hoboes—Labor Scarce at Umatilla—Popular Young Couple Wed—Other News Notes.

(Special Correspondence.)
Umatilla, Ore., Aug. 17.—Two hoboes, who it is since learned, were none other than two detectives, who were here for two days the early part of the week and there may be something doing here in certain circles which may cause surprise to many of our citizens.

The coolness of the past few days makes one believe we are to have a very early fall and a severe winter. Mr. Lawrence Bullock and Miss Ollie Kell, two very popular Umatilla young people were married at the court house in Pendleton on Wednesday morning. Only the intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. The young couple arrived on the evening motor and were met by a large number of their friends with showers of rice, who wished them all kinds of good luck in their wedded life. Mr. Bullock is a popular O. R. & N. car checker and both young people are decidedly popular. They will reside in the new home recently completed for them on the south side of the city.

B. F. Curtis of Cheney, Wash., a former resident of Umatilla, now a wealthy Washington rancher, was here this week to dispose of some real estate holdings. He at one time ran boats from here on the Columbia river and told many good stories of "ye good old times in Umatilla." Mr. Curtis left here on the building of the O. R. & N. through this section and has seen many changes in Umatilla county since then.

The ranchers are now in their busiest time and the scarcity of labor makes it very hard on them. They are now in the height of the third alfalfa cutting and have every indication that a fourth crop will also be made.

Many inquirers are being made as to when work on the new Umatilla river bridge will begin as it was the general impression that it was to be completed before the end of September.

J. A. Relvee and H. Heland of the U. S. government, were here today taking observations for the government. They left today for Arlington.

H. R. Newport of Hermiston, was a visitor here today. H. W. Jessie of the operating staff of the O. R. & N. here, has returned from a two weeks' hunting trip and Mr. S. A. Gates, who was acting for him and had been on the extra staff for some months, has gone to Portland, where he expects to locate permanently.

Extra gangs have built a new siding which is to be used for thousands of tons of extra coal the O. R. & N. is storing here. Most of the coal will be stored to the south side of the depot.

Accompanied by E. Fish of Husum, a well known bear hunter, and one other hunter, Van Vorst went back after the bear Tuesday and a short hunt found the game and the mother and cubs were killed.

Sues Girl Who Jilts Him.
Eugene, Or.—Amos Hoff, a farmer of Lane county, has sued Anna Severson for $2213 damages on account of her refusal to marry him. He alleges that he and the defendant entered into a marriage agreement, and after he had advanced her considerable money, paid her fare from Norway to Eugene, paid for livery hire and lost considerable time from his work in waiting in town for her to arrive from the old country, she refused to carry out the agreement.

Among the items Hoff enumerated is $35 sent her before she started for the United States, $101.75 fare to Eugene, $5 for clothes, $20 in cash upon her arrival here, $3.50 for a livery rig and $16 lost on account of being away from his work four days. He claims that her refusal to marry him caused him great humiliation, pain and mental anguish, and on that account, together with the expense of bringing her from Norway, he is damaged in the sum of $2213.

R. R. Commission Hearing.
Salem, Or.—The Oregon railroad commission departed Wednesday morning for Eugene where it will listen to complaints lodged against the Southern Pacific services by the citizens of Eugene. One of the subjects to be considered will be that of a fast train service from Cottage Grove to Portland, so that many delays and inconveniences now experienced may be eliminated. Two propositions will be considered, the establishing of a flyer or an express train.

A $30,000,000 Mortgage.
Astoria, Or.—The largest document ever filed for record in Clatsop county was received by County Clerk Clinton Wednesday morning. It is a mortgage for $30,000,000, given by the Pacific Light & Power company, which recently absorbed the Astoria Electric company, to the United States Mortgage & Trust company of New York.

Bad Fire at Nelson.
Nelson, B. C.—Damage to the extent of several thousand dollars was caused by fire, which gutted the Cosmopolitan Hotel.

Opticians in Session.
Cedar Point, O., Aug. 15.—With delegates from all over the country present, the American Association of Opticians convened here today. The 1911 convention will probably be awarded to Province, R. I.

PEACHES AND CREAM GIVEN TO EVERYBODY

FREEWATER CELEBRATES ANNUAL "PEACH DAY"

Great Crowd Is Fed on Products of Freewater Soil—Festal Spirit Holds Sway Throughout Day—Many Addresses Are Made.

Yesterday was a gala day in Freewater, the occasion being the annual "Peach Day" which occasion is celebrated in the east end town with as much spirit as the average Fourth of July. The citizens of the town and valley who had co-operated in their efforts to make the event a most successful one, proved that they were the kind of hosts which most appeal to visitors, for they had provided sufficient peaches and cream to satisfy an army of gourmands. The year had been very favorable to them and the yields of their trees had been bountiful, and there could be no better evidence of their gratitude to a generous providence than the spirit of hospitality which prevailed among them yesterday. A large crowd from all parts of Umatilla county and from Walla Walla were on hand to partake of the choice fruit and the streets of the town as well as the park were thronged all day with festive people.

The Freewater city park resembled a miniature county fair ground when the crowds began to assemble. Most of the business houses had erected booths, some to display their wares and some for the sole purpose of dispensing hospitality where coffee, doughnuts and peaches were served free to all who came. A mammoth pyramid of fruit occupied the center of the grounds, displaying fruits and vegetables grown in the vicinity. Peaches, pears, plums, apples, prunes and even strawberries were piled up in tempting masses, testifying to the fertility of the Freewater soil. Of course the merry-go-round, the can-can, shooting gallery and other holiday amusements were in evidence in the park, including a moving picture show that had been fitted up in an abandoned building across the street, and all were being liberally patronized. Lunch stands, galore with their noisy hawkers, vied with the program of speeches and music being carried on not fifty feet away.

The exercises of the day were in charge of Editor D. C. Sanderson and the music was furnished by Dunning's band of Walla Walla. Speakers were almost as numerous as peaches and the three programs—morning, afternoon and evening—were listened to with rapt attention by the great crowd seated in the pavilion that had been built especially for the occasion.

A baseball game, races of various kinds, and a baby show attracted the crowds and interspersed all were peaches to the satisfaction of everybody. The crowd was a good natured one and people from the countryside for miles around were there to enjoy the day and renew acquaintances.

For two years previous to this one Freewater has been unable to observe her annual holiday owing to the fact that the peach crop was practically a failure, but this year more than makes up for the lean years. The shipping season has just fairly begun. Tuesday the Shippers' Union of Freewater shipped sixteen cars of fruit and from this time on the shipments of the union alone will average twenty cars a day from this one town. It is said that the union shippers constitute about five-sixths of the shippers from Freewater.

Library Notes

The Citizen.

(N. S. Shaler.)
Now that the time of voting is drawing near and we are hearing so much of the rights of citizens, the rights of party, it might be well to consider also what some of its duties are. Among the books that are like a tonic in their bracing view of American government and politics is "The Citizen," by Nathaniel Southgate Shaler.

Mr. Shaler was a southerner by birth and training, he was also a pupil of the great Agassiz, and a professor in Harvard University. From this it can be seen he was a man of broad experience in that he had lived in two very different parts of the same country. He always took a deep interest in local politics.

When such a man speaks he has something to say. Some of the chapter headings will give an idea of the scope of the book. They are "What Liberty Is," "On the Share of the Average Man in the State," "Citizenship and Party Allegiance," "Immigration," "Universal Suffrage and the Negro Question." The dominant idea in all these chapters is "that a man shall not live unto himself alone," but that the practice of disinterested self-sacrifice is needed in politics as well as in business or in society at large.

Years of Suffering

Catarrh and Blood Disease—Doctors Failed to Cure.

Miss Mabel F. Dawkins, 1214 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with catarrh and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles of this medicine and was as well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from catarrh."
