Off on Big Hunt.
Carrying a small arsenal and loaded with much determination Editor E. B. Aldrich and Advertising Manager Lee D. Drake of the East Oregonian, left this morning for the Walla Walla country on a two week's hunting trip. With riding and pack horses they will go from the lake over into the Sheep creek and Imnaha sections.

Mortgage for $30,000,000.
A $30,000,000 mortgage bond was placed on record at the court house today. The Pacific Power & Light company is the one getting the money and the United States Mortgage Trust company is the one getting the mortgage on the other property, which includes the electric light and power stations owned by the Pacific company in the Northwest.

Brief Council Meeting.
A brief meeting of the city council was held last evening. One bill was ordered paid and bids for supplying one car load of coal and one car load of bridge flooring were read and referred to the committee. Ben Burroughs the fuel dealer was low bidder for the lumber while Henry Kopitke, The Pendleton Lumber company and the Crab Creek Lumber company all tied for low place on the coal bids.

H. O. Worthington, the Athena merchant, is down from that city today for the transaction of business.

FIRES RAGING NEAR MEDFORD

surging reports by officials that forest fires are being controlled in the Clearwater district, the fire is gaining headway hourly. According to today's advices one fire on the south fork of the Clearwater river, 20 miles long and ten wide, is sweeping over the country. Two hundred men are employed in the fighting. Reports of several burned to death are unverified.

Fire in Deschutes.
Prineville, Ore., Aug. 18.—Superintendent Ireland with several assistants left today for the forest fires in the Deschutes national reservation. It is believed it is not dangerous. A heavy pall of smoke hangs over the district indicating the fire is in green timber.

London's Shortest Sermon.
London.—The sermon preached by the vicar of Workshop recently at the Priory church consisted of five words only.

It was the Sunday on which collections are made for the choir outing. The text was Samuel II, xxiv, 24— "I will not offer to the Lord, my God, that which cost me nothing."
"The application," remarked the vicar, "is very obvious." This was all the sermon.

PIONEER SHEEPMAN PASSES TO BEYOND

H. C. ADAMS DIES
AT AGE OF 72 YEARS

Resident of Umatilla County for Nearly Half Century Succumbs to Paralysis in Walla Walla—Was One of Very First of Sheepmen in this Section.

H. C. Adams, aged 72 years, a resident of Umatilla county for nearly half a century and the pioneer sheepman of this county, died at the home of Attorney H. C. Bryson in Walla Walla, at 7:30 last evening. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis which was suffered about a year ago.

Mr. Adams was born in Franklin county, Maine, Sept. 17, 1834. He attended the public schools in the town of his birth and then went to Bowdoin college from which institution he was graduated. The day following the death of his father in 1860, he came to California, making the trip by way of the Isthmus of Panama. He spent a year in the mines of California and Nevada and then returned to Maine. He staid there a few months and came to California again in 1862.

Soon after his second arrival in California he came to Oregon and together with his brother, J. F. Adams, engaged in the sheep business in the Umpqua valley. In 1868 they brought their sheep up and across the Cascade mountains to Umatilla county and were probably the first men to engage in the sheep business on a large scale in this part of the state. J. F. Adams settled at the town which now bears the name of Adams, while the deceased settled on a quarter section of land, 2-1/2 miles northeast of Weston on Dry creek. He lived on this farm up until a few years ago when he sold out and moved to Athena.

He continued to be engaged in the stock business but during the last few tabel Pankhurst yesterday. Mr. Asquith might think that, owing to the truce, he would not be disturbed during his holidays.

But the suffragists could do a great deal in the autumn. She recalled what a busy time they had last year; surely Mr. Asquith had not forgotten it. He must not suppose that he had put off the evil hour indefinitely. If things went wrong again militant methods could save the situation once more. If militancy started again no one could see the end of it.

LAST CONCERT WAS THE BEST OF ALL
LARGE CROWD LISTENED TO ORCHESTRA LAST NIGHT

Popular Organization Concluded Summer Concerts With Feature Program—Winter Concerts a Possibility—Cowboy Band for "Round-up."

The last of the series of the free concerts in the fair pavilion given by the United Orchestra under the auspices of the Pendleton Commercial club, was given last night and by the generous applause which each number rendered by this popular musical organization brought forth, it was plain the program was the best that has yet been rendered. This being a "request" program, each number was a feature, and therefore it is impossible to choose any particular number as the best unless it would be to say the selection from Il Trovatore was a marked feature. The citizens of Pendleton are indeed sorry that these concerts are at an end and it is hoped that a series of indoor concerts will be given during the winter by this organization.

The respective members of the orchestra will now take a brief rest, several going to the mountains and coast, but by September 1 rehearsals will again be held, as the members intend keeping the organization together for future playing.
Pendleton has been indeed fortunate in having an orchestra with the ability to handle the class of music that has been played by the United Orchestra and the people will be glad to render their support in the future as well as in the past.
The music committee of the "Round-up" has made a proposition to the United Orchestra and Band to furnish music for their big show and Manager Fletcher is now arranging a big cowboy band for this big event.

Day by Day
The maiden priced a diamond ring.
It sparkled like the SUN.
She liked the diamond very much
But didn't have the MON.
The maiden had no time to lose,
And folded up her ones and
I've got a scheme she coyly said,
I'll go and find a man and
She bundled up in clothes and furs
And hissed I'll sharm the noble
She didn't have so long to try,
For she found him at an oyster
And on her dimple finger fat,
He slipped the diamond while they SAT.
