HERMISTON SCHOOL TEACHERS SELECTED

(Special Correspondence.)
Hermiston, Ore., Aug. 22.—Teachers for the coming term have at last been selected by the board of directors of the Hermiston schools, and consist of the following: Henry M. Gunn, formerly of the Tacoma schools superintendent; Miss Bertha A. Randall, niece of Mrs. H. C. Newport, who taught here two years ago, but spent last year as one of the instructors in the Cheney, Wash., schools, principal of the high school; Miss Clara Bryant, Miss Clara Erickson, Miss Jessie Matlock, Miss Jessie Williams, Miss Essie Campbell.

Yesterday R. C. Todd was taken to Hot Lake, where he will be treated.

W. P. Littlefield will leave today for coast points and will later go to old Mexico, where he will, in company with some of his associates, inspect some extensive holdings they own. He expects to be gone for at least sixty or ninety days.

Ray Ellis is here from Spokane, looking after the interests of the Salem nursery.

Maurice D. Scroggs has returned from Wisconsin and other eastern points. He accompanied the body of the late Roy Saxton to his home at Madison, Wisconsin, and on the return trip visited several different states where he had friends and class mates.

PRUNE CROP LIGHT,
SAYS SALEM MAN

Salem, Ore.—"I have covered practically every prune district in the state and you can say for me that I find the prune crop quite irregular," said W. C. Tillson of Tillson Co., of this city, who has returned from a tour of the state. "In some localities the crop is very full," he continued, "and in others it is very light and will be virtually a failure. Where prunes have been carefully cultivated the crop generally is good and the sizes large, but where cultivation has been neglected the long continued dry weather is causing nearly all the prunes to fall off and what remains will be small in size.
"Should our fruit dry, the usual 20 pounds to the bushel will be the result instead of 14 pounds, which was the average of last year. The gross output should be fully 75 per cent of last year's output. The prices are so much higher this year that the crop will bring much more money than last year. The crop in southern Oregon is exceptionally good. The export demand for Oregon prunes is growing rapidly and the fruit is becoming very popular in England, Germany and France.
"Realizing that every carload exported strengthens our home market, we think the packers should do all that is possible to extend the export trade."

WESTON HAS SOME LOW TEMPERATURE

HEAVY FROST OCCURS
ON THE MOUNTAINS

Potatoes Vines Killed and Crops
Damaged—Thin Skim of Ice—Oldest Inhabitant Doesn't Recall Such
Cool Weather at This Time of Year.

(Special Correspondence.)

Weston, Ore., Aug. 24.—A very low temperature for this time of the year has prevailed here for the past two or three days. This morning on the mountains and in some of the lower lands a very heavy frost occurred which killed the potato vines and of course damaged the crops wherever the frost was experienced. R. F. Johnson, who has lived on the mountains for the past thirty years, says that this is the first time to his knowledge a frost came at this early date. A thin skim of ice was formed on water in some places.

Mrs. Lillian Fredericks, daughter of G. W. Proebstel, left yesterday to begin her journey to her field of missionary labors in China.

Fred Pittman the rural carrier returned from his hunting trip on the banks of the forks of the Umatilla river yesterday. He reports having had fine sport fishing and hunting, securing plenty of grouse for the camp and also succeeded in killing one bear.

As evidence of the claims made for the Weston country as an ideal location for apple-growing one need only to look at the displays in the stores of the apples raised "at home." Some of them weigh from one to one and a half pounds, and each measure from 15 to 20 inches in circumference. All sound and solid without a blemish. There will be several hundred acres of apples planted in this section this fall, especially on the mountains where this fruit appears to thrive.

Owing to the cold many of the campers at Cold springs are preparing to return home from their summer outing. J. T. Llenalen and family came down this evening on their way to their home at Adams.

MAYOR CONDUCTS HIS BUSINESS IN CITY JAIL

Lawrence, Mass.—A cell in the Essex county jail has become the executive chamber of this city. There Mayor William P. White, who was sentenced to serve three years and to pay a fine of $1000 for conspiracy to bribe, discharges his official duties. He will contest the case in the supreme court. His three political allies, ex-Alderman Matthew Burns, George Smart, a tinsmith, and Samuel Kross, a carriage-smith, who were sentenced with the mayor for conspiracy to bribe certain aldermen in an attempt to remove the fire chief, are also confined in jail.

Leading attorneys are of the opinion that Mayor White cannot be removed from office, the charge against him being a misdemeanor and not a felony.

No great work of art is expressed by defiance of the wrong.

ROME TO HAVE EXPOSITION.

King Patronizes Exhibition of Fine Arts to be Held in 1911.

Rome—An International Exhibition of Fine Arts will be held in Rome under the patronage of the king of Italy from March to October, 1911. The exhibition, which is intended to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the proclamation of the United Kingdom of Italy, will take place in the grounds of the Villa Borghese, and in close proximity to the celebrated Museo Papale Giulia.

The Italian government and the people of Italy attach great importance to this exhibition, which, it is expected, will be one of the most magnificent ever held in any country. It will comprise in addition to a complete display of Italian art, both ancient and modern, representative collections of pictures, sculpture, drawings, and engravings from all the chief countries in Europe.

In addition to fine arts, an historical section will be held in the Castle of St. Angelo, presenting life in Rome during the Middle Ages. This will include records and relics of distinguished foreigners who lived or worked in Rome, or who were otherwise associated with it.

An archeological section will be held in Diocletian's Baths, recently restored where the results of the more important excavations in Rome will be shown. Music, folk songs and national dances will also be represented at the festival; but the central idea of the exhibition will be that of the fine arts, for which Italy and all the great powers are erecting special palaces.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victory by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years, it kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's."

Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.
