PERSONAL MENTION

B. C. Kidder is down today from his home in Athens.

D. R. Collins of Milton, transacted business in Pendleton last evening.

Bruce Painter of Walla Walla, is over from that town for the transaction of business.

Martin Anderson returned this morning from a business visit to the west end of the county.

A. W. Groenwald, formerly an instructor in the Pendleton academy, left this morning for Spokane.

Don C. Brownell of Hermiston, came up from that place last evening for the transaction of business.

Miss Florence Harris, one of the teachers in the local schools, came in this morning from her home in La Grande.

Harry Hays, the expressman, is laid up with a mashed finger, the injury having been sustained while hauling lumber.

Dr. S. W. McClure, chief of the bureau of animal industry in the northwest, is in the Willamette valley on official business.

Miss Mary Whitney, one of the public school teachers, arrived last evening from Eugene, where she spent the vacation months with relatives.

Attorney J. T. Hinkle is up from his farm near Hermiston to examine the filed water claims which are now open for inspection at the court house.

The Misses Beatrice and Marion Quackenbush of Portland, returned home today, after a visit of a few days with their cousin, Mrs. Pat McKee.

A. H. Chandler, a Susanville cattle man, is in Umatilla county, hunting winter range for his herds which he will bring out to the wheat fields this fall.

Attorney Oliver P. Morton of the reclamation service legal department, is in the city on business in connection with the water rights adjudication.

Miss Nancy Stevens, who has been visiting her sister, Miss Frankle Stevens, will return this evening to her home at Indianola, Nebraska.

Hon. C. A. Barrett, direct primary candidate for the republican nomination for joint senator, passed through the city last evening enroute for Union county.

Dr. C. A. McClesney, special agent in the Indian service and a member of the competency commission recently appointed to examine the Indians on the Umatilla reservation, left this afternoon for a brief visit to Seattle.

Dave Cargill and wife have returned from an extended visit with relatives in the states of Iowa and Nebraska.

MOSIER PRUNES BRING GROWERS BIG PROFITS

Moser, Ore.—Twelve cars of Italian prunes, grown to perfection in the Mosier valley, have been sent out from the local packing house, and every one of these cars contained more than 1000 crates of prunes, each of which brought the shippers 60 cents f. o. b. Mosier.

The average price of 60 cents a crate maintained this season is the highest in years.

This season's crop of prunes has been the most profitable gathered in the Mosier valley for many years, and the farmers, who during the poor seasons of the past two years dug up their prune orchards and planted the land to apples, are now regretting their action, while those who stuck to the prunes are smiling with satisfaction.

With the end of the prune season the farmers about Mosier are looking ahead to the harvesting of the apple crop, which gives promise of being larger than for many years past—larger because many acres of new orchard are coming into bearing and finer in quality because with each year the growers are getting experience and are learning better how to care for their orchards.

BIG BRICK BLOCK TO RISE AT MEDFORD

Medford, Or.—The building to be erected by Porter J. Neff as a home for the Mail Tribune has undergone several changes since its construction was announced recently. When completed it will cover the block 130x100 feet.

Mr. Neff will erect a building two stories in height, 40x100 as a home for the Mail-Tribune. Johns & Turner have the contract. Next to this, J. E. Westerlund will erect on the corner a building 50x100, which will be fitted for bachelor apartments. When completed the buildings will form one block.

Score Cards to Be Published.

Spokane Wash.—Ren H. Rice, secretary and manager of the third National Apple Show, has issued notices to exhibitors at the Spokane show, November 14 to 19, that the score cards of all commercial exhibits will be published at the close of the show. It is explained that one of the educational features of the exposition is giving the information to each exhibitor of the record made by his display, also to make this date public, so that competitors may see how the exhibits were scored and judged. This plan was adopted at the 1908 show, but was dropped in 1909.

Expect Fisheries Award.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Reports from The Hague state that the award of the tribunal of arbitration in the New Foundland fisheries dispute between Great Britain and the United States may be expected within a few days, possibly today.

"The Republican Party Is in Danger" is the heading of a long editorial in an organ. But that is nothing to worry about, if the people are getting along all right, or improving their condition.

SOMETHING ABOUT PRESENT CHAPTER HOUSE

Members of Pendleton chapter of the American Woman's league will be interested to read the following facts regarding chapter house construction, just received from headquarters:

Chapter houses completed and occupied, 14.

In course of construction and nearly completed, 16.

Under contract for immediate erection, 20.

Qualified for and contracts being bid on by contractors, 61.

Total of chapter houses to be completed this fall, already in various course of construction and under contract, 111.

Had the members of Pendleton chapter worked as energetically as the members of those one hundred and eleven chapters have done, there would have been 112 chapter houses reported in that total.

Fifty new members were admitted into the chapter yesterday and it is hoped that many more may be reported in time for our regular meeting in October.

Applicants can now become voters and take advantage of the correspondence courses immediately, by signing notes for the balance due on their memberships. These notes do not shorten the time for completing the payments and draw no interest.

Do you take books from the city library? If not, why not? It belongs to every one of you and whatever is on its shelves is yours to use, just for the asking. There are all kinds of books here from the severe public document to "How to Dress a Doll." The reading room is light, airy and well equipped with comfortable chairs and tables and any one is welcome who cares to spend a quiet hour at any time when the library is open. Three daily papers and all of the leading magazines are to be found upon the tables.

About twenty-five new children's books will be ready for circulation Saturday afternoon. The following are some of the more interesting titles:

Master Skylark, telling the thrilling experiences of a small boy living in the time of William Shakespeare.

Etu, Our Little Eskimo Cousin, Our Little Hawaiian Cousin, Our Little Swiss Cousin, etc. This little cousin series contains catchy sketches of the life and customs of the people in various countries, written for the children.

Just so stories by Kipling, tell about how the camel got his hump, how the rhinoceros got his skin, the crab that played by the sea, etc.

Scientific American boy at school. Describes and illustrates many interesting things a boy can do and is extremely entertaining as well as instructive.

Still others are: Wonder Tales from Wagner, Green Mountain Boys, Franklin's Autobiography for school use, Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare, Songs Every Child Should Know, Poems Children Love.

LIBRARY NOTES.

FOOTBALL HANGS IN BALANCE UNDER STRINGENT 1910 RULES

Chicago.—With the football season of 1910 about to begin, followers of the great college game will witness a style of play very different from any used since the code was so radically changed in the winter of 1905-06.

The rules committee in answer to the howls of protest hurled against the game at the close of last season, held several meetings last winter and spring in the hope of hitting on some scheme which would eliminate the danger element. Suggestions were solicited from every football authority throughout the country and especially from coaches and former players of the large colleges.

Unfortunate deaths at West Point and Annapolis made it imperative for the committee to take some action which would appease the persons so strongly opposed to the great college game. Several of the coaches with ideas in mind to make the game safer called out their respective squads and tested them in a practical way. It was these experiments which bore great weight in forming the new code of rules.

There is no branch of sport in which the danger element can be wholly eliminated, and statistics show there are numerous branches of sports in which the number of accidents and fatalities exceed greatly those in football, but in the last few years public sentiment has been so bitter against football that something radical had to be done to insure its future.

With the one thought of preserving the game to the college, its undergraduates, and graduates, the rules committee bent to its task with unremitting energy and after several long sessions, in which all sections of the country were represented, several changes were made and adopted, and now remains to be seen how far-reaching these alterations will be toward the elimination of injuries.

SMOKING ROOM FOR WOMEN.

Chicago's New Theater to Contain Innovation in Conveniences.

Chicago.—Chicago is to have a theater with a woman's smoking room and a ticket-selling system especially for women.

The new theater will be housed in a 20 story office building at the southeast corner of Madison street and Washburn avenue at an announced cost of $3,000,000.

It will have a seating capacity of 2200.

"What is a primary for?" asks the morning paper. Well, it is not for an assembly.
