NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

Murderer Gets 15 Years.
Marshfield, Ore.—Fifteen years in the penitentiary is the punishment given Will White, who has been on trial before Judge Vail in the circuit court at Coquille.

White is a young man who worked in a woolen mill and resided at Bandon. He provided for his mother and became angry at his stepfather because he would not work and killed him in the family house. An attempt was made to prove him insane. The jury after being out nearly all day returned a verdict finding the young man guilty of manslaughter.

"I'm Too Homely to Live."
Olympia, Wash.—"I'm so homely, I'm better off out of this world than in it," were the last words of Josephine Christman of Shelton Saturday morning after taking a fatal dose of strychnine. The girl was only 18 years of age and was attending the Shelton high school, working for her board with a prominent family of that town.

Saturday morning she told the woman at whose home she was staying that she had swallowed strychnine, and expected to be dead in a few minutes. The woman rushed for assistance, but upon her return Josephine was lying upon the floor dead. The young girl's parents live in the country near Shelton. No other cause than melancholia and dissatisfaction with her personal appearance is given for the girl's rash act.

Refuses Medicine; Dies.
Freewater, Or.—Without medical attendance, believing that if he was to get better God would attend to that, William Saager, a member of a sect that has quite a following here, and is known as the Church of God, died Saturday from typhoid. Both he and his family refused all medical assistance. He recently sold his farm saying God had told him to close up his earthly affairs. He was formerly a hardware merchant here. He leaves a wife and four children.

New Department at O. A. C.
Corvallis, Or.—Veterinary science, hitherto taught in connection with annual husbandry at the Oregon Agricultural college, has been made a separate department this year, and the regents have appointed Dr. J. F. Morel to take charge of the new instruction.

Dr. Morel is a graduate of the National University of Belgium. After receiving his degree there in 1900, he pursued his studies in the graduate school of the Government Veterinary college of Paris. He came to the United States and secured a degree from the Chicago Veterinary college in '07, and was afterward appointed by the Chicago board of health to make official tests of cattle for tuberculosis. Since last January he has been at Corvallis, where he is head of the Corvallis Veterinary hospital.

Charged With Theft of Dust.
Seattle.—John Tyberg, a Norwegian laborer, is locked up in the county jail and will be taken back to Nome, Alaska, to answer the charge of stealing nearly $15,000 in gold dust from the sluice boxes of the Pioneer Mining company, by which he was until recently employed.

Tyberg arrived in Seattle from Nome Monday night with other former employes of the Pioneer company. Friday he walked into the local assay office and exhibited a bag of gold which he said he had cleaned up in the Iditarod district. Tyberg was paid $14,345 for the dust, and as he left the office a Pinkerton agent placed him under arrest. The loss of the dust was known to the Pioneer people, and the detective agency had been watching Tyberg since his arrival in Seattle.

Tyberg protests his innocence and the Norwegian consul has interested himself in his behalf.

Insurgency in Klamath.
Klamath Falls, Or.—With the approach of the primaries politics is getting warmer in this section of the state. The primaries will be only the first step in the struggle. Insurgency so rampant throughout the nation has taken hold in this county and there are many republicans who declare publicly that they will support no man who had any connection whatever with the assembly. It is their contention that the assembly was a direct attack upon the rights of the people. There are many republicans who will support West for governor in the event Bowerman is the republican nominee.

After the primaries are over the chief issues in the campaign will be local option, Southern Pacific rule and the courthouse removal. It is almost certain that political lines will be forgotten. The three issues mentioned together with the anti-assembly feeling will have a tendency to shatter the republican party organization. The prospects are good that Klamath will line up in the democratic column this year.

Don't Break Down.
Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause severe break-downs. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters, the matchless tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at Keoppen Bros.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

To the Republican Voters:

If my record is approved, I desire re-nomination for the office of Attorney General on the Republican ticket.

During my term, I have saved the state over $500,000, as shown in voters' pamphlet, page 23.
