MAN ASSAULTS HIS MOTHER BEFORE CROWD

Great Falls, Mont.—Just as the crowds were leaving the afternoon train at the Great Northern depot Saturday, W. P. Murray, a mine foreman of Butte, assaulted his mother, a woman almost 80 years of age, knocking her down and kicking her.

Reverend J. N. Durant of Oakland, Cal., pastor of the Methodist church in that city, dropped his grips when he saw this and rushed upon Murray, striking him a terrific blow full in the face and bowling him over and knocking him out.

A policeman then arrested Murray. Murray claims his mother was trying to run away with a man. Murray told the chief at the station that he came from Butte in search of his mother who was running away with a man named Powers and about $1000 which Murray said he and his brother had saved up and given to her. He says that he and his brother have given their mother their pay checks for several years and she refuses to have anything to do with them.

A man named Powers, says Murray, is following him and is endeavoring to get the old lady to consent to a marriage with him. To prevent this Murray followed his mother to Great Falls. His mother refused to appear against him. He was fined $50, which he paid.

OREGON ATHLETES TO PLAY SOCCER AND LACROSSE

Soccer will be played at the University of Oregon this year. Bill Hayward, physical director of the institution has been in Portland for a few days buying football supplies and getting ready for the coming athletic season in general, and while there he spent considerable time with the soccer devotees of the city.

Hayward is as convinced as ever upon the virtues of intercollegiate football as a standard game, but he has also become convinced that it is adapted only to those who are already strong and husky. He wants to introduce a number of other pastimes at Eugene which will take care of the great number of men, to whom the varsity game is not open. He wants something that will make the spectacled and high-browed boys get out and run around in the rain and so become sturdy and rugged.

To that end Hayward will introduce soccer and lacrosse at the state University this fall. Many people have wondered at Hayward's partiality for lacrosse, which he has talked of a couple of times. In the old days of the lacrosse game when it was much rougher than it is now—and it is no parlor game now, by any means—Hayward was a member of the crack Capitals of Ottawa, Canada. He played with Vancouver, B. C., in the first lacrosse game ever played in British Columbia.

The Portland soccer devotees offered Hayward any kind of assistance he might call for, to get the game on its feet in the first college to adopt it in the northwest. He was offered a team to play his boys in Eugene, or two teams from there for an exhibition there or a trip for his men and game there, to give his boys to fine points for a few days. No decision as to a course of action has been made yet.—Eugene Guard.

PASTOR 78, TO WED GIRL 28.

Announcement in Chicago Causes Little Surprise to Acquaintances.

Chicago, Ill.—Formal announcement that the Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson of Louisville, Ky., is to marry Miss Duncan, a sister of Dr. Johnson in Chicago.

Dr. Johnson is the venerable professor emeritus of New Testament interpretation of McCormick Theological Seminary. He is 78 years old. He was moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly of the church in 1882. He has been connected with McCormick Seminary 30 years. His first wife died four or five years ago.

Miss Duncan, who is an attractive young woman, is 28 years the junior of her fiancé. Dr. Johnson became acquainted with her in Atlantic City a year ago. One of the McCormick faculty saw the two strolling along the Boardwalk at that time, apparently having a stronger mutual regard than mere friendship, and rumors were then current.

Other friends of Dr. Johnson and Miss Duncan saw them together again last June at Atlantic City.

First definite news of the betrothal came when Mrs. Herrick J. Gray of St. Louis, a sister of Dr. Johnson, made the announcement.

Dr. Johnson is younger in heart and physique than in years. He stands straight as a West Point cadet and has all the energy and fire of his earlier manhood.

KAISER BREAKING DOWN.

Will Delegate Some of Duties to Crown Prince.

Berlin.—Despite the efforts of courtiers and high officials to suppress it there have been rather persistent reports that Emperor William has seriously considered the proposition that he should delegate a number of his duties to the crown prince. Although he is not sick, the emperor is far from being a well man. Never at any time a stalwart in health, William has lived at high pressure from the day he ascended the throne. He has been one of the busiest monarchs since the days of Napoleon. His life has been a strenuous and useful one.

He has never had what may be termed a strong constitution, and it is only by an extremely sober regime that he has been able to support the physical and mental fatigue of his office. He has had breakdowns during the last few months and his physicians, although they do not consider him in immediate danger, have advised his abstinence from work that can be fulfilled by his son.

There are numerous petty public duties that may be safely impressed on the prince and the emperor relieved to that extent. The change will not be made until the young man returns from the east.

HUNGRY CAT BITES WOMAN.

Jaws Cling to Finger Until Gried Apart By Physicians.

Harrisonburg, Va.—Mrs. Rogers of Mount Solon, wife of Dr. Rogers, is suffering intensely from the bite of a kitten. Apparently harmless, hungry and homeless, the kitten strayed into the Rogers household, when the sympathetic Mrs. Rogers sought to pet and caress the pithy visitor. Biting the lady's finger, sinking its teeth deep in the flesh to the bone.

Almost fainting with pain and unable to free her hand, Mrs. Rogers screamed. Fortunately Dr. Burton, a neighbor, was passing at the time, and rushed into the house. The feline held on like grim death. Not until the kitten's teeth were forcibly pried apart was Mrs. Rogers able to release her finger. Steps were taken to prevent poisoning, but the lady is still suffering great pain.

CAR ACTS AS PISTOL.

Cartridge on Track Exploded and Girl Seriously Wounded in Head.

New York.—The placing of a 32-caliber revolver cartridge on the surface car line of the Third Avenue railroad at Twenty-third street by some unknown person caused Miss Mary Enny, 19 years old, who was crossing the avenue at that point, to be seriously wounded.

The cartridge exploded under a car wheel and the bullet struck her in the right temple. The young woman was taken to Bellevue hospital in a critical condition.

Eames Must Quit Singing.

Paris.—Mme. Emma Eames, in absolutely renouncing singing for two years, is following the command of an eminent Parisian musical instructor. She may not even practice her scales and will resist every request, even on the part of intimate friends, to strike a vocal note in private.

Mme. Eames is assured that, if she rigidly adheres to this regime, leading at the same time as tranquil an existence as possible, her voice will be restored to her in all its original beauty and strength.

In the hands of the inexperienced a gun is of more danger to the innocent bystander than to any one else. A woman shot down in her own home and a respectable citizen killed on his own fire-escape are the two latest proofs of this.
