SPORTS

Portland Beats Spokane. Portland, Ore., Sept. 27.—The Spokane team of the Northwestern League and the Portland team of the Pacific Coast league, crossed bats here yesterday in an exhibition game, Portland winning by 1 to 0.

The Washingtonians were unable to do anything with Krapp at all. Only one man was able to hit him and not effectively at that. Portland found Baker for an even half dozen times, but the Spokane pitcher killed off all run getting prospects until the eighth. Score R. H. E. Spokane 0 0 1 2 Portland 1 6 2 Baker and Shea; Krapp and Murray.

AMERICAN LEAGUE. Philadelphia at St. Louis, postponed; rain.

Washington at Chicago, postponed; rain.

DEERSTALKING IS EXPENSIVE. Hunters Average 30 Pounds for Each Stag Killed.

Glasgow—Deer stalking, which is now in full swing, is apparently one of the most expensive forms of sport ever invented. According to a craftsman's commission report, there are 109 deer forests in Scotland, with a total area of about 2,000,000 acres. The yield of stags from these forests has been set down to 4500 each season, and the rental at about 135,000 pounds. So in rent alone, the tenants of deer forests pay 20 pounds for each stag they bring down, and other expenses bring this sum up to nearly half as much again. The total of the cost of shooting and fishing in the United Kingdom have been set down as about 7,000,000 pounds, of which nearly one-third is spent in Scotland.

Big Show in Oklahoma. Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 27.—As the fastest growing city in the United States, Oklahoma City has "spread herself" in the preparations for this year's Oklahoma state fair with the result that it eclipses all previous exhibitions of the kind in the new state.

Although the Oklahoma metropolis has become a city of skyscrapers, the fair management is determined not to disappoint the tenderfoot visitors from the east in the matter of local color. Arrangements have been made to insure the attendance every day of a number of professional bad men, blood-thirsty Apaches and cow boys and girls. Wild West costumes of the most approved style, imported direct from Paris, have been secured for the occasion.

For rent—Three five room houses, all newly painted, two blocks from Hawthorne school. Inquire Kim Morton. Black 2301.

Irish Population Declines. Dublin.—The figures supplied by the registrar general for Ireland show that the estimated population of this country is 4,371,570, which means a falling off of 3,223,491 since 1845.

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum.

1. The Canadian Moonshiners. Kalam, 1000 ft. long. This interesting and true-to-life Canadian drama presents many characteristic features. Lively action all through the story introducing Royal Mounted Police, Canadian Indians (the real thing) and the habits beyond the border.

2. The Stronger Sex. Drama, Lubin, 1000 ft. long. Men have the best of it in the business world and the little woman who found it impossible to support herself on the small salaries, determined to become her own brother. A fascinating story.

3. Under the Old Apple Tree. Vitagraph, 1000 ft. long. A comedy which seems to prove that many unexpected things can happen under an old apple tree. Song, Honor Bright, I Loves Yer Right, Old Pal.

The Pastime.

"Ranch Life in the Great Southwest." Selig. In this picture Selig has assembled the world's greatest ropers and broncho busters. The camera man scoured the country for the kings of the prairie and the results of his trip are all collected in this picture. The picture abounds in dare-devil and death defying feats, such as never before witnessed.

"Back to Nature." Vitagraph, drama. A love story. One of the kind that will catch your interest at the beginning and hold it to the end.

"Willie." Selig comedy drama, length 1000 feet. He started west at the instance of the girl's father to grow up with the country. He grows up rapidly and returns to claim the girl.

"The Shepherd's Dog." Pathe, drama. An interesting picture in which a dog plays an important part.

"A School in New Guinea." Pathe, educational. An entertaining picture.

"GOING SOME" IS A RATTILING GOOD COMEDY

Seldom, indeed do we find that an inanimate object plays a star role in present day dramas or as it happens in the present instance, comedy. Such is the case, however, in "Going Some," the rattling good comedy attraction which comes to the Oregon theater this evening.

The pivotal point of all the fun hinges upon a phonograph, which after all is as near to an inanimate object as an inanimate object ever gets. It seems that the cow punchers of the Flying Heart ranch in New Mexico have lost, in a foot race with a rival "outfit" a fine phonograph and set of records. With the loss of the phonograph an enveloping gloom dampens the ardor and saddens the lives of the attaches of the Flying Heart, and life seems to them without object until with the arrival of a house party comes a young college man by the name of J. Wallingford Speed, who, although he is not an athlete, offers to run a return race with the rival ranch and regain the lost treasure. The offer is hailed with the usual hilarious cowpuncher fashion and amid the noise the hero begins his training under the direction of Larry Glass, his valet, who happens also to be the coach of the Yale football team. It is all done in the spirit of a joke but the matter becomes a serious affair when the cowboys at the suggestion of one Berkeley Fresno rival of Speed for the good graces of Helen Blake, another of the house party, institute a reign of terror for the bogus athlete and his trainer. All manner of outlandish stunts are set for these two unhappy boys and they are given to understand that their lives shall pay the forfeit should the boasting Speed fail to win back the cherished talking machine. Matters grow into a most tanked skin before the ending of the four acts and the unique manner in which Paul Armstrong and Rex Beach pastmasters of play making, bring the comedy to a fitting ending places it far above the many comedy attractions which have been successful even though they did not contain even a small percentage of the originality which has made "Going Some" the most delightfully funny play before the players of America. Lawrence and Sandusky have furnished an exceptional cast and a scenic environment which rivals anything that has come out of the east for many a season.

TEACHING SCIENCE AT O. A. C.

Zoology and Entomology Departments Have New Men, New Quarters and New Equipment. Corvallis.—George B. Sykes, a graduate of Brown University with the degree of M. A., is to be instructor in zoology and physiology, at O. A. C. He received the degree of bachelor of philosophy in the college of liberal arts and science at Brown last year, and this year was made master of arts there and elected to the honorary scientific society of Sigma XI.

At Brooklyn Biological Institute Mr. Sykes studied under Dr. C. B. Davenport in 1907, and last summer he was engaged in a special study of the sanitary conditions of the city of Providence, R. I., with reference to the fly distribution. He gave the results of this investigation before the Society of American Zoologists at their last conference in Boston. At present he is engaged in the solution of various fly and mosquito problems. H. F. Wilson, new research assistant in entomology, is a graduate of Colorado Agricultural college in the class of '07, and of the University of Illinois, where he took the degree of master of arts under Dr. Forbes. He has had two years' experience as assistant entomologist in the U. S. bureau of entomology, where he had charge of investigations of the cotton root borer. His specialty has been plant lice, a subject in which he is rapidly proving himself an authority. His private library is one of the finest of this kind in the country.

As an author on scientific subjects Mr. Wilson is already becoming known. He has written a dissertation on "The Peach Tree Barkbeetle," published as a government bulletin; an article on Aphididae in North America, in the Journal of Economic Entomology; another on a similar subject in the Entomological News, and still another on Lachnus Caryae in the Canadian Entomologist. To facilitate instruction and laboratory research, the department has just added forty new compound microscopes together with other scientific equipment.
