Caleb Stephens Dies.

Caleb Stephens, aged 40 years, died at his home in this city this morning as the result of asthma from which he had been a sufferer for many years. He is a brother of A. B. Stephens of Umatilla.

Second Crop of Violets.

Edward D. Weaver, veteran make-up man for the East Oregonian, is boasting a second crop of violets at his home in the western part of the city. According to Mr. Weaver this is the first time he has ever heard of a second crop of violets and therefore he regards the flowers as a novelty.

Band Boys Fought Fire.

Conspicuous among those who rushed to the fire last evening and assisted the volunteer firemen were many of the members of the Journal band. Several of the musicians, who are good sprinters, were among the first to reach the scene. One of these, Frank Mueller, one of the cornet players, became a particular hero among his comrades as he rescued a little child from the burning building.

Guardian Was Appointed.

In the county court today A. J. Sturtevant was appointed a guardian for A. J. Sturtevant of Pilot Rock. He has become broken in health and unable longer to care for his business affairs. Will M. Peterson, attorney for Sturtevant and Mr. Sturtevant himself appeared and asked for the appointment. The court has named Herbert Boylen, J. N. Burgess and Thomas Jacques as appraisers of the estate. It is estimated that Sturtevant is worth $65,000.

Moving to Main Street.

Workmen are now busy remodeling the room in the Association block formerly occupied by the Wonder store. That room is to be used jointly by the Pacific light and power company and by the John Vaughan electrical shop. The electric company will have the north half of the room and the electrical supply store the south half. According to Dr. Vincent, manager for the electric and gas company, the front of the building will be illuminated and if possible one of the light poles in front of the present office will be moved to the new location.

Halls for Rest Rooms.

It is announced by the trustees of the Masonic and I. O. O. F. halls that both those places will be left open for afternoons during this entire week for the accommodation of ladies who are here to attend the fair and Roundup. The halls will be used as rest rooms and the Masonic hall will be cared for by the ladies of the Eastern Star while the Odd Fellows hall will be cared for by the Rebekahs. It was announced yesterday that the halls would be open during the Roundup days but the trustees now announce that they may be used before that time.

Bowerman Still Leads.
Portland, Ore., Sept. 27.—With about three-fourths of the primary returns counted, Jay Bowerman still leads with about three thousand over Dimick for governor. Congressman Ellis has cut down Lafferty's lead slightly, but not enough to endanger the congressional nomination. In the first district, Hawley still leads Mulkey by practically 1800 votes. Oswald West, the democratic gubernatorial nominee, leads Myers by one thousand. Kay won the state treasurer nomination over Hoyt, leading by 2100 this forenoon. O. P. Hoff, assembly candidate for commissioner of labor, is a thousand ahead of Orton, virtually insuring his election. There are no other changes over yesterday's returns.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 27.—Democrats to the number of 627 met in state convention here today to launch the Washington campaign, announce a platform of principles and nominate five candidates for judges of the supreme court. Washington democrats are very optimistic and the leaders of the party declare that the northwestern state will follow the lead of the northeastern commonwealth. BROKEN RAIL CAUSES A WRECK IN YARDS

A broken rail caused a freight train wreck in the O. R. & N. yards last evening. The rail was broken into seven pieces, three cars were derailed, two of them being so badly smashed up that the wrecking crane was brought over from La Grande this morning to clear away the debris. The wreck occurred a few minutes before 10 o'clock last evening and the track was not cleared until the middle of the forenoon. The Spokane passenger engine which was in the roundhouse at the time was therefore unable to get out and the train was sent to Spokane with a freight engine.

One of the cars wrecked was loaded with flour which was being shipped from the Byers mill to the orient, while a second one was loaded with wheat on its way to Portland. It was necessary to unload the flour and transfer it to another car.

FIRE DOES DAMAGE TO DWELLING HOUSE

BLAZE LAST NIGHT ADDS TO GENERAL EXCITEMENT

House Owned by Armstrong Estate at Aura and Railroad Street Damaged to Extent of $500—Gasoline Stove Cause of Blaze.

Fire greatly damaged a two-story dwelling at the corner of Aura and Railroad streets about 7:30 o'clock last evening, adding to the excitement of fair and Roundup week. The damage to the building will amount to about $500 and was fully covered by insurance. The damage to contents will amount to $200 more and is not covered by insurance.

The house was owned by the Armstrong estate and was insured with the Oregon Fire Relief association. The upper story of the structure was occupied by J. McClure, night clerk at the Penland Brothers' rooming house and the fire was due to a gasoline stove used by him in cooking his supper. The lower part was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Shill.

who had moved in but a few days before from their Cabbage hill farm. Some excitement was caused for a time by the cries of Mrs. Shill for her little girl. The child had been carried to safety, however, by Ward Manker, a local newsboy, who also did good work in saving some of the furniture.

McClure was burned about the hands in his efforts to extinguish the flames, but it is not thought that his injuries will prove serious.

The different fire companies responded quickly to the alarm which was first sounded by a freight engine, but one of the companies was greatly handicapped by poor hose. The street was flooded with water which spurted from the hose throughout almost its entire length, showing that it is entirely worthless.

PIONEERS' DAY AT LOCAL FAIR

The union exhibit is made up of agricultural and horticultural products contributed by different members of the union. Some of the best fruit and vegetables are from the Hermiston country. George Root of that place has some egg plant that are warranted to be the "largest ever grown." Mr. Root also has some fine melons on display as has also Pat Sullivan, R. R. Lewis is another exhibitor from Hermiston. Among the vegetables on exhibition are sweet potatoes, onions, radishes, squash, pumpkins, celery, etc. Peanuts and alfalfa are also included in the display from Hermiston. Dr. W. R. Campbell has some pop corn which was raised on his ranch near Cold Springs. Jesse Royce of Juniper is another exhibitor and has some pomegranates, corn and potatoes on display.

The grain exhibit of the union is also good and shows the varieties of wheat and other grains grown in this section.

The Pendleton public schools again have an exhibit and it is cared for by students of the high school. The booth consists of the cabinets that were displayed at the Seattle fair, works of art from the collections in the grade schools and apparatus from the physical and chemical laboratories. The booth is gaily bedecked with pennants.

The St. Joseph's academy booth is largely filled with specimens of the art work done at the academy and is a very interesting booth.

The Pendleton business college also has a booth this year and in the same are given demonstrations regarding the nature of the work carried on by that institution.

Preparatory to the Farmers' Union program at the district fair tomorrow afternoon a parade will be held and participated in by members of the union. The parade will form in front of the Eagles-Woodmen hall at 1:30 and will march to the fair pavilion headed by the Journal band.

At the pavilion C. C. Conners, president of the county union, will preside and a program will be rendered. President S. B. L. Penrose, of Whitman college, and William Goodyear, editor of the Pacific Farmers Union, of Colfax, will be the speakers. Local speakers may also be called upon.

It is announced that those who participate in the parade will not be charged admission to the fair grounds.
