CATTLE MARKET IS GLUTTED BY BIG RUN

RECORD BREAKING RUN OF LIVESTOCK IN YARDS

Thirty-six Cars of Cattle Came Forward from Local Points - Heavy Shipment of Hogs Arrive from Ne-

Portland, Oct. 3 .- Thirty-six cars of cattle came into the local yards over Sunday, this being the greatest run for a similar period ever shown here. As a result the channel of trade was glutted in the cattle pens this morning, buyers still another excuse to force prices down on ordinary stuff. Along with the big run of cattle during the day there was a heavy supply of hogs unloaded. Twelve cars came from Nebraska alone, and over Sunday a total of 1250 head were re-This compares with last Monday's heavy run at 1464 head.

The hog trade here, and especially the smaller butchers, are exercised over the alleged attempt to force them to pay unprofitable prices for swine. while the big fellows bring in hogs from Nebraska that cost them much less money. For instance, the extreme top of the hog market today at South Omaha, Nebraska, Is $8.70. would make these hogs cost $9.85 to land at Portland, or other Pacific coast points. By bidding up a few head at $10.25 or even better, the small butchers allege that they are forced to pay extreme high values on the few swine they are forced to buy.

Cattle Prices Too Low Here. While hog prices are higher here than hogs can be bought for at Nebraska points and shipped here, the price of cattle is out of line especially for the better quality. While local in-terests are paying full limits for cows as compared with values obtainable in South Omaha or other central west markets, steers here should be selling today on the basis of $6.35 for best stuff, considering the height of that market elsewhere. Best steers sold today at South Omaha around $7.50 and therefore stuff of equal quality could be shipped from here and net the shipper a handsome return on the basis of present values Kidwell & Caswell were the big shippers of cattle this week, their supplies for the day totaling 17 cars. 14 of which were sent from Baker

BRIDLE COUPLE FLEE FROM RICE; GET DUCKED

New York .- Miss Mannah Mc-Cready and Edward Gilbert, two young people of Ansonia, Conn., were married and started to take a train for Buffalo for their honeymoon. More than 50 friends were at the depot to give them a send-off, and to escape the showers of rice the couple ran lown the tracks.

There is a trestle over the Naugatuck river and the couple, who were not conversant with the locality ran off the retaining wall and fell into the river. John McCready, the best man, was close to their heels, and with a half dozen more young men, succeedd in rescuing the couple,

The factories deposit refuse oil and grease in the river, and the bride was il from head to foot.
