LIBRARY NOTES.

The following are some of the new books to be exhibited at library tomorrow, Friday evening. These books which were purchased from the Ladies' Library and Civic association fund, has been exceptionally well selected both as to attractiveness and permanent usefulness. They cover a variety of subjects including art, literature, history and travel and can be appreciated by student and casual reader.

Adams, G. B.—Growth of the French Nation.

Betham-Edwards, Miss M. B.—Literary Rambles in France.

Blashfield, E. H. — E. W.—Italian Cities.

Freeman, L. J.—Italian Sculpture of the Renaissance.

Hare, A. J. C.—Walks in Rome.

James, G. W.—In and Out of the Old Missions of California.

James, A. B.—Legends of the Madonna.

Laycock & Scales—Argumentation and Debate.

McCracken, W. D.—Italian Lakes.

Mau, August—Pompeii, Its Life and Art.

Paton, W. A.—Picturesque Sicily.

Russell, C. D.—Why I am a Socialist.

Sturgis, Russell—History of Architecture.

The Orpheum.

Strong program for Friday's change.

1. The healing Faith. Lubin, 1000 feet long. The question of the hour is the ravages of the White Plague and in a most effectual way this story demonstrates the value of the open air treatment. This is a strong dramatic play. Everyone ought to see it.

2. The Romance of Circle Ranch. Melies, 1000 feet long. For exciting romance of western life this film surpasses any yet produced.

3. Advertising for a Wife. Comedy. Pathe, 1000 feet long. Louis Conroy thought when he inherited his father's comfortable fortune and took a little apartment that he could desire nothing more. But he was soon disillusioned and found that he needed a wife to complete his happiness. He advertised for one and the miscellaneous collection of women who answered the advertisement would have done credit to a curiosity shop. But he got rid of them by a ruse that worked successfully and finally selected his maid.

Song—Little Black Lamb.

Urge African Cotton Culture.

London—General Brabant is interesting himself largely in the movement on foot for the encouragement of the cotton growing on the border districts of the Karroo. He has produced evidence for the benefit of the farmers that cotton can be grown along the coast line, and has not hesitated to express the opinion that the needs of the Lancashire mills could be supplied by South Africa.

Found—A purse containing money. Owner call at Lane paint shop and identify. Will Lane.

OREGON SCHEDULE ARRANGED

University Eleven to Clash With Corvallis November 12.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.—Manager Watson has received definite word from Manager Cox of the Oregon Agricultural College stating that the Oregon Agricultural College football game will be played in Corvallis this year.

Cox had the option of choosing between Corvallis and Portland, and it was generally thought that he would take the game to Portland. This is the first campus game the "Aggies" have had with Oregon since the 0-to-0 game five years ago.

The Oregon manager plans to run a big excursion to Corvallis on November 12, the day of the great game.

A game between the Oregon "Babes" and the Corvallis freshmen has just been scheduled for November 5 at Eugene. Freshmen who have been in the varsity lineup are ineligible for this game.

The alumni game will be played on October 15 instead of October 8, as previously reported. A preliminary game between the Oregon Freshmen and Eugene High School is scheduled for the same date.

Games are being arranged for the second eleven with the Chemawa Indians, Albany College and Pacific University.

The first team schedule, now complete, which includes only three campus games, follows: October 15, Alumni at Eugene; October 22, Willamette at Eugene; October 29, Idaho at Moscow; November 12, Agricultural College at Corvallis; November 19, Whitworth at Eugene; November 25, Multnomah at Portland.

The schedule this year includes no game with the University of Washington.

The extent of the use of chewing gum in the United States is shown by the fact that more than 4,000,000 pounds of chicle, its chief ingredient, were imported from Mexico last year.

ONLY 50 CENTS.
