DOWAGER ENGLISH QUEEN EVINCES PEEVISH MOOD

London.—Private letters from Copenhagen give a bewildering account of Queen Alexandra's moods and actions. The queen mother is becoming more and more restless and difficult to please, and it is prophesied in court circles here that those she has chosen as members of her household will have an extremely difficult task.

Her plans are changed from day to day, but it is fairly certain that she will cut her Danish visit very short and it would surprise nobody to see her back in London next year. Alexandra intends to keep up great state at Marlborough House next season. Her appointment of a mistress of robes in the person of the haughty Duchess of Buccleuch has aroused much criticism as the office is totally unnecessary.

King George has humored his mother in every way and Queen Mary has been patient beyond bounds, but everyone connected with the court foresees great friction when the court mourning is over, for there is every reason to believe Queen Alexandra intends next year to outshine with her own court that of George and Mary.

Hallowe'en Dance.

The management of the Saturday night dances will give a Halloween dance at Eagle-Woodman hall, Monday, October 31. Patrons and friends of the Saturday night dances cordially invited. Music by United Orchestra, Carl Guitt, leader; R. W. Fletcher, manager.

A young man who was about to be married, was very nervous and asked: "is it klesitormary to cuss the bride?"

AMERICAN CHINESE PLAN EMANCIPATION OF COUNTRY

Spokane, Wash.—"Thinking Chinese in America are mapping out plans for the emancipation of their country," said Louis Lang, head of a wealthy trading company in Spokane in commenting upon reports from the orient that the progressives seek a republic for China; "and," he added, "the great work will be directed and carried out from this country. It must come.

"When China went to war with Japan she was weak physically and poor financially, but this is fast changing. Though the average American does not understand and believe it, China is a different power to what she was a decade ago. She is awakening and this means that she will better herself. I believe that America is largely responsible for this change.

"Recently the civilized world was startled by the announcement that all queques must come off. This is but a step in the march of progress, and other edicts will follow. They cannot be put into effect too rapidly, as the thing must be done by stealth and care. Reform will follow until China is ready for the most enlightened government on the face of the globe.

"When that time comes there will be opportunities for Americans as well as Chinese. China has rich resources and when these are developed it will provide remunerative employment for her people and others. I may add, too, that when this is brought about there will be no need for rigid exclusion laws, for then my countrymen will remain at home and make China prosperous."

Lang said also that the present visit of the honorary commercial commissioners of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific coast to China will do more than any other single agency to establish trade relations upon a solid basis.

The Last Turn.

"My turn will come!" the actor cried "Some day I'll turn the dollars!" Alas! he failed in all he tried, And now he turns his collar.
