INDIAN MINISTER SPEAKS AT EUGENE

Rev. James G. Dickson, the Indian pastor of the Tutuilla mission, in company with his wife are now making a tour of the Willamette valley. In speaking of their coming visit to Eugene, the Register has the following: One of the delightful features of the last meeting of the Oregon synod of the Presbyterian church was the opportunity to visit the Tutuilla Indian church near Pendleton, and celebrate the communion with the congregation. The sermon on that occasion was preached by the Indian pastor, Rev. James G. Dickson, who made a profound impression on the synod as a deeply spiritual, intelligent and dignified Christian man.

Rev. and Mrs. Dickson are taking a trip through the valley and will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Mount Thursday and Friday. He will speak in the Central Presbyterian church Thursday evening and a very cordial invitation is extended to everyone to hear him and meet him. Mr. Dickson is a member of the Nez Perce tribe, as is also his wife. He was educated first in the noted mission school of Miss Kate McBeth, then five years in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, and then in the Moody Bible institute, where for a year and a half he studied and did city mission work. From there he was called to take up the Indian mission work among the Bannock and Shoshone Indians, and after three years in that work was called last spring to the pastorate of the Indian church on the Umatilla reservation. His subject this evening is "How I Was Captured." Anyone will be repaid for coming out to hear him.

Misfortunes have their dignity and their redeeming power.—Hibbard.

TONIGHT THE NIGHT.

Everything Ready for Pinafore Production of the Opera.

Tonight is the night and the singers engaged in the preparation of this pretty opera are all ready to give a fine rendition. At the dress rehearsal at the theater last night everything went with a snap and swing that would have done credit to a professional company. The assistance of the orchestra was materially felt by the singers and it will add much to the pleasure of the performance. The principal interest of the opera centers around the young couple who are so desperately in love with each other and in these parts Mrs. A. L. Slusher as Josephine, and Mr. Walter E. Rose as Ralph Rackstraw, the common sailor, are especially good.

Mrs. Slusher has a voice of pleasing quality and unusual range and her acting of the part leaves nothing to be desired and in all the pretty duets she is ably seconded by the clear tenor and easy stage manners of Mr. Rose.

Mr. Williams as Sir Joseph Porter and Miss Edna Zimmermann as Hebe were both a surprise to the chorus in their clever acting. In fact, all the cast is good and carefully prepared to interpret their parts in a most satisfactory manner.

The following is the cast and names of the participants:

Sir Joseph Porter ..... Thomas H. Williams
 Captain Corcoran ..... Eugene Mollitor
 Ralph Rackstraw ..... Walter E. Rose
 Dick Deadeye ..... Wilfred Edmond
 Boatswain ..... Brook Dickson
 Boatswain's Mate ..... G. F. Edmond
 Sergeant of Marines ..... Elmer Storey
 Josephine ..... Mrs. A. L. Slusher
 Hebe ..... Miss Edna Zimmermann
 Buttercup ..... Miss Edna Gates
 Accompanist ..... Miss Harriet Young
 Ladies of the Opera—Bertha Anger, Ina Cherry, Edna Cuytta, Edna Gates Helen Hart, Mary Johns, Irene La Dow, Jenny Perry, Mabel Pickers, Elsie Conklin, Grace Fennell, Gladys Hamley, Helen Johns, Fae Kadel, Inez Makin, Marie Robertson, Claire Raley, Irene Shea, Ella Thompson, Edna Zimmermann, Mrs. A. L. Slusher, Edna Slater, Mary Zurocher.

Men of the opera—D. B. Bailey, Dale Chessman, Brook Dickson, G. F. Edmond, Roy Buchanan, John Dickson, Wilfred Edmond, L. G. Fraser, Chas Hill, Mr. Lawson, A. J. Owens, Elmer Storey, Nat Kimball, Eugene Mollitor, Walter E. Rose, Thomas H. Williams.

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum.

1. The Bachelor and the Baby. Vitagraph. 1000 feet long. A society drama full of complications of a very natural but very strange character, in which a baby is left in a bachelor's apartments leads to a separation from his sweetheart and a marriage years afterward to the baby's mother.

2. The Path of Duty. Lubin. 1000 feet long. A splendid scenic subject and a gripping story as well. A young revenue officer finds himself compelled to arrest the father of the girl he is to marry, but the girl herself arrests the real smuggler and delivers him to the officers.

3. The Sanitarium. Selig. 1000 feet long. The best full reel comedy you have ever seen. It is certainly a laugh getter.

Song—You Are the Ideal of My Dreams.

The Pastime.

"The Sergeant." A Selig feature. A dramatic romance with scenes laid in the great Yosemite valley, the most picturesque spot in the world, complete in scenic grandeur. A story that will grasp and hold until the last foot is run.

"A Lunatic at Large" Vitagraph comedy. A fun story of mistaken identity, which represents what happens to one mistaken for a lunatic. Some of the difficulties which beset the unfortunate individual would cause the most morose person imaginable to laugh.

"The Hand of Fate." Pathe, drama. The materials for this play have been gathered from the annals of German history. A picture of very high standard.

"The Hustler Gets the Coin." Pathe comedy. A story in which the part of the hero is taken by a very intelligent dog.

Shall Women Vote?

If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, fagged feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled. Easy, safe cure. 35c at Koeppen Bros.

Friends Brought Him Out.

The friends of Recorder Hendley prevailed on him to run for county recorder after much urging and after he had been defeated at the primary. Mr. Hendley refused at first to run, but the voters of Umatilla county know the right man when they see him. (Paid Advertisement.)
