Russell and the two men ran upon four deer. Mr. Curtright succeeded in killing three of them. One was a five point buck. This was on October 31, the last day of the deer season.

PASSION PLAY RECEIPTS.

Revenue From Sale of Seats About $437,500 for Season.

Berlin.—The Passion Play at Oberammergau, which has finished the greatest season in its history, has produced roundly $437,500 revenue from the sale of seats alone.

These receipts represent about 150,000 visitors, by far the largest percentage of whom were from the United States. The English and French came next. Germans were conspicuously in the minority. They do not take the Oberammergauers seriously and say that the Passion Play is a money-making enterprise principally supported by transatlantic globe-trotters. The latter portion of their allegation is irrefutably true. Without American patronage this year's production would have been a failure financially.

All profits from the sale of seats remain in Oberammergau or the immediate vicinity. Only a pittance is divided among the players themselves. Anton Lang, for instance, received something like $2,500 for six months' work. The rest is devoted to communal purposes of an educational, philanthropic and religious character. The management announces that the play will positively be reproduced in 1923.

The thoughts of Herr Lang and his wife are largely concentrated on their trip to the Holy Land next spring. Their chief concern is the fear that they will be indecorously lionized. They wish to make their pilgrimage as unobtrusively as possible.

SICK GIVEN HORSE MEAT.

Flesh is Usually Tender and Popularity is Increasing in France.

Paris.—An authority on horse meat says that the Board of Health in Paris buys every day upwards of 1700 pounds of horse meat to be chopped up and eaten raw by delicate patients at the hospitals. Horse meat is not indigestible, and the flesh, even of aged animals, is tender. So rarely is tuberculosis found in horse meat that out of $3,000 animals slaughtered in 1905 only four were rejected on this account, while in the following year, out of 57,000, only seven were pronounced unfit for food for the same reason.

Of the sausages made and sold in Paris nearly one-fifth come from the horse. Last year choice pieces of horse meat were disposed of wholesale at the rate of 10 cents a pound. Donkey meat is highly esteemed by some, and the flesh of mules is not totally devoid of patronage. The authority quoted said that horses and mules were treated like oxen and well fed up their flesh would soon be generally preferred to beef.

Rose "Cure" for Colds.

London.—Rich red roses are the very latest "cure" for colds. A vegetable antiseptic has been evolved from the rose which is made up into small aromatic lozenges. These, when dissolved in the mouth, wage relentless war against the countless millions of those bacilli which set up the conditions known as "cold in the head." The rose antiseptic has been placed into cultures of the bacilli of diphtheria, pneumonia, typhoid and other disease, and on every occasion has routed the bacilli horse and hoof. It is stated that only to inhale the fragrant lozenges affords relief to the sufferer from a cold.

LOCAL FARMERS PRAYING FOR RAIN

NEEDED BADLY FOR FALL SEEDING WORK

Less Acreage Sowed This Fall Than Last—Warehouses Are Full of Wheat Because of Decline in Price.

Notwithstanding the fact that more beautiful weather has seldom been seen in Umatilla county than has prevailed this fall, wheat seeding conditions are far from satisfactory. With the exception of the stretch of country in the vicinity of this city, between this city and Helix and on the reservation, there has not been rain enough to justify the farmers in going ahead with their seeding. The result is going to be that the acreage of fall sown grain is to be several thousand acres less than last fall. The full significance of this will be realized when it is remembered that the seeding of grain last fall was cut short long before completed by the early winter.

According to some of those conversant with grain conditions, several of the fields already seeded will probably have to be reseeded. The only thing that can prevent this is the immediate arrival of warm rains.

The steady decline in the price of wheat for the past few months, coupled with the disinclination on the part of the growers to let go their holdings, has resulted in the warehouses of the county being filled as they have not been filled at this season in many years. Local buyers as well as the local growers are anxiously watching the foreign wheat situations which control the local market and are hoping that the coming of winter with the closing of the Russian ports and the exhaustion of the Argentine supply will result in an increased demand for American wheat and a consequent increase in price.

According to E. W. McComas, a local buyer, a thousand less cars of wheat have been received in Portland this fall than had been received there by this time last fall and last season's shipments were below the normal.

Mrs. Townsend Granted Divorce.
 Mrs. Jennie Townsend was granted a decree of divorce yesterday afternoon by Judge Bean from Grant E. Townsend. The former husband is also directed by the court to pay to his erstwhile wife the sum of $1000 and to ship her the family piano and household furniture from their former home at Condon. Mrs. Townsend is given the custody of their four minor children.

"DRY" FORCES HELD PARADE AND RALLY

With Mrs. Mary Ogden Armour of Georgia as the speaker, the local prohibition forces held a rally at the Methodist church last evening.

For the occasion the main auditorium of the big church was packed and the meeting was marked by enthusiasm throughout. As a speaker, Mrs. Armour is very convincing and last night she presented the prohibition cause in an able manner. She spoke in favor of state wide prohibition and in opposition to the home rule amendment.

Prior to the meeting at the church last night an "Oregon Dry" parade was held. The procession was composed for the most part of ladies and children from the local Sabbath schools. The parade was headed by an auto bearing the speaker of the evening and notable local workers. Following the auto came the Roundup band and then the ladies' brigade. Each marcher carried a broom and at their head was a banner inscribed "We'll Sweep Out the Saloon." The little children carried flags.

KING STOPPED DANTE LAUNCHING FOR WINE

Rome.—In connection with the first Italian Dreadnought, which took place at the Castellamare government ship works, the following story is told here:

It is a well known fact that since King Victor's coronation, customs at the Italian court have greatly changed. For instance, French is not spoken unless there are foreign guests and imported wines have been entirely banished. In the past French champagne was always used in christening ships. Thus, at the proper moment a bottle of French champagne was handed to Queen Helena, who was to act as godmother to the first Italian battleship of the Dreadnought type.

It was soon noticed that the king looked displeased and a moment later addressing one of his aides, he said: "The queen of Italy doesn't need a French wine to christen an Italian ship."

The christening was delayed a few minutes, but the bottle broken on the prow of the Dante bore an Italian label.
