

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE THE ONE SAFE BLOOD REMEDY

It is a generally recognized fact that medicines taken from the botanical kingdom are better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way than those composed of strong mineral mixtures.

SOME SHORT NEWS NOTES FROM O. A. C.

(Special Correspondence.) Corvallis, Ore.—Two new departmental short courses will be added to the curriculum at the Oregon Agricultural College this year.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

Brakeman Killed in Wreck. Ellensburg, Wash.—C. J. Hauser, a Milwaukee railroad brakeman, was killed when the second section of a Milwaukee freight train went into the ditch a quarter of a mile east of Kittitas Monday morning.

Jap Saves Laundry. Medford, Or.—The prompt action of a Japanese porter saved the Medford laundry from destruction by fire Monday morning.

Palmer Is Elected Mayor. Baker City, Or.—Charles L. Palmer was Monday elected mayor of Baker City, and to him falls the honor of being the first chief executive of the city under the commission form of government.

George Henry was elected commissioner No. 3 by a large majority, Anderson Finley was elected commissioner No. 2. The new officials will take office on December 6.

Tramway Breaks; 3 Dead. Seattle, Wash.—L. C. Thompson, of Clear Lake, and Joe Spangler, of Van Horn, were drowned in the Skagit river, at Van Horn, Skagit county, when one of the bucket supports of an aerial tramway by which they were crossing the river gave way, dumping them into the water.

Five men attempted to cross the stream in the bucket, which was not designed for so heavy a load, and when they were half way across one of the fastenings broke. Ed Crow and C. Conrad, the other two men in the bucket, clung to the rim of the bucket and reached shore in safety.

Poisoned Wine Kills. Vancouver, B. C.—Four Frenchmen engaged in a drinking bout in a house in the Fairview section of Vancouver Monday night. Their port wine disagreed with the revelers, one of whom is dead, two seriously ill in a hospital and the fourth missing.

When the police were called to the house after midnight they found Louis Tankeray lying dead beside a table on which a half-emptied bottle of port that is thought to contain strychnine. Emil Delaudier and Henry Cochet were almost dead from the effects of the liquor and were taken to a hospital, where they are critically ill.

The fourth man, Jem Demar, had disappeared and the police are seeking him.

GRINDING DOWN THE JEWS.

Russia Still Punishes Leaders for Spreading Zionist Movement There.

Berlin.—The difficulties under which the Zionist movement in Russia propagate their ideals have just been accentuated by two significant events. The spiritual head of the Jews in Kremenitshg (Province of Bessarabia), Rabbi Friedberg, after satisfactory discharging his office for 13 years, was recently re-elected by his community for another two years.

The Jewish community, heedless of this decision, re-elected Rabbi Friedberg again, but this time the governor replied by banishing the pastor from the Province of Poltava for two years. The severity of this order is all the more remarkable as the only alleged delinquency on the part of the Rabbi was that he took part in the last Zionist congress. But some 120 other Russian Jews were also present at this congress, without having been penalized for displaying their sympathy with the Zionist movement. It is believed that Rabbi Friedberg will proceed to St. Petersburg to petition for a revocation of the decree against him.

The other incident is the confiscation of the latest number of the central organ of the Zionist organization in Russia, the "Rassviet" on account of a news paragraph dealing with the recent Duma election at Odessa. The editor has been summoned "for incitement to overthrow the existing order of government."

Episodes such as these made it exceedingly difficult for the Zionists of Russia to extend their organization and they are compelled to carry on most of their work in secret. The present position is rather disquieting, as when the Zionist president, Herr Wolfshin, visited St. Petersburg more than two years ago, he received assurances from the premier, M. Stolyin, that the adherents of the Jewish nationalist movement would not be molested.

PRODIGAL SON RETURNS. FATTED CALF IS MISSING

London.—The prodigal son of Sir Julius Wernher has arrived in London. He has been making things hum on the continent. A few days ago Sir Julius, who is the head of the South African diamond firm, advertised in the newspapers that he would no longer be responsible for his son Dierck's debts. But judging by his recent escapades in Berlin, Paris and elsewhere, he shows no signs of reforming.

For two or three years young Dierck made himself so obnoxious that his society was shunned by all but those who wanted to get something out of him. Among the latter was a well known peer's heir, who let the youth in for such a large amount of money that Sir Julius hurriedly sent his son out of the country, accompanied by a strong-minded companion named Lyons. But even Mr. Lyons, who has now returned with the boy, seems to have been unable to control him.

Lady Wernher, who is a handsome and ambitious woman, with a magnificent home, Bath House, in Piccadilly, and who has several friends in the royal family, is in despair as she had mapped out a brilliant social and political career for her son.

LONDON LIKES "FOLLIES."

Pelissier's Company Has Caught the Popular Fancy.

London.—H. J. Pelissier and his company called the "Follies," have caught London. The first time they never let go since they first took hold of public favor some two years ago. Their new entertainment has just been produced and is drawing crowded houses to the Apollo theatre at every performance.

The stage story of this little organization of eight people is one of the most remarkable in the history of theatricals. Two years ago they came to the Apollo theatre to stay four weeks. They have been playing there to full houses ever since, bringing a two months' well-earned vacation they took this summer. While the company are all exceedingly clever artists, Mr. Pelissier, the owner and originator, is the moving spirit and hardest worker of them all.

There is never anything in his entertainments to offend anyone's feelings. He believes that the public likes fun that is absolutely good-natured, and that it is not necessary to be malicious or sarcastic to be amusing. His smile is chronic and his good nature contagious. It's no wonder that his light-hearted cheerfulness is so popular in this gray old London of gloom and fog, and the Londoners go night after night to have a laugh with him and get their spirits perked up. He has come to be regarded as a sort of mental tonic, an antidepressant medicine.

There is no use in describing the new burlesque, as nobody much cares what it's about. It's sure to be harmlessly funny, anyway, and that's all they look for.

AUSTRO-HUNGARY IS BUILDING UP NAVY

Vienna.—Like children in a school the 60 members from the two houses of the Austrian parliament, and an equal number from the Hungarian parliament, are now gathered in Vienna to listen to the annual explanation which the central government sees fit to give them of the empire's naval, military and foreign affairs, and consider the estimates of expenditure.

In theory, either of these little "parliaments" can reject the estimates. In practice, their power is never exercised. An unfavorable vote would no doubt bring about the resignation of the minister against whom it was directed, but a favorable vote does not signify that the minister can proceed to incur the expenditure sanctioned because each of the Hungarian and Austrian parliaments, as a whole, has subsequently to grant the money out of the separate budgets of its own state.

The most important discussions are expected to take place on the military and naval estimates, which will refer to the future as well as to the past. Though the estimates brought forward in this session of the delegations may not be much larger than the previous estimates, it is known that a very large increase in the proposed outlay on army and navy.

Ministers will consequently be asked to explain their full program, and perhaps to describe the natural history of those wonderful "Dreadnaughts" which are being built for the government without the knowledge of official circles. The delegations, therefore, promise to be interesting. The Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, Count Aehrenthal, has been performing for two years behind the curtain. Now the curtain is to be raised, and if he is not actually seen on the stage, he will at least be expected to say what part he has been playing. His personality attracts enough attention in Europe to make him certain of finding an eager audience.

INVENTION DOOMS BLOWPIPE BURGLAR

MATERIAL DISCOVERED TO FOIL SAFE-CRACKERS

Resists Steel Drill Easily and is Not Affected by Acetylene Blow Pipe Heat—Tests Prove its Worth.

Washington.—A sad blow is in store for the safe-cracking industry as the result of the discovery of a material that will resist the acetylene blowpipe. In police and burglar circles it has been an accepted fact that when a burglar had an opportunity to apply the fierce flame of the blow-pipe to any kind of a safe, the looting was thereafter, a matter of only a few minutes.

Now the blowpipe burglar is to be foiled and the way is laid by the United States Consul, Albert Halsted, stationed at Birmingham, England. In describing a test made to prove the remarkable qualities of the acetylene defying material Halsted says: "A safe door section had been built up of two sheets of half-inch steel, with a layer of this resisting material between. A drill was first employed, but while it easily bit its way through the outer case of steel, it failed to make any impression on the inner filling and when the drill was withdrawn, after five minutes application, all the edge had gone from it. In fact, it had been ground perfectly smooth."

Next the oxy-acetylene blowpipe was brought into play, the cone of intense light giving off a heat of 6,300 degrees F. and exerting a pressure of 50 pounds to the inch. Almost directly the steel covering the region of the drill hole became incandescent. Then came a shower of white hot particles, and the metal began to bubble over like a miniature crater, but as soon as the outer steel had been burned away and the inner material had been reached the blowpipe "back-fired" and was extinguished.

"Time after time it was relighted, but after a second of two's application it was put out of action. The material in fact proved absolutely invulnerable, and when the blowpipe was examined the cone was found to have been completely burned away. This was the first time in the discoverer's experience that such a thing had happened and while affording evidence of the immense heat employed it also provided convincing proof of the resisting power of the new material. Indeed when later the blowpipe was played on a slab of the material it simply reached a glowing heat, while strangely an extra amount of oxygen was put on. This is quite contrary to usual experience, for the extra oxygen is employed for cutting purposes.

"When the blowpipe was withdrawn the sign of its application was slight unevenness on the surface. A similar application would have been made to a cut of at least a foot in steel three inches thick."

Not Sorry for Blunder. "If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, Harrodsburg, Ky. "But for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful live-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Koeppen Bros.

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Aikay, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my ills, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.
