FACTS FOR FARMERS

Producing Cows for Market.

The high prices which prevail for first class dairy cows ought to induce more farmers to keep registered bulls and to make more thorough study of the business of successful calf and heifer raising. It is surprising how few farmers there are who are really good calf raisers. The final value of a good cow depends in a great measure upon how well she has been raised from calfhood to maturity.

We have noticed that four things contribute very greatly to success in this particular: (1) Good dairy blood in the sire. (2) Clean, dry quarters, frequently disinfected. (3) Plenty of sweet skim milk fed in pails kept well scalded. (4) Good, well cured alfalfa hay after the calf is three to four months old and from that time on. A heifer given alfalfa hay will make a decidedly better growth and size on that account.

Such raising, feed and care seem to have a stimulating effect on the maternal organs, and the heifer makes a better cow on that account. Of course the dairy breeding is the foundation. It is of no use to try and make a good cow out of a heifer that has no such tendency in her. But it is true, and often lamentably true, that the best bred heifer in the world can be utterly spoiled by stupid, unskillful handling and feeding in the first two years of her life.

The business of producing well bred first class dairy cows is a profitable one. After two years of age, the cow has a double line of profit in the milk she yields and in her progeny. All that is needed on the part of the farmer is an intelligent understanding of what it means to produce a good cow.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Hay Famine in the Northwest.

Breeders' Gazette reads in the story of a short hay crop in the northwest that section next year. It says that a decreased supply seems certain.

With hay so scarce that it is being shipped from Nebraska to the Northwestern states, the price of the forage is too high for fattening purposes. All of it will be needed to nurse thin cattle and sheep through the cold period when the bare ranges will afford no picking. The sugar beet crop is also smaller than usual, and less pulp feeding will be done. It looks like the inning of corn belt feeders. Their crips will be full of corn and their feed lots have been rapidly filling with heavy feeders. If they do not send the cattle to market all at once they have good prospects for a satisfactory clearance. There is not much competition in sight from the outside.

Poultry Pointers.

Rake up the litter and rubbish that have accumulated in the runs and then spade or plow them up. If there are double runs to each house sow them to rye for winter green feeding. Don't delay the sowing of dye much longer.

This is a good season in which to dispose of all the surplus old hens. Better get rid of them while prices are good for roasters.

It is a too common practice to in-breed. Don't do it. It is easier to secure good cockerels now than later in the season. Get them now and you will have them when needed.

The experienced poultryman breeds only to his best winter layers. It is then when prices are at their best and profits to be counted upon in the poultry business.

Do not allow the pullets to roost in the coops where they were raised. The cooler the weather gets the worse they will crowd. They will suffer from the heat, and when let out these cool mornings are apt to take cold, and roup is the next thing on the program.

The fowls that are small for their age should go now. Their room is of more value than their company.

If coops are not well ventilated the growing chicks will be too warm during the night and will sweat out more strength during the hours in which they ought to rest than they will gain under the most favorable conditions during the day.

Now is a very good time to save out the best pullets to take the place of the discarded hens this fall. It pays to keep the best stock in order to get good results, and this can be done in no other way than by constantly culling and picking.—Fort Worth Citizen-Star.

To Rid Poultry House of Vermin.

Now is the time to wage war against vermin in the poultry house in order to get rid of them before putting the chickens in it for the winter, and if you follow these instructions you will not be bothered with lice or mites during the winter:

Close all windows and stop all cracks, and see that the door will shut tight. Then take an old kettle, put lots of sand under it; or better still, set it in a big kettle used for cooking hog feed, and then set it in the center of the poultry house. Put in a shovelful of good, live coal, and on them sprinkle sulphur in the proportion to one pound to 100 square feet. Ket out as quickly as possible, closing the door, and keep it closed for at least six hours. When you open it you may be sure there are no vermin left alive. But before putting the chickens in, it is best to have a helper with a small hand spray filled with some liquid louse-killer, ready, and while one catches each chicken and holds it, head down, ruffling up the feathers, the helper sprays them good. Spray the chicken house once a week, all winter, with one of the coal tar preparations which is a disinfectant, as well as louse-killer, and you will not be bothered with lice or mites.

POPE DRAWS LINES TIGHT.

Strong Stand is Taken Against Modernism and Suppression Ordered.

Berlin.—Pope Pius X. has ordered instructions to the Papal Nuncio of Munich to enforce severe measures of suppression against modernism in German-speaking countries. Pope Pius deplores the strides made by the movement among the Catholic laity of Austria-Hungary and Germany, and explicitly condemns Catholic institutions instituted on a broad religious basis, as recently advocated by Cardinal Fischer of Cologne, in opposition to Cardinal Kopp.

The Pope in supporting the latter, forbids the formation of any other than rigidly sectarian societies. He enjoins that no doctorates in theology shall henceforth be recognized in case the studies are not conducted on the scholastic system.

All lectures of Catholic professors must be submitted to ecclesiastical censorship before delivery. Moreover every Catholic newspaper asking to be recognized must submit its intended contents to the censor, while all Catholic journalists are required to take the same oath of repudiation of modernistic ideas which the Pontiff has recently prescribed for the seminary and university professors.

BRITISH NAVY PLANS TRIAL OF HYDROPLANE

London.—There is a plan on foot for construction of hydroplane boats for the navy's use. It is proposed to begin with a small type of vessel especially adapted for picket work and coast defense, the idea being to work up to a larger size suitable for destroyers and the carrying and launching of aeroplanes at sea and for scout duty in case of emergency.

A syndicate including well-known American capital is being formed and has secured an option on the Forber hydroplane patents. The Forber hydroplane, which was invented by an American, was built in France and holds the records for this kind of coast work. The syndicate proposes to construct boats to be driven by a new type of oil engine.

The first fleet of hydroplane defenders will unquestionably be launched in England, as its negotiations have been virtually settled, while the French navy department has reached no decision.

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum.

1. The Foreman. Selig. 1000 ft. long. A Western ranch picture of excellence, like all the ranch pictures that have come from the Selig studio. A new foreman wrongfully accused and arrested escapes and with the aid of a girl succeeds in establishing his innocence and recovers the stolen money.

2. The Sisters. A good Pathe drama.

3. "A Lucky Toothache." Biograph 1000 ft. long. A good comedy.

4. "The Masher." Biograph. Here is a mixed comedy illustrating the misfortunes of Hiram, who is taken for a masher.

Song. When the Bloom is on the Heather.

The Pastime.

"A Home Melody." Vitagraph, drama. A story of much heart interest, showing how the music of a home melody restores a mother's reason threatened by shock.

"Anoko's Vow." Edison drama. A story of the famous Indian massacre at Deerfield, Mass. in 1675 and 1794. All exterior scenes were taken at Deerfield and show the beauty of that part of the country in both summer and winter. The picture is most elaborate and is a big feature subject.

"Who Owns the Rug?" Pathe, comedy. This comedy is indeed a puzzle and after your laughter has subsided, you will begin to wonder who really did own it.

"Southern Tunis." Pathe, scenic. A scenic picture that is most interesting and instructive.

20-YEAR-OLD CHICAGO GIRL HAS NEVER TALKED TO BOYS

Chicago.—Chicago is to have an unusual debutante next month. Miss Marguerite Sherlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Sherlock, who in her twenty years of life has never been permitted to go to a party, never has had any young man caller and has never ventured from her home unless under the eyes of careful chaperon, according to her mother, is to be presented to society in a "coming out" party at a Michigan avenue hotel on November 19th.

A dinner will be given and will be followed by a theatre party. After this presentation Miss Sherlock will be free to follow her own inclination in accepting or refusing invitations.

"All of Marguerite's studies have been under women instructors," said Mrs. Sherlock this afternoon. "They have taught her Latin, French and Italian. I assure you that it has been a most difficult task to bring a girl through twenty years of life as Marguerite has been brought. She is bubbling over with spirits and has often wept bitterly at not being allowed to enjoy the privileges accorded other girls."

"My idea is that the girls of this age are permitted to become blasé before they reach the years in which they should properly enjoy the pleasures of society. However, this is not true in Marguerite's case. She was even attended at boarding school by a chaperon."

SLEZAK MATINEE IDOL FOR GIRLS OF VIENNA

Vienna.—Leo Slezak, the gigantic Slav tenor, left for New York on Wednesday and his last performance at the Imperial Opera House was a notable farewell celebration. Slezak appeared in Lohengrin. All during the opera he was the object of the most enthusiastic ovations.

At its close hundreds of his admirers, most of them young women and girls, rushed pell mell into the singer's dressing room. The disorder became so pronounced that the police had to be called in. The women were crushed and hustled, the policemen shoved, doors were broken and poor Slezak, who at this moment looked more like somebody just getting out of bed than like Lohengrin, was forced to sign his name on hundreds of photographs and picture postcards and to distribute locks of his hair by the handful.

The women then retreated in triumph and their pride was turned to ridicule the next morning when they learned that the wily singer, who had received a warning of what was coming had provided against the attempt to shear him by buying up the clipped refuse of black hair from a number of barbershops.

Think It Was a Slander.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Mrs. F. A. Sawyer, prominent in society in Canton, near here, has filed suit for $100,000 damages against fifteen women formerly friends of hers and leaders in society. All concerned are members of a club which meets weekly and discusses various topics.

At a recent meeting Mrs. Sawyer read a paper which fifteen of the other members believed contained personal and unpleasant references to themselves. They wrote a letter to Mrs. Sawyer, demanding that she resign and telling her that if she did not they would have her expelled. They also, it is alleged, circulated stories about her and the suit filed today was the result.

MOST CERTAIN WAY TO END A BAD COLD

RELIEVES SEVERE GRIPPE MISERY IN A FEW HOURS

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippe symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, neuralgia, pains, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

Take this harmless compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.
