

SOCIETY EVENTS

With the close of the various colleges in the northwest for the Christmas holidays, Pendleton students at the different institutions are coming back to their homes. James Johns, Jr. and Cecil Cole, of the University of Oregon and Edgar Ellis of the Oregon Agricultural college, have arrived and others are coming in on every train. Miss Evelyn Soumerville who has been attending St. Mary's academy in Portland arrived this morning, while Miss Cecelia Cunningham, who is attending the same institution will reach Pendleton next Saturday. Lyman Rice of the University of Oregon is scheduled to arrive Monday from Portland where he is spending a few days. The Misses Catherine Campbell and Dorothy Green, who are students at St. Paul's academy in Walla Walla will come home early next week as will also James and Cross Sturgis and Tracy Baker of the University of Washington. Hans Struve who is spending his first year at the Oregon Agricultural college, is also scheduled to return soon. Claud Still, a freshman at the state university from Milton, was another returning student on the early train this morning.

The Current Literature club met with Mrs. J. P. Winter on December 16. The afternoon was spent in the study of Italian Art. The following program was given.

Paper—The Madonna in Italian Art. Mrs. Charles Bonney. Gothic. Amahue—Madonna Giotto—Flight into Egypt Fra Angelico. Madonna della Stella. Mrs. Hampton. Early Renaissance.

Perugino—Madonna and Saints G. Bellini—Madonna and two Saints Carpaccio. Lunta Connersagione Botticelli. Madonna of the Pomgranate. The Renaissance. Mrs. Colesworthy. Bartolomeo. Madonna Del Sarto. Madonna Glogone. Madonna Castlefranco. Mrs. Wade.

Correggio. Madonna della Scaglia. Titian, assumption. Mrs. Johnson. La Vinci. Madonna of the Rocks. Raphael. Sistine Madonna. Mrs. McAllister.

Music. Ave Marie. Mascagni. Mrs. Vaughan.

Those who have been attending the Unatilla-Morrow County Poultry Show during the week are loud in their praise of the music rendered by the Big United Orchestra under the able leadership of Prof. Barks. It is not often that music of the class that this big orchestra has been playing all week is heard in this city and those who have not visited the show have missed a treat. In view of the fact that Prof. Barks has only had the direction of the orchestra but a short time, all the more credit is due. The instrumentation of this musical organization playing at the chicken show this week is as follows: Prof. T. B. Barks, clarinet and director; Mrs. Barks, first violin; Wm. Goedecke, first violin; E. E. Baer, flute; R. Polson, cornet; Mrs. Wm. Humphrey, piano; Frank Hays, trombone; C. S. Cheshire, trombone; J. C. McConnell, double bass; R. W. Fletcher, traps and manager.

Miss Ruth M. Wise has been elected as instructor of history at the local high school to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Miss Porter which vacancy has been filled by Miss Mabel McDill during the past few weeks. She will commence her new duties the first of the year at the conclusion of the holidays. Miss Wise is a graduate of the University of Colorado and comes here highly recommended by the school authorities of Riverville, Wash., where she has been employed. She is a sister of Miss Louise Wise, commercial instructor at the high school and is a sorority sister of Mrs. A. C. Hampton, both having been members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority while students in college.

One of the most enjoyable dancing parties given this season was the first of the series of the Young People's Dancing club which was held in the Eagle-Woodman hall on Wednesday evening. There were about fifty couples in attendance and the house between 9 and 12 went rapidly to the merry throng. The music was furnished by the United Orchestra and was exceptionally good. A number of out of town guests were present, among them being Miss Mamie Dunn of Portland, Miss Florence Curran of Barnhart, Mrs. Lachlan McCleay of Tacoma, Mr. Ernest Wells of Athena and Mr. McDonald of Stanfield. The next of the series will be given on the evening of December 26.

Considerable interest has been aroused in local society circles by the approaching visit of the University of Oregon Glee club which will appear in concert at the Oregon theater Wednesday night. The college songsters have appeared in Pendleton several times in the past and have always left a satisfied audience behind them, but according to Portland papers, the club this year eclipses all its predecessors in a musical way. The local Oregon alumni are planning to fill the boxes on the occasion and several after theater banquets will be held by local fraternity men for their brothers.

The bridge club of the younger set met at the home of Miss Iva Hill on Tuesday afternoon and spent several hours in the popular pastime. The prize for the highest score was won by Miss Daphne Leasure. At the conclusion of the game, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The following are the young ladies who were present: Mrs. Ben Burroughs and the Misses Ernal Mann, Bernice Ruppe, Edna Thompson, Daphne Leasure, Edna Zimmerman, Paralee Halley, Pauline La Fontaine, Iva Hill, Gertrude Campbell, Jennie Perry and Una Smith.

The largest and most elaborate social function of the week was the card party given last evening by Faye Bartholomew at her home on Lewis street in honor of Miss Mamie Dunn of Portland, who has been her guest during the week. About forty guests were in attendance and they were entertained with progressive 500 in which game Mrs. Richard Mayberry captured the ladies' prize, while Mr. George Hartman carried off like honors in the contest for the gentlemen's trophy. At a late hour refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted by her mother, Mrs. E. R. Swinburne and Mrs. D. C. McNabb.

The Ladies Aid society entertained at the home of Mrs. C. P. Bishop on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. H. J. Bean and Mrs. Will Ingram, who are leaving Pendleton to make their homes in other cities. Mrs. Bean left Thursday for Salem, while Mrs. Ingram is soon to leave to take up her residence in Hood River. Both ladies will be missed in local society circles.

With the close of the local public schools, many of the teachers will leave to spend the holidays with friends or relatives. Among others who will leave Pendleton are Miss Inez Makin, who will visit in Spokane, Miss Mary Zuercher, who will go to her home in Enterprise, and Miss Louise Wise, who will spend the vacation in Hoquiam, Wash.

Mrs. Henry J. Bean left Thursday evening for Salem where she will make her home in the future. She will be joined after the first of the year by her husband, Judge Bean, who was elevated to the supreme bench at the last election. Miss Grace and Hawley Bean, who are attending the University of Oregon, will spend the holiday in the capital city.

Mrs. Lachlan McCleay, accompanied by her little baby, arrived in Pendleton Wednesday from her home in Tacoma and will spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nye, in this city. Mrs. McCleay was formerly Miss Mabel Nye and several years ago was a very popular member of Pendleton society.

Mrs. W. W. Caviness is in the city visiting her sisters, Mrs. Leona Thompson and Mrs. J. F. Robinson. She will be joined on Wednesday by her husband and they will go from here to California to spend the winter months.

At the Perrin place five miles west of Pendleton on McKay creek, a crowd of about 40 young people surprised the Perrin family last Saturday evening and the evening was spent enjoyably in playing old fashioned games.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blakeley, who are making an extensive tour of the east, spent the greater portion of the week in Hot Springs, Arkansas, and are now visiting in Memphis, Tennessee.

Miss Gussie Sawtelle will leave Monday for Portland, where she will spend five or six months with relatives and friends. She will be joined by her mother Christmas, who will spend about a month in the metropolis.

Mrs. William Slusher, who has been visiting in Portland, will be back in Pendleton about December 24. She will be accompanied by her daughter, Miss Edith Slusher, who is attending Portland academy, and her son, Mr. Dale Slusher.

Miss Daphne Leasure, who has been spending the early winter at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. William Blakeley, will leave next week for Portland where she will spend several months with her mother, Mrs. G. M. Leser.

The Misses Edna and Lavelle Florence, formerly prominent in Pendleton's younger society, will arrive from their home in Portland soon after Christmas to visit with friends here.

Miss Amy Matthews, who has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Penland, for the past two weeks, will leave in a few days for her home in Baker City.

Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Waffle will leave shortly after the first of the year for Europe where they will take an advanced course in the medical science.

Mrs. W. L. Thompson and son Edward, left this morning for Lewiston, Idaho, to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baumister.

Dr. F. W. Vincent returned this morning from Portland where he had been to attend a meeting of the Northwest Power and Light managers.

Mrs. Charles Hamilton will arrive Wednesday from her farm south of town to spend Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Ruth A. Strahorn.

Miss Mamie Dunn, who has been the guest of Miss Faye Bartholomew during the past week, will return to her home in Portland Monday.

Dr. C. J. Smith, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Gwendolin, came up from Portland this morning.

Miss May Taylor returned last night from Portland, where she has been for the past month visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ernest Ruppe came in from their farm to attend the dance Wednesday night.

Mrs. W. H. Lytle returned yesterday from Ellensburg, where she had been visiting Mrs. Fred Ross.

Mrs. N. E. Despain will spend Christmas in Portland with her daughter, Mrs. Haldane Dickson.

The Duplicate Whist club met at the home of Mrs. John Vert on College street Monday afternoon.

Miss Edna Wissler returned Wednesday from a visit with friends in La Grande.

Mr. G. M. Rice has returned from a trip to Portland.

GETS MONEY TO BURY SELF.

Ingenious Youth in Reno Wires Family of His Death.

Reno—Fielder Bravitt of Goldfield has originated the easiest and most plausible manner in which to secure funds from angered parents. He "faked" his death, wired to his family and secured $100 to bury himself.

The wire was signed "Dr. John Smith" and told of the supposed death of Bravitt. The money was sent post-haste, and Bravitt is now in the hospital for excessive drinking.

Bravitt came from Caddo, Oklahoma, several weeks ago. His family's lawyer asked the physician to accompany the body to Oklahoma.

WOULD SELL ALL MILK IN BOTTLES

"A law providing that all milk for domestic consumption should be bottled at the dairy or at the creamery would do much toward improving the sanitary conditions surrounding the handling of the milk business," said L. H. Davis, state dairy and food
