Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Registry Window Open.
In order to accommodate those who will have registered Christmas packages the registry window at the post-office will be kept open between the hours of 9:30 and 11. Ordinarily the registry window is not open on Sundays or holidays.

H. Geissel Very Ill.
H. Geissel, formerly an O. R. & N. employe here, but who is now a section foreman at Spokane, is seriously ill at the railroad hospital in that city. He is suffering from peritonitis. News to this effect was received here today by his son-in-law, Van Bowman. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman and their little child will leave tonight for Spokane.

Sheepherd Dies.
R. R. Maper, who has been employed for some time near Pilot Rock as a sheepherder, passed away about noon today, according to a telephone message received in this city. The cause of death was consumption. The deceased man was aged about 55 years and had no relatives in this part of the country. He came to Pilot Rock last spring from New York but was formerly a resident of Germany. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

Woman to Be Buried Here.
The body of May Long, the unfortunate woman who committed suicide in one of the rooms of the Oriental Wednesday night, will be buried here, the necessary funds having been raised by popular subscription. Despite the efforts of Coroner Folsom, no clew has been discovered as to the real identity of the woman or any of her relatives and her fate will probably never be known to those who cared for her.

Four Marriage Licenses.
Four more couples have appeared in the county clerk's office during the past two days and have received licenses for marriage. Those who applied yesterday were Cecil H. Walden and Clara W. McDermaid, both of this county and Benjamin Franklin Eckley and Effie Leona Cummins also of this county. Those who received the licenses this morning were Roy V. Perringer of Whitman county, Washington, and Elda Pearl Porter of Pendleton and John C. Wheaton and Theresa F. Bischoff of Walla Walla.

Wants Man Pasteurized.
Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, has requested that a man living near Grouse, in Walla Walla county and who was bitten by a mad dog, be given the Pasteur treatment. The man bitten is named Johnson and he has been pronounced fully recovered. However it is possible that hydrophobia symptoms may yet develop and out of caution Dr. Lytle is insisting that he be given the Pasteur treatment. Johnson was bitten by a dog that had become affected with hydrophobia after having been bitten by a rabid coyote. Dr. Lytle arrived home on train No. 17 this morning.

Jap Locates Stolen Suit.
Because he wished to look his best during the Christmas season, an Italian laborer for the O. R. & N., who refuses to give him name, is now reposing in the city jail. About a month ago the bunkhouse of the Japanese section crew was raided and three suits and an overcoat taken. Yesterday one of the almond eyed losers by the transaction recognized his suit on the Italian and the arrest by Chief Gurdane followed. One of the other suits was also found in his possession but the man claims he purchased both from a hobby. His partner in the crime succeeded in getting away on No. 17, as the chief of police and sheriff dashed up to the depot just as the train was pulling out. However they telegraphed O. R. & N. Detective Wood, who was on the train and the fellow was taken off at The Dalles, where he is now held.

JUDGE BEAN TO DECIDE.
Will Render a Decision in the Caviness Case Next Week.
A case of unusual importance in water litigation history will come to a focus next week when Judge H. J. Bean will come to La Grande and render a final decision in the Caviness case. This is the case in which J. L. Caviness won a temporary restraining order last June entitling him to prior right on the Grande Ronde river for irrigation purposes at May Park. The news of the Judge's coming was conveyed to Judge Knowles this afternoon.—La Grande Observer.

The Cozy.
Champion film.
"Let Us Give Thanks." This is a Thanksgiving story showing a young man driven from home and sweetheart on account of drunkenness. A bitter Thanksgiving dinner. He goes out west and becomes a miner, strikes it rich, sells his claim and starts for his home in New York. In the meantime his sweetheart comes west in search of him. They find him, but he has lost his money, having been robbed. The robbers quarrel over the spoils, kick the money over the bluff and it falls at their feet. It all ends by a beautiful Thanksgiving dinner in happiness. This is very interesting.

"The Wreck." Adventures of Morgan the Pirate. A very interesting story of the early day pirates. A very exciting drama, with a beautiful love story running through it. Don't fail to see this.
"A Difficult Capture." A comedy that is really funny. See the race in the air, the final capture and the glory bestowed upon the victors. This is the finest of all comedies.
"Henry III." An early English court scene showing the many tragedies of early English history. A drama. Don't miss this.
