MATLOCK TRACT MAY BE BOUGHT

by the city and located above the water works. Chief among the arguments for the use of that location by the Round-up is the one that the city already owns the property and so would not have to purchase the same. All the money could be expended in getting the grounds into shape for use. The question of getting people to and from the ground can be solved so these men say, through the use of special trains on the O. R. & N. and upon the Northern Pacific line. Both lines run along the tract.

Against the use of the upper site for the Round-up the claim is made that many people would view the show from the banks or railroad tracks and would not pay the entrance charge required. Advocates of the upper site however scout at this objection and say that few people would take this cheap way of seeing the events that transpire in the field below.

At the stockholders' meeting tomorrow night all the facts relative to both the proposed sites will be laid before the meeting and the question as to a location for the show next fall will be determined.

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum.

Big program for Friday's change.

1. "The Way of Life." Kalem, 1000 feet long. John Mason and George Bent were chums in a music conservatory. After they graduated they met and fell in love with the same girl. Mason, however, proved successful and won her for his wife. As time went on Mason's wife proved a shrew and the two gradually became estranged. In the meantime Mason found himself falling in love with one of his pupils. Recognizing his danger he sent her to another teacher, his old friend George Bent. Later on returning home he found his wife had gone with another man. He secured a divorce and went in search of his former pupil and found she was happily married to his old friend George Bent.

2. "On the Mexican Border." Lubin, 1000 feet long. This is a typical border drama, with the jealousy of a Mexican as the cause for a good deal of disturbance.

3. A Four Footed Pest. Vitagraph. 1000 feet long. A good comedy. A picture of a very mischievous horse that knows and does a whole lot of things that makes a whole lot of fun that keeps his victims busy and the rest of us laughing. Don't miss this picture.

4. Trained Falcon Catching Rabbits.

5. The Witch's Dance. Farce comedy, hand colored.

The Pastime.

An excellent four reel program for Friday and Saturday.

"The Merry Wives of Windsor." Selig, comedy drama. The story of Falstaff and his difficulties with Mistress Page and Mistress Ford. One of the most amusing of all Shakespeare's comedies. The picture is a satisfactory presentation of Falstaff's doings and we feel will be appreciated by any audience.

"The Maid of Magara." American. Pathe production. This picture is based upon the ancient legend of Niagara Falls and the annual sacrifice of the Iroquois of one of their most beautiful maidens to appease the Spirit of the Cataract. Nothing more awe-inspiring has ever been seen upon the screen than the sight of the Indian maiden in her canoe plunging over the falls.

"Lisbon Before and During the Revolution." Kosmik. A very interesting series of pictures showing scenes in Lisbon. Also Portuguese soldiers with King Manuel very much in evidence. Then there are striking views portraying King Manuel's visit to England last year with his welcome at Portsmouth. Another item of interest views taken at King Edward's funeral showing King Manuel and the other eight kings. These in themselves are of much interest. Also views taken Friday, October 7, showing the change that has taken place at Lisbon. We see the huge crowds in the public squares, the barricades and the soldiers, the horses and the wounded. The whole film is brimming with interest and we anticipate we will all gain much from seeing this picture.

"Spanish Loyalty." Kosmik. Showing in detail the ceremony of allegiance to the flag of the Madrid garrison. The troops marching past the royal box. Queen Victoria and the royal family in the box.

The pastime the show of quality.

The Cosy.

1. "A Fight for Millions." One of the most interesting dramas ever shown in pictures. Yankee.

2. "The Regeneration." A beautiful love story told in pictures. American.

3. "Mischief of a Big Drum." The funniest comedy ever shown in the city.

4. "Man in Pieces." Another comedy that will drive away the blues.

5. Song—"You Are the Ideal of My Dreams." The best bill we have ever showed—that's all.
