MINISTER DISCUSSES POWER OF THE PRESS

"There are 10,000 newspapers and magazines read in this country every day. They are devoured like bread," declared the Rev. Dr. Clayton Albert Schmuicker in a sermon in the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburg. He spoke of "Our Times and the Paper That Talks" and described the effect of the newspaper upon public thought. "The American people want live literature," he said. "They want a paper that talks." They will have it. If they cannot get it pure, clean cut and burning they will take the impure and unwholesome. The literature flooding the country is causing as great revolutions as the swords of mighty warriors in the past. The writings of some men are to be feared more than a poisoned sword.

"Powerful is the pen of the upright wielded in defense of truth, every stroke sharp and pointed. "The times demand sound sense and practical thought, not so much the how as the what, not so much that which addresses itself to the imaginative and speculative faculties only as that which speaks of everyday life right to the popular heart. "People have hearts, feelings and sympathies, and they wish to have them recognized and appealed to. They want the paper to talk to them."

The Inward Effects of humors are worse than the outward. They endanger the whole system. Hood's Sarsaparilla eradicates all humors, cures all their inward and outward effects. It is the great alterative and tonic, whose merit has been everywhere established.

NEWSPAPERS ARE NOW PART OF THE GOVERNMENT

President Taft has formed a new consulting body which in the one week of its life has become known throughout the country as "The Fourth Estate Cabinet." In short, President Taft has started the idea of granting audiences to the newspaper correspondents in a body in the cabinet chamber at 4:30 every Tuesday afternoon, where important questions are to be discussed and the newspaper men will be requested to give their views and advice to the president. The first meeting was held last Tuesday with President Taft presiding.—Fourth Estate.

FINDS DRY FARMING METHODS SUCCESSFUL

With the yield of wheat on his dry farm in southern Idaho nearly twice the amount which he gained from his dry farm in Colorado and three times that which he obtained on his California property, G. C. Hoskins of Halley is more than pleased with his property in this state, says the Boise Statesman. Mr. Hoskins, who is visiting in Boise, said yesterday: "I do not care to state just at this time the amount of crops which I have obtained from my farm in this state. But I can assure you that it is much more than is grown on dry farming property in any other state in the Union. "I have farms in California and Colorado which are likewise dry land, and my Idaho product is much in excess of anything I have reaped anywhere. "In the event that certain irrigation projects go through which are anticipated in the country, I shall buy up several hundred acres more of the property which adjoins my own. "Not only the grains but the potatoes and other vegetables are growing fine in that section of the country, and we are anticipating great things within the next few years.

"I know of four different men who own dry farms near my own who have come to Idaho from points in the east, and not one of them but has had great success with the crops and all of them are anticipating much more abundant yields in the future. "The farmers about Halley are well aware of the need of crop rotation for a successful farm, and all of them are practicing the intensive method of cultivation. "There was a time, no more than a couple of years ago, when I was able to barely earn a living from my farm in California, but I am more than pleased with the results of my efforts in this state and everything is looking fine."
