LAST WILD HORSE ROUNDUP IS HELD

MONTANA RANGE CLEANED UP FOR LAST TIME

Former Boise Man Tells of Picturesque Work—Five Hundred Wild Horses Were Taken up—Passing of Wild Horse Predicted.

After having taken part in what will be the last roundup of horses in northern Montana, Verne McCarty, a cowboy and former member of the United States forestry service, has returned to Boise and will open a livery stable here, says the Statesman.

The roundup in which McCarty participated was one which will go down in the history of the range as the final work of doing away with the "wild" horses in the country.

Said Mr. McCarty yesterday: "It was the last roundup of any importance in that section of the country and about 500 of as wild horses as ever stepped on the range were taken up."

"The horses were actually wild and their ancestors for many generations have run on the range without a piece of leather having been placed upon them."

"It is thought that the horses are the offspring of a number of horses of pioneers which were freed in that country nearly a century ago. They have been mixing with the branded stock and causing them to run off to such an extent that it became necessary to round them up to put a stop to the work."

"In the bunch were found scores of horses with the brand of one outfit or another, and it was perfectly evident that the wild range horses had become their leaders. The question became a most serious one to the ranchers of the country until they decided to band together for the purpose of rounding up the horses and paying the expenses incident to the roundup out of the sum which was gained through the sale of the animals. Many of them were prize stock and will make fine ranch horses, but they are dangerous animals to deal with and some of them will never break for saddle or buggy. They are just naturally wild and that is all there is to it."

Good Sum Realized.
"Many of the ownerless horses were sold and brought about $1500, which went to pay the expenses of the 20 men who were in the outfit that did the work."

"Most of the animals were sold to ranchers for farm stock and there is no doubt but that they will prove a success. In fact several ranchers have concluded to keep them for breeding purposes, believing that an excellent quality of horse may be obtained from them."

"We tried to break a bunch of them, but it was no go. Let me tell you that if some of those horses were brought from the range for these rough riding contests there would be fewer men who would stick. There was not a single one of us who was not forced to grab leather, and even then most of us were unable to stick."

"Those horses were the last of the old mustang type in the country that I know anything about, and with them gone the range in that state will be a tame one."

THREE BROTHERS TO CELEBRATE SAME DAY

Spokane, Wash.—Robert G., C. D. and J. H. Lyle, brothers, will celebrate the anniversaries of their births on January 2. Sixteen years intervene between the oldest and the youngest. C. D. Lyle is the eldest, being born on January 2, 1844. The second is J. H. Lyle, born on January 3, 1852, while Robert G. Lyle, a wealthy farmer and stockman, living near Pullman, Wash., first saw the light of day on January 3, 1852. The latter believes that his family has a record seldom if ever equaled in any on the continent. His claims are verified by documentary proof in the shape of city and county records, giving the date of births as already noted. Robert G. Lyle has been a resident of eastern Washington since territorial days. He has made a study of breeding cattle and other stock, also devoting much of his time to agriculture. His farm is one of the best in Whitman county, where the average wheat production is about 8,000,000 bushels a year.

All Who Suffer From Catarrh, Sore Throat or Colds.

Millions of people throughout America have breathed HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-mei) and now own a HYOMEI Inhaler made of hard rubber.

If you own a HYOMEI Inhaler, no matter where you live, you can get a bottle of HYOMEI at Tallman's and druggists everywhere for only 50c.

Ask for an extra bottle of HYOMEI Inhaler; it is only 50c and with it you can cure a cough or a cold in a day.

You can get relief from catarrh or stuffed up head in two minutes and stop hawking and snuffing in a week. Just pour a few drops of HYOMEI into the inhaler and breathe it in—that's all.

It's so easy and so pleasant and so much more desirable than swallow-in nauseating drugs. Breathe the Hyomei over the inflamed membrane of the nose and throat and its soothing, healing action will be felt immediately.

If you have not a HYOMEI Inhaler, get a complete HYOMEI outfit at once. This only costs $1, and with it comes a HYOMEI Inhaler that will last a life-time and ought to be in every family. For free sample of HYOMEI write Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

NO SLEIGHING YET AT ALBEE

SAWMILL MEN PRAYING FOR HEAVIER FALL OF SNOW

M. E. Fletcher Carried Off Prizes in Christmas Shooting Match—Dance Proves Success in Every Way.

(Special Correspondence.)

Albee, Ore., Dec. 28.—The weather is all that could be desired this week, and still there is not enough for good sleighing. The saw mill men are praying for more snow, as they have not been able to do any logging yet.

The shooting match Friday was pulled off very successfully, one dozen turkeys and two muttons being shot for. M. E. Fletcher carried off the prize turkey, a gobbler weighing 28 pounds. Mr. Fletcher won three other turkeys and one mutton.

The dance Friday night was a grand success both socially and financially. Thirty-five numbers were sold and everybody enjoyed themselves till 4 o'clock in the morning when they departed for their respective homes.

On the evening of the 21st inst., a number of her friends gave a surprise party at the home of Mrs. A. S. Paul in honor of her 33rd birthday. Soon after the arrival of the guests a bountiful dinner was served after which music and games formed the main feature of amusement for the evening. The party came to an end at a late hour all present voting the party a great success and a complete surprise. Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. A. Struthers, Mr. and Mrs. H. Fisher, Miss Helen Myers, Geo. Hofer, S. B. Neil, A. A. Downs, Clarence, Samuel, Edith and Ethel Paul, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Newt Reeves.

A very enjoyable dinner party was given by Mrs. H. C. Fisher and Mrs. A. S. Paul at Mrs. Fisher's home on Christmas day at 1:30 p. m., to a number of friends and relatives. After dinner some time was spent in social chat after which the different guests departed to their several homes. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. A. Struthers, Mrs. M. L. Box, Miss Helen Myers, S. B. Neil, F. H. Wright and Geo. Hofer.

Walter Richardson and Mrs. Hess are here from American Falls, Idaho, visiting at the home of J. H. Constant. Mr. Richardson and Mrs. Hess are brother and sister of Mrs. Constant.

F. H. Wright of Butter creek, is spending the holidays here with friends.

Ed Enright came in from Helix last week where he has been working since last spring.

Paul Clark is spending the holidays in the vicinity of Adams.

T. M. Reeves of Nye, came in with his family today to visit with friends and relatives a few days.

Wm. Fetter returned from Nye yesterday where he had been to take a bunch of his horses to put them on bunch grass pasture for the remainder of the winter.

SPOKANE HAS MORE THAN SCORE MILLIONAIRES

One hundred and thirty-three residents of Spokane own property in Spokane and the district aggregating a value of $58,000,000, according to a compilation made by a reporting agency. Of these 21 are designated as millionaires, 28 each have wealth of more than $500,000 and 81 possess a quarter million dollars or more. Those in the $1,000,000 class are:

- F. A. Blackwell, railroad builder and operator and timberman; James Breen, mine operator; J. J. Browne, banker and capitalist; Malcolm B. Brownlee, capitalist; Amasa B. Campbell, mine owner and operator; F. Lewis Clark, real estate and capitalist; Patrick Clark, mine-owner and operator; Daniel C. Corbin, railroad builder and operator; William H. Cowles, newspaper publisher; Harry L. Day, mineowner and operator; Louis M. Davenport, restaurateur and real estate operator; John A. Finch, mineowner and operator; Jay P. Graves, railroad builder and mine owner; Levi W. Hutton, mineowner and real estate; Thomas J. Humbird, lumberman; Colonel D. P. Jenkins, capitalist; James Monaghan, mine owner and real estate; August Paulson, capitalist; Patrick Welch, railroad contractor, and Mrs. William Winters, railroad contractor.

Bankers, mine operators, railroad builders, contractors, brewers, lawyers, physicians, merchants, timbermen, hotelkeepers, orchard land owners and wheat farmers are included in the list of those whose wealth is under the $1,000,000 mark.

The per capita wealth of Spokane is a little more than $2000, while the bank deposits would give every man, woman and child in the city about $305, if distributed equally. The wealth production of the city and district is a matter of $747 per capita. Building operations during 1910 amounted to $50 each for a population of 112,000.

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum.

1. The Stolen Claim. Edison, 1000 feet long. A mining story of British Columbia. A splendid, strong, dramatic story well mounted, well acted and fairly reveals in beautiful scenic backgrounds.

2. On the Mexican border. Lubin, 1000 feet long. This is a typical border drama, with the jealousy of a Mexican as the cause for a good deal of disturbance.

3. A Four Footed Pest. Vitagraph, 500 feet long. This is funny enough to make a horse laugh and sure enough, the horse does. It is all about a horse and the things he does which are quite human and most remarkable. You won't believe it until you see this picture.

4. The Statue Dog. Vitagraph, 500 feet long. An acting dog who does wonderful and surprising things that amuse and please.

5. Trained Falcon Catching Rabbits.

6. The Witch's Donkey. Farce comedy, hand colored.

The Pastime.

"The Merry Wives of Windsor." Selig, comedy drama. The story of Falstaff and his difficulties with Mistress Page and Mistress Ford. One of the most amusing of all Shakespeare's comedies. The picture is a satisfactory presentation of Falstaff's doings and we feel will be appreciated by any audience.

"The Maid of Magara." American, Pathe production. This picture is based upon the ancient legend of Niagara Falls and the annual sacrifice of the Iroquois of one of their most beautiful maidens to appease the Spirit of the Cataract. Nothing more awe-inspiring has ever been seen upon the screen than the sight of the Indian maiden in her canoe plunging over the falls.

"Lisbon Before and During the Revolution." Kosmik. A very interesting series of pictures showing scenes in Lisbon. Also Portuguese soldiers with King Manuel very much in evidence. Then there are striking views portraying King Manuel's visit to England last year with his welcome at Portsmouth. Another item of interest views taken at King Edward's funeral, showing King Manuel and the other eight kings. These in themselves are of much interest. Also views taken Friday, October 7, showing the change that has taken place at Lisbon. We see the huge crowds in the public squares, the barricades and the soldiers, the horses and the wounded. The whole film is brimming with interest and we anticipate we will all gain much from seeing this picture.

"Spanish Loyalty." Kosmik. Showing in detail the ceremony of allegiance to the flag of the Madrid garrison. The troops marching past the royal box. Queen Victoria and the royal family in the box.

The pastime the show of quality.

The population of Argentina was estimated to slightly exceed 7,000,000 on September 1, 1910. Rosario has now slightly over 200,000 people and La Plata 100,000. Tucuman and Cordoba have each over 75,000.
