Hockey.

The Yale-Cornell series of hockey games which begin at the Ice Palace in Chicago tonight, will bring hockey before the public almost for the first time as a regularly adopted game added to the menu of sports furnished by the big colleges of the country. Colleges of the middle west are eagerly adopting it.

Two Canadian Hockey teams, the Regimentals at Halifax and Xavier College, will visit Boston shortly for games with amateur sevens of that city. The Regimental team is composed of British Army officers stationed at Halifax.

The hockey season is well under way at Dartmouth. Seven veterans are obtainable but members of last year's freshmen are pushing them out. The "varsity" is lined up as follows: Captain, Eton S. Eaton; Wells and Stricklin, forwards; Luhman, coverpoint; Patten, point, and Morris, goal.

Boxing.

Herring may come and sardines may go, but Oscar Battling Nelson goes on forever. The Dane is now thinking of playing a condensed version of Hamlet in vaudeville. They want him to play Hamlet because his name is the Melancholy Dane—recently given.

Knockout Brown's hand has not mended as rapidly as expected and accordingly his bout with Tommy Murphy, slated for the Empire club, New York, on January 5, has been put back.

Johnny Falter is a fighter and a fighter's manager. Johnny took his pen in hand to say that he wants to fight anybody at 116 pounds and has a cousin he wants to match with some of the 95 pound fellows.

Big Jerry, who is known as George Ronklyn, has dug up a new "white hope" with a head of red hair. Jerry is some judge of a fighter, and his lately found wonder will have to be regarded seriously. The fellow is Frank Moran, who calls Pittsburg his home. Moran is but twenty-three years old and stands six feet. He weighs 185 pounds and looks the fighter. And he really is a high type of boxer, being intelligent and well versed in everything.

Packy McFarland is going back to New York next week and will stay there for a couple of months and try to remove some lightweight aspirants from his path. He'll get plenty of work to do. Packy still hopes to meet Abe Attell some day.

Tommy Houck is a Pennsylvania Dutchman and he likes it. His hobby is to boast of the prowess of the present crop of German fighters. Tommy, however, always begins the list with Tommy Houck.

"Lew" Powell is on the trail of "One Round" Hogan. Powell has worked well at Johnson's road house, and says that he will settle Hogan on the coast. His recent bout with "Jack" Goodman helped fit him for the fray.

Football.

The Haverford college eleven, Haverford, Pa., is winding up a western holiday tour.

Andy Brown, who played for the Philadelphia Hibernians last year, is now a member of the Glasgow Rangers A team, in Scotland. Andy became famous when he scored the winning goal when the Hibernians defeated the Pilgrims last season.

The Oak Park high school eleven of Chicago, is on the longest football trip ever taken by a preparatory school aggregation. The boys have gone as far west as Washington, and have been trying to establish a record for games played as well as for distance traveled. They leave Portland, Ore., for home tomorrow.

Baseball.

Although the Chicago White Sox finished last season low in percentage, there are many persons who figure that they will be a factor in next year's race. After the trade with Boston had strengthened their infield they played some remarkable ball, and all their new players got experience which will undoubtedly be of great value to them this year.

Shortstops seem to be signing long contracts. First the Yankees got Jack Knight's signature to a contract calling for three years' service, and now the Phillies have signed Mike Doolan for the same length of time.

Tom Daly is again an employe of an American league club. Charles Somers, vice-president of the league and head of the Cleveland club, has engaged the former infielder as a scout for the Naps. Associated with Daly will be Bobby Gilks and Sam Kennedy.

"Bugs" Raymond is a wonder for training in winter and taking on weight in summer. Hard work agrees with him but baseball does not. Every spring he shows up as lithe as a grayhound because he works at his trade as a stereotypist during the winter. He is in fine condition now.

Billy Gilbert, who is to manage the Erie team of the Ohio and Pennsylvania league is hustling for players. "Gill" has already rounded up the nucleus of a good team. Among those corralled by Gilbert is Catcher Murray of Baltimore.

Fans can not seem to get over John E. Bruce's blarney. Bruce recently stated that in 700 cases heard by the national commission, the players told the absolute truth in all but two instances. What players stretched it a bit he does not say. It reflects a heap of credit on the professional ball player, however, and is a source of gratification to the Americans who have always glorified the honesty of the national pastime, in all its branches, etc.

NEWS AND NOTES OF LABOR

The Orpheum.

1. "Pals." Melies, 1000 feet long. There is something of the real sort about this picture that makes us feel the strength of real friendship and the vilness of enemies. It is altogether a fine and dandy picture.

2. "The Widow of Mill Creek Flat." Selig, 1000 feet long. To be married or not to be, that is the question—or is there more real happiness in connubial bliss than single blessedness? This remains for you to judge after seeing how Sandy, a miner in a western placer camp, allows the ship of state to founder on the rocks of domestic unrest.

3. "The Tie That Binds." Essanay, 1000 feet long. A full reel of comedy drama with a strong appeal to every heart. The story is dramatic, but there are many little touches of comedy which arouse hearty laughter.

The Pastime.

"A Child's Stratagem." Biograph drama. A story of unreasonable jealousy on the part of a wife who imagines her husband is devoting too much attention to other women. How the little one prevents a domestic disaster is interesting to say the least. Without any semblance of dramatic crisis, the picture tells a story that can be duplicated often enough to appear real to a number in most any audience consequently it will prove attractive.

"A Western Woman's Way." Essanay drama. Big Bill Todd, a worthless wanderer from Dead Horse camp falls in with Dick Broadhurst a young miner. He arouses the sympathy of Broadhurst who takes him home, feeds him and gives him work, in return for his kindness he robs his benefactor, and is making a getaway when Mrs. Broadhurst acts with characteristic western expediency. Seizing a gun she starts in pursuit and it is an exciting finish.

"Who is Nellie." Pathe comedy. A story of injustice done an innocent man.

"Falls of the Imatra, Finland." Pathe scenic. A colored picture showing this little known rapids and falls. The mechanical work has been done well and the audience becomes most enthusiastic over the different effects obtained.

At the Cosy.

"In the Gray of the Dawn." A soul stirring drama that will keep your interest every second. Passion, love and sorrow so that you can hear a pin drop.

"Solving the Bond Hest." A melodrama of crookedness, wrong and great detective work. Something doing every minute.

"The Lock-keeper." The great mechanical reproduction. See the canal, the locks, the great life saving act. Illustrated song, "What's the Matter with Father?"

Two Tenders Received for Monopoly Vice Consul General George E. Holt, of Tangier, reports that only two tenders for the tobacco monopoly in Morocco were received by the committee of awards, one from M. Albert Weil, representing the Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas, and the other from M. Henry Burnay, representing a group of bankers of Lisbon, Portugal.

It were not best that we should all think alike; it is difference of opinion that makes horse races.

a "history" of their differences printed and these are being sent to every union in the country.

Failure to settle the matter at St. Louis has not had the effect of discouraging the American Federation of Labor officers who have planned another meeting to consider plans for arranging a meeting with a view to effecting consolidation. As a result of the movement on the Pacific Coast the locals there have entered into a compact which has restored temporary peace. There they are working together almost solidly, and say they will not give up their efforts to bring about the results they desire.

After a fight of over seven months the strike of the machinists on the Missouri Pacific has been settled. About 900 men are affected, in addition to boilermakers and blacksmiths who struck at the same time and participate in the gains made by the settlement. The fight was brought about by failure of the machinists to secure shop conditions they desired. Extra pay for overtime also was in controversy. The contest was a lively one, but the end brought a perfect understanding and a satisfactory arrangement which will enable the workmen and the company officials to work together in harmony. The machinists have one other big strike on at present, on the Baltimore & Ohio and its extensions, where 1200 men are out. This controversy is of long standing and there seems no immediate prospect of a settlement.

The American Federation of Labor is also backing the special committee of fifty appointed to assist in the working of drafting laws to be submitted to the Minnesota legislature for the benefit of the working man. Objection to any act which contemplates assessing the wages of workmen, will be most emphatic.

As a result of the hard work done by their leaders, the telephone operators on the Pennsylvania railroad who handle train orders, or messages or report trains by telephone in lieu of the telegraph, are now given equal rights with the telegraph operators, based upon the time of their entering the service, either as a telegraph or telephone operator.

In the present law of the state of Minnesota, provision is made that where there is any doubt of the age of a child that the employer shall be given ten days in which to furnish either an affidavit, sworn to by the parents, or a transcript of the birth records. Failure to furnish such evidence of age is prima facie evidence of the guilt of the employer. The labor unions of the state propose to have this section killed during the present session and one substituted which will place the burden of the proof upon the state inspectors. This will permit immediate action.

Hope that peace would be restored among the warring elements of the electrical workers through the efforts of the American Federation of Labor and the San Francisco locals, which took the initiative in a movement for consolidation of the different factions, seems to have been dissipated. In fact the fight is now more bitter than ever, and both internationals have had

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS OF THE WORLD

The history, organization and management of government postal savings banks in foreign countries is the subject of an exhaustive monograph just issued by the National Monetary Commission. Not only is the English system with its deposits of nearly a billion dollars explained, but its growth in continental Europe, in Asia and in Africa is shown. Although the postal savings bank was established in the Philippines in 1906, the deposits there are already nearly a million dollars. Many consular officers have contributed to this book, which may be obtained for 25 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.
