Five Generations Living.
Prescott, Wash.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Dice, two miles east of Prescott, has five generations living beneath the same roof. The family consists of Mrs. Gartman, age 97, and her daughter Mrs. Spanenberg, who have made their home for several years with the granddaughter and daughter, Mrs. Dice.
The generations are completed by the son of Mrs. Dice, William, the father of a baby daughter.

Rush Work on Power Line.
Pasco, Wash.—The Pacific Power and Light company will employ big crews on lines from Kennewick to Hanford, Hanford to Priest Rapids and Priest Rapids to Beverly. The line from North Yakima to Moxie is expected to be completed early this spring. In addition to these lines the power company is beginning the construction of about 100 miles of subsidiary lines. At least 100 cars of material are on the road from the east.

Draws Gun on Husband.
Spokane.—Wrought, she says, to a high nervous pitch by the fear that her husband, a salesman, was planning to leave town with another woman, Mrs. A. Walker is alleged by the police to have attempted to shoot her husband Sunday night at Riverside avenue and Post street at 7:30 o'clock, throwing the Sunday night crowd of theatergoers into a panic before Officer Markwood wrested a tiny pearl-handled revolver from her hand. Before being placed under arrest, the police say, the husband scuffled with his wife. Both were booked for disorderly conduct and held without bonds.

Booze Like White Elephant.
Coville, Wash.—Sheriff William Miller is in a quandary about what to do with 15 barrels of bottled beer seized in a "blind pig" raid at Marcus last week. The goods are to be used in evidence in the trial of four defendants. He had difficulty in getting even a temporary place for safekeeping of the goods, the fear being that the housing of such provender in any private place would subject the keeper to a penalty, the theory being advanced that the court house of the county jail was the only place where contraband goods should be stored. If possible the Marcus booze cases will be heard at the present jury session.

"SILVER THREADS."
Beautiful Drama of New England Life Coming to Pendleton.
"Silver Threads," beautiful drama of New England life in which Mr. Richard J. Jose, the famous contra-tenor will appear as Uncle Ben Laurie, the village blacksmith, will be the attraction at the Oregon theater on January 19. Mr. Jose will make his reappearance in his city after a sojourn of years on the stage, always ranking among the world's greatest contra-tenors. And it will indeed be a delight to the present generation of theater-goers that Mr. Jose still retains a voice so rich in quality and of such marvelous range that the audience may rest assured of hearing the same sweet singer as in the days when he was a feature with Primrose & West, Dockstader, Haverly and other famous minstrel organizations of the country.
"Silver Threads" tells the story of a young New England country girl who is sent to Boston to finish her education in music. While there, ignorant of the ways of the world, she comes under the influence of a young author who is the cause of her parental roof upon her return, she goes to Paris and there becomes a noted singer. Ten years elapse and she returns home under an assumed name just in time to prevent a younger sister from treading the path she unwittingly followed some years before. Through the coaxing of Uncle Ben (Mr. Jose) she again finds a warm spot in her father's heart and all ends happily.

Mr. Jose will sing during the action of the play "Daddy," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." The piece in its entirety is one of the most entertaining plays of the kind ever presented here, and it is reasonably certain that it will repeat in this city the same success it has achieved elsewhere this season.
