CONGRESSMAN ELLIS

Money Will Be Provided and All Arrangements Made Before Final Surveys Are Completed.

Further substantiation of the report that the government contemplates apportioning the necessary money for the undertaking of the west Umatilla project in the near future was received this morning by Dr. C. J. Smith, chairman of the committee on the reclamaion project from the Pendleter from Congressman W. R. Ellis. In this communication, the representative from this district dectares Director Newell has infemed him that the government would undoubtedly provide for the carrying on of the work before the final surveys are completed, which work he estimates will require six months time.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 12, 1911. Hon. Charles J. Smith, Pendleton, Oregon.

HARMON AND HARMONY.

(Continued from page one.) that we would elect a majority of the house in the sixty-second congress, our majority would have been 150 instead of 65. Many democrats were as much astonished as were the repub-licans at the results on the eighth of November. Now they realize that we have more than an even chance of sweeping the country from sea to sea in 1912. This glorious result can be accomplished by the very simple process of carrying out religiously the promises which we made in order to win last November and that is the only way known among men of achleving success. The people deserve to be treated honestly and fairly. Even if we were not disposed to re-deem our promises as a matter of principle, when we look upon the wreck of the republican party we have a most valuable object lesson of the low estate to which a great organization may fall by a fallure to live up to its promises.

"It has been generally stated in the public press that this meeting is for the purpose of securing harmony among the democrats. That is not true for harmony already exists among democrats and this meeting is for was up for a similar offense yesterday the purpose of maintaining rather than securing harmony.

It took the jury in the case of Barnes vs. Brown only twenty min-utes to reach a verdict in favor of the plaintiff yesterday afternoon and by which the sale of a printing press was involved, the plaintiff alleging that he paid $275 to E.
