KINSMAN REVEALS LOST GIANT'S PAST

SIDEGLIGHT THROWN ON SPECTACULAR LIFE OF PLESS

Kaiser Was His Friend—Bellingham Man Who Mysteriously Disappeared Formerly Lived in Germany, From Where He Also Vanished.

East Oregonian readers will remember the interest that was aroused in Pendleton and Umatilla county nearly two years ago by the announcement that the body of Curt Pless, a mysterious giant and prominent business man of Bellingham, Washington, had been found in a rude box on the bank of the Columbia river, north of this city. It will also be remembered that relatives finally decided the body found was that of some other giant.

To those who followed the details of the case at that time the following will contain much of interest:

Olympia, Wash., Jan. 16.—"The building up of cities in a short time is not confined to Washington nor to the United States," said Gustav Vollmer, representative from Walla Walla in discussing the reapportionment question. "My fourth cousin, Carl Pritschau, who went by the name of Curt Pless in Bellingham, built up a town in Germany from 200 to 20,000 people in a few short years, and then when pressed financially disappeared. He did the same thing in Bellingham, I understand."

When Representative Vollmer made that statement he threw the first light that has been given on the mystery of the past of Curt Pless, the Bellingham business man who disappeared from that city in December, 1908, and who since has not been heard from. The big German stood seven feet four inches in his stocking feet; could heave a sack of grain from the sidewalk onto the top of a loaded dray or handle a bale of hay himself. That such a man who was conspicuous in a crowd of 5000 persons could disappear is what baffled the Bellingham police.

Pritschau Was a Soldier.

Mr. Vollmer says that he practically grew up with Carl Pritschau, who afterwards became Curt Pless. He did not see Pless from the time Pless was 19 years old; that was in 1889, when he left him in the little town of Benrath in Rhine province.

Then Carl went into the army to serve out his time as a soldier of the Kaiser of Germany. The big fellow soon attained a nation-wide fame, for he was the "longest man" in the German army, as Mr. Vollmer says. So good-natured and affable was he that he was selected as swimming instructor for the children of the emperor.

Later when his time was up he engaged in the feedmill business and prospered in a small way. One time while Carl was making a trip to the North Sea on a big boat, the emperor's yacht passed by and finally came to anchor. The Kaiser through his glasses observed his former soldier and sent a messenger for him. He greeted the young man kindly and made inquiries concerning him and his welfare, and asked about his business. The swimming master told him how he was getting along.

Not long afterwards he began to get orders from the German army for feed and his little mill had to be enlarged. Bigger and bigger grew the orders and Carl's mill had to be increased in capacity the second time, and then a third, while he began buying his supplies in car and then train lots.

Emperor Made Him Rich.

He grew more and more wealthy and then took a big plunge in land. He bought up several hundred acres of property near a small town and then set out a great advertising scheme. He erected houses at various places in his township, and on the strength of these induced others to buy. His own was advertised all over Germany and as far as Paris and Rome.

Finally he began to get returns and he grew more wealthy than ever before. But there came a tightening of money. He needed cash, but refused to ask for aid and then suddenly vanished. The bankers sought to find him to straighten him out; the people of the city are considering erecting a monument in his honor, but Pless is somewhere in the wide world where none of his friends, nor even his wife, can locate him.

Mr. Vollmer states that he knows little of his history with any degree of accuracy after he left Germany, as all after that was hearsay. Carl, he declares, was always a "high roller," a man who would take a chance and a person who liked to spend his money. He does not think woman caused his troubles in Germany any more than they did in Bellingham. Mr. Vollmer did not even know until recently that Pless was married and he has never met the wife.

He Identifies Curt Pless.

It was while Pless was in Belling-

Health For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Coloma, Wisconsin. — "For three years I was troubled with female weakness, irregularities, backache and bearing down pains. I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking several bottles I found it was helping me, and I must say that I am perfectly well now and can not thank you enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me." — Mrs. John Wentland, R. F. D., No. 3, Box 60, Coloma, Wisconsin.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

SURELY BREAKS THE MOST SEVERE COLD

HOW TO END A COLD OR GRIPPE IN A FEW HOURS

The most severe cold will be broken, and all gripe misery ended after taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

You will distinctly feel all the disagreeable symptoms leaving after the very first dose.

The most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, running of the nose, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness, rheumatism pains and other distress vanishes.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than $50,000 and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe.

Take his harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end gripe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

Solidified Gasoline Invention. Consul Albert Halstead sends from Birmingham a press description of a chemist's invention for converting gasoline or petrol into a stiff, white jelly. It is effected by adding 1-3-4 per cent of stearite and alcohol. A high-powered automobile recently made long trips in England successfully using the new jelly, for which the inventor claims an economy of 80 per cent. The press notice is on file for inspection at the Bureau of Manufactures.

It is reported that the sum to be spent in Japanese naval expansion has been definitely fixed at $40,000,000 gold, to be distributed over a period of five years.

OLDEST APPLE TREE ON COAST FOUND

A. A. Quarnberg, district fruit inspector, discovered and identified the oldest apple tree on the Pacific coast recently and Colonel McGunagle of Vancouver Barracks, Wash., commander of the post, has ordered that a fence be constructed around the aged fruit bearer. In the near future a tablet bearing its history will be erected near the tree. The tree was planted years ago by early officers of the Hudson Bay company from seeds carried in their pockets from England. Mr. Quarnberg believes the tree to be about 85 years old. A passage in a history of the early settlers has the following to say concerning the origin of the tree: "A lunch party in London about 1825, given in honor of some young gentlemen who were about to embark for Fort Vancouver in the employ of the Hudson Bay company, seeds of the fruit eaten were slyly slipped by some young ladies into the waistcoat pockets of the young men, and upon their arrival at their destination the young men, in overhauling their wardrobes discovered the seeds and gave them to Bruce, the gardener at the fort."

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.
