Shippers of sheep should keep their stuff off the Portland market at this time because there is an entire absence of demand at anything that resembled adequate values.

Killers can be induced to purchase sheep but they are not anxious even at lower values. A number of loads that came forward yesterday could not be sold and were still offering in the yards this morning and another load—the only livestock offering for the day—was added to the accumulation.

Some of the cattle carried over from yesterday were sold this morning and that branch of the trade remains quite good with as high as $6.25 offering.

Easley Bros., shipped the only stock forward for today's market. This consisted of a load of sheep from Creswell, Ore. The United States army had three loads of horses resting in the yards today. They came from San Francisco.

Today's run of livestock compares with this day in recent years as follows:

Hogs, Cattle, Sheep.

1910	533
1909	283

1907	75

1905	250

A year ago today there was a firm tone in all lines of livestock with steers 15c higher at $5.50.

Chicago Wheat Lower. Strength at Opening Soon Gives Way to Extreme Weakness in Pit.

Opening values were 1-4c lower for the May and 3-8c higher each for the July and September options. Strength abroad gave the late deliveries the good opening here but the market rapidly drifted into extreme weakness and dullness.

UNIVERSITY WANTS APPROPRIATION

GROWTH OF SCHOOL SHOWN BY REPORT

No New Buildings Have Been Erected in Four Years—Increased Attendance Makes More Buildings Necessary.

(Special Correspondence.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Jan. 21.—The budget of expenses for the next biennial term of 1911-1912 for the University of Oregon has just been prepared by President Campbell and with a few minor changes has been presented to the legislature by the board of regents. This budget asks for a special appropriation of $409,418.92 in addition to the continuing appropriation of $125,000, which was voted four years ago. Since then, no new buildings, or extensions of any sort have been made to the University campus, and the need of better facilities is felt to be imperative, as the University's growth has been phenomenal.

The report of the president shows that in the last four years the gain in enrollment in all departments has been over 165 per cent, or not taking account of the new departments which have been added during the last four years, the growth has been 108 per cent. The growth in the college of literature, sciences, arts and engineering has been 93 per cent, or almost double that of four years ago. The total registration in all collegiate departments totaled 1414 January first, including duplicates.

The report shows that the cost of education, per student, to the state amounts to $188.70 per year at the University of Oregon, which is considered very low when compared to the Carnegie board's estimate of $255 per student per year in the average American university. This is greatly due to the fact that classes are overcrowded at the state university and that salaries are low.

The budget provides for maintenance and new instructors, $42,000; correspondence school, $10,000; summer school, $6,000; books for the library, $20,000; addition to the dormitory, $10,000; paving streets adjacent to campus, $24,418.92 (ordered by the city); Completing men's gymnasium and installing swimming pool $5,000; removal of athletic field to new site, present site to be used for new buildings, $10,000; laboratory apparatus for all departments $30,000; additions to power house and electric engineering building, $15,000; university printing plant, $8,000; land, $15,000; new administration and commonwealth building, including furniture, fixtures and extending heating plant, $175,000; medical school expenses, $60,000; divided as follows: New building, $30,000; apparatus, $10,000; maintenance, $20,000; total $409,418.92.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON SHOWS GOOD GROWTH

The report of the president of the board of regents of the University of Oregon shows a great growth in the institution in the last four years. A total gain of 165 per cent, not including the new departments added within this four year period, a gain of 108 per cent, and a gain of 93 per cent in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, and the College of Engineering.

The total enrollment of the University up to January 14 of the present year is 1,414, exclusive of duplicates. The Collegiate departments at Eugene show 729; the School of Law, Portland, 178; the School of Medicine, Eugene, 192; the Correspondence Study department, 313 in the state at large.

Thirty of the thirty-two counties of the state are represented in the University, and nineteen states and foreign countries.—U. of O. Bulletin.
