Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Justice of Peace Back.
Justice of the Peace Joe H. Parkes has returned from California where he has been for the past two weeks on a pleasure trip.

Smythe Is Still Ill.
Dan P. Smythe was reported this forenoon as recovering from the illness with which he has been confined for several days. However this afternoon his condition was reported as being worse. He has been suffering from an old stomach trouble.

Indians Return From Lapwal.
Parsons Montanic, James Dickson, Amos Pond, Luke Minthorn and wife and about twenty other Indians belonging to the Tutuilla mission returned on the Northern Pacific train this morning from Lapwal, Idaho, where they had been to assist in the religious meetings being held at that place. They report that great success attended the meetings.

Averill's Chickens Win.
Edgar F. Averill, telegraph editor of the East Oregonian, left this morning for Walla Walla to attend the big poultry show which is being held at that city. He has had on exhibit a pen of his fine Buff Orpington chickens and on these he was awarded first, second and third ribbons on hens, third on cockerel, and second on pens.

Body Is Shipped East.
The body of William H. Lyman, who died while hurrying from his home in Oakland, Cal., on the bedside of his dying son, C. R. Lyman, was shipped last night to Springfield, Ill., where it will be interred. Short funeral services were held at the Folsom undertaking parlors yesterday and local members of the G. A. R. escorted the body to the train.

Snyder Music Store.
C. H. Snyder, late of Medford, Oregon, is now in the city and is preparing to open the Snyder music store in the location formerly occupied by the Eilers Piano house. It is Mr. Snyder's intention to carry a good line of graphophones, music and probably pianos. Until recently he was in business in Medford and sold out his establishment there in order to move to Pendleton. He will open a store here at once and will carry a large stock and make an aggressive bid for business.

Greek Dies at Hospital.
One of the Greeks who have been brought in from the railroad camps to St. Anthony's hospital suffering from typhoid fever, died during a hemorrhage at that institution last night. He had only been there for a few days and was in a very precarious condition when brought in. He was unable to speak a word of English and so little is known of him. The body will be buried in the countrymen.

Engineer Murphy to Salem.
In response to instructions from State Treasurer Kay Captain Charles E. Murphy, the engineer who has been here examining the branch asylum sites, left last night for the capital city. Captain Murphy had been instructed to remain here and show the legislative committee over the sites. However the action of the committee in deferring the trip for a week caused his return to Salem. During the coming week Captain Murphy will lay such information as he has before the members of the state board and legislators.

High School Boys are Defeated.
The second basketball team of the local high school returned on the motor car this morning from Echo where they received a defeat last night at the hands of the Echo team. The score was 25 to 22 indicating a close contest. The boys feel that they have the better team but were handicapped by the small hall and close proximity of the baskets to the rafters. Following is the line-up of the Pendleton team: Fee, center; Finnell and McDonald, guards; Hampton and Strain forwards. Houser accompanied the team as official.

Buys Hotel at Hermiston.
Charles E. Bean, who for the past few days has identified himself with Lee Teutsch in the real estate business in this city, yesterday completed negotiations whereby he became the owner of the Oregon Hotel at Hermiston and he left this morning to take possession. The property was purchased from J. E. Reeves but the consideration is not made public. Hermiston people are congratulating themselves upon the advent of such a reputable business man as Mr. Bean into their midst and Mr. Bean is much pleased with the prospects which confront him in the project town. The hotel is a structure containing 33 rooms and is a well known and popular stopping place.

Got Too Close to Stove
It was a crisp morning this morning and the fire in the stove felt good to Tom Ayers, president of the Tailman Drug company, so good in fact that he backed up quite close to the warmth, giving a slight smile as he felt the coursing blood thaw out his numbness. But alas for the satisfaction that is brought. Soon the smell of burning cloth overcame the odor of drugs in the store and Mr. Ayers awoke from his dreamy contemplation to discover that his raiment had become ignited and that the flames were playing up and down his back. A volunteer fire department soon extinguished the incipient blaze but not before it given Mr. Ayers' near business suit sad appearance, and that gentleman was forced to duck down a back street to his home and secure a change of apparel.

GAME WARDEN ESTES AFTER DEER KILLERS

FOUND FIVE CARCASSES ON JOHN DAY BRAKES

Martin Martin and Jeff Kirk Must Answer to Grand Jury—Too Many Violations in Southern Country Says Estes.

Deputy Game Warden Jim Estes is demonstrating that he takes the duties of his office seriously and that he has every intention of protecting the wild game from slaughter out of season. Recently he captured eight Greeks in camp near Meacham with the carcass of a deer and yesterday he returned from one of the brakes of the John Day where he found the carcasses of five deer hung up in camp. Earl Martin was the only man in possession, but he confessed that his brother, Marion Martin and Jeff Kirk were implicated in the violation of the game law. They were at that time absent but young Martin gave the warden every assurance that they would answer to the charge when summoned, and, as they are all well known ranchers of that country, Estes returned without them. He has placed his evidence before the grand jury and indictments will undoubtedly be returned.

Estes says that the people out in that section of the country are the worst violators of the game laws in the state. He says on account of the nature of the land, a great many deer hibernate there annually where they are easy marks for the lawless hunters. But the new deputy is determined to put a stop to this ruthless slaughter and will watch the dwellers of that section of the county with an eagle eye.

W. H. McMonies, the well known Portland harness and saddle man, was in the city yesterday visiting his partner who is a member of the firm of Hamey & company and left last night for Walla Walla to transact business.
