IS PROF. MARTIN GOING STILL GOING?

BUSINESS MEN ARE ANXIOUS FOR ANSWER

The Professor Collects Money For Balloon Ascension and Parachute Jump then "Fades Away."

Has anybody here seen Prof. Martin Going, world's renowned balloon ascensionist, or is that individual true to the name he bears and "going some" to put Pendleton as far in his rear as he possibly can? This is the question of the day and one that a number of the city's merchants would like exceedingly well to have answered. For it appears that they made up a purse at his solicitation in order to secure a grand ascension act but that instead they provided him with the means of doing the grand "fade away stunt."

Some time during the early part of the week a stranger blew into the city and announced himself as Prof. Martin Going, celebrated for his numerous and daring excursions into the upper ozone. He represented to many of the business men that he was "down on his luck" and industriously circulated a paper for a fund sufficient to induce him to risk life and limb to startle the natives with a triple parachute balloon ascension. He secured a large number of signatures for sums ranging from one to three dollars and then proceeded to attempt collections in advance, pleading that he needed the money to make his preparations. To give his little game more of a bona fide appearance he arranging to give a thirty day ticket to the Cozy theater to the first person who would reach a dummy which he intended to drop from his balloon and the theater in question threw the announcement of this offer on its screens for one night.

Some of the subscribers to his fund advanced their money and it is said that Mr. Going succeeded in getting together about sixty dollars by this method. The last seen of him he was moving in the direction of the depot late Tuesday night and the consensus of opinion is that he "silently folded up his tent and stole away into the night."

At any rate the ascension which was scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon did not take place and the benevolent contributors to the aviation fund are sadly admitting that they are "fall guys."

attention, and also recommend that the general supplies be bought by contract after first advertising for bids.

We visited the several county offices in the court house and so far as we are able to determine we find them kept in a very neat, systematic and business like manner, but in this connection we would recommend that the county court investigate, as it has been called to our attention that the loose leaf system would not only be a saving of labor but also in expenses if introduced in the county offices, and we would recommend that the county court investigate this in connection with the county offices and if they deem it so best, to install the same.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

New Deputy at Work.

Roland Oliver today began his duties as deputy in the office of County Recorder Burroughs and W. C. E. Pruitt has returned to his work in the county clerk's office.

Basketball Game Postponed.

The basketball game scheduled for tonight between the Commercial team and the All Stars has been postponed until Monday night on account of the absence of several of the latter from the city.

Crockett Is Alternate.

In the debate tryout held at the University of Oregon Tuesday night, Peter Crockett, leader of the Pendleton high school team last year, was selected as alternate for the team which is to debate the University of Washington this year.

Hand is Infected Again.

Ernest Knight, the young Helix rancher, who just returned the first of the week from Hot Lake where he had been receiving treatment for blood poisoning in his left hand, will leave for that sanitarium again tonight as the wound, which had almost completely healed, has become again infected and is swelling rapidly.

Likes the Woolly West.

M. E. Malone, traveling representative for the Canadian Pacific, has been in the city today and says that he has been enjoying his brief sojourn here. Mr. Malone is an easterner and this is the first time he has been further west than St. Paul. He took much interest in the Indians he saw upon the local streets today.

No Women Passengers.

According to the auditor on the incoming local last evening, that train traveled all the way from Heppner Junction to Pendleton, a distance of 75 miles, without having a single lady passenger aboard, which he considers a very extraordinary experience. He also declares that passenger travel is unusually light for this time of the year.

A Phonograph Recital.

The Snyder Music company made its formal bow to the public last evening when it gave a phonograph recital at its place of business on Main street. A large number of people gathered to hear the latest Caruso, Tetravina and other famous singer's records. The new company will receive a Victoria in a few days and a large assortment of Red Seal records and will then give another recital.

Does Anybody Know Him?

James Cooper, manager of the Pendleton Hotel, is in receipt of a letter from Miss Mabel Jantse of 1387 Jefferson avenue, East, Detroit, Mich., asking for information concerning the whereabouts of her brother, Robert Neall, who was last heard of in this section of the country. Anybody knowing anything concerning him will confer a favor by sending the information to the young lady.

Legislators Here Tomorrow.

Tomorrow morning the members of the legislative committee named to inspect the branch asylum sites will arrive in Pendleton. According to information received this morning by President Thompson of the Commercial club the committee will bring an engineer with them. The members of the committee are Senators Chase and Bean and Representatives Bryant, Bonebrake and Mann. Upon their arrival here the committee will be shown over the asylum sites and at noon will be entertained at luncheon by the Commercial club managers.

Carload of Settlers to Hermiston.

Hermiston people in the city today bring the news of a carload of settlers which arrived during the fore part of the week to get lands under the project. About thirty families under the leadership of C. L. Morgan, the well known colonizer, were in the party, and, according to all information, all purchased land, having brought their household effects and farm equipment with them. Their chief difficulty now is in securing houses in which to live temporarily, for every available dwelling in Hermiston was full before they arrived. However, some have gone to the hotels, others have moved into vacant store buildings and all are busy buying lumber and teams, preparatory to erecting their own houses and developing the land.

Reno Was Ex-Convict.

William Reno, the man who was yesterday convicted of sodomy and sentenced to two and one-half years in the penitentiary, will not be thrown into strange quarters when he is taken to Salem, for it appears he has a prison record behind him. From a letter received by Chief of Police Gurdane, the man evidently has friends in New York but they were under the impression that he was indicted on a charge of burglary. When taken from the court room yesterday, after sentence had been passed upon him, Reno turned toward Marshal Stevens of Umatilla, who had been one of the principal witnesses of the state against him, and cursed him fiercely. The man has proved himself to be a vicious character and the community is well rid of him.

Fire Loss Is Paid.

The Horticultural Fire Relief of Salem scored yesterday by being first on the ground to adjust the Despain & Bonney fire loss and paying cash as soon as the loss was determined. This company is represented here by Coult's & Hays.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON ASKS FOR HALF MILLION

Salem, Or., Jan. 26.—Appropriation bills providing money for buildings and improvements, for salaries and maintenance for the University of Oregon, have made their appearance in the house. They were presented by the Lane county delegation, one providing for an appropriation of $340,258.92 and the other for an appropriation of $175,000.

The University of Oregon desires two new buildings, each to cost $175,000. One provided for by house bill No. 210 is to be an administration and commonwealth building, and the other, provided for in house bill 211, is described as a modern fireproof library and museum building. The appropriations for these buildings include their furnishings and extending heating plant to them.

The remainder of the appropriation or $166,258.92 is for the acquisition of additional lands, equipment and apparatus, making repairs and additions and improvements to buildings and grounds, paying salaries to instructors and employees and assessments for street improvement and for the maintenance of the correspondence study department of the summer school.

INJURED GUARDSMAN WANTS BILLS PAID

Salem, Or., Jan. 26.—Representative Ira Powell of Polk county has introduced a bill in the house proposing to reimburse George Nessling of Dallas in the sum of $1741.15, doctor's fees and nurse's bill, because of injuries received at Dallas while detailed in a target pit at the rifle practice of company H, Fourth regiment, Oregon national guard. Nessling was ordered into the rifle pit to aid in operating the targets, where he was struck by a glancing bullet, making it necessary to remove about two inches of the bone from his leg.

Representative Eaton of Lane has introduced a measure prohibiting any person or corporation from constructing railroad crossings at grade unless permission shall first have been obtained from the railroad commission. This measure was recommended as a precaution for the safety of the traveling public by the railroad commission in its last biennial report.

CHICKENS BRING CASH TO LEBANON WOMAN

Lebanon, Ore., Jan. 26.—Mrs. J. S. Northrop, who lives in the southern part of the city, is among those who are making money off their chickens. Last year Mrs. Northrop started with 26 hens and two roosters, all full blood S. C. Buff Orpingtons, and during the year these 3 hens laid 8404 eggs. Two pullets were trapped and one of them laid 220 eggs, and the other 237 during the year. At the end of the year Mrs. Northrop sold stock and eggs to the amount of $175.80 and consumed at home in stock and eggs the amount of about $30, making a total of $205.80 for the year, and she paid expenses amounting to $51, making a total profit for the year of $154.80, and has left 40 hens and three roosters.

During the year past Mrs. Northrop has won several prizes, which has advertised her birds considerably, and she expects her profits to be greater than last year. She has orders ahead for 700 eggs at $19 per 1000, and for nine single settings at $2.50 each.

UREN'S BILL NO. 91 TO BE LOST

Salem, Ore., Jan. 26.—Another one of the measures fathered by W. S. U'ren and submitted to the house appears fated to defeat because of the single tax theory attached to it. There will be an adverse report from the committee on assessment and taxation on house bill No. 91, although there may be also a minority report favoring it.

Gill of Wasco, Powell of Polk, and Chamberlain of Lincoln are opposed to the proposal made in the bill while Libby of Marion and Carter of Clackamas have leanings toward it. The opposition of the measure say that there is little in it that is new, but that it merely reinforces laws now on the statute books which provide that land and actual improvements, such as clearings, drainage, ditches, must be assessed separately.

MYSTERIOUS DELAY IN BALLINGER REPORTS

Washington, Jan. 26.—The alleged mysterious delay in sending the reports of the Ballinger-Pinchot report to a regular committee is to be investigated, according to an order of the house rules committee today. Congressman Hitchcock of Nebraska presented a resolution demanding that the rules committee investigate the delay and find out whether the reports had been presented to the house December 7 and reached the agricultural committee yesterday.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Democracy's Pride Started Life With A Plutocratic Monaker.

Champ Clark was born a politician; but, being very young at the time, he didn't know it. His parents were not politicians; and, therefore, they did not realize the terrible handicap they were imposing on his career when they christened him.

If his father and mother had had their way about it, the man who will be speaker of the next house of representatives would have had his visiting cards engraved thus:

Mr. J. Beauchamp Clark.
Which is equivalent to saying that he would never have been speaker. Who can conceive a democratic speaker with such a name as that?

With an unfriendly intent, but with rigid purpose of exposing the truth, it must be written here and now that the man who has become parliamentary leader of the democracy is named James Beauchamp Clark. His middle name is pronounced as if it were spelled "Beecham," but no orthographic art can conceal the patent fact that it is a name meet for plutocracy, not democracy.—The Munsey.

The boys will play tonight at La Grande, tomorrow night at Baker and Saturday night at Union, returning home Sunday.

The following is the lineup of the team: Houser, center; Boyien and Chapman, forwards; A. Jordan and C. Jordan, guards; Hampton and McDonald, substitutes. Supt. J. S. Landers accompanied the boys as also did Nat Kimball, who will act as referee in the games.
