Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 27.—Practically acquitted, Mrs. Schenk will probably be released on bail tomorrow. Eleven favored her acquittal and the jury disagreed. The case was locked until the next term. William is Fifty-Two.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—A fanfare of trumpets and the singing of a hymn by the castle choir "awakened" Emperor William this morning to the celebration of his fifty-second birthday. From time immortal the Prussian rulers have thus been aroused from their slumbers at 8 o'clock on the morning of their annual anniversaries. As the present Kaiser is an early riser, he was awakened long before the trumpeters blew their blasts and the sweet singers burst forth in praise of their ruler—and Gott.

Why Pile Sufferers So Often Fail to Get Relief.

Science is getting to the bottom of everything, including the cause and cure of piles. The brightest doctors now admit that piles are caused internally and can be cured only by internal treatment. COURT AND JURY TAKING A REST

JURORS MAY BE CALLED AGAIN SOON

Several Cases May be Disposed of Before April Term of Court—Prisoners in Jail Will be Sentenced Soon.

After more than two weeks of grinding, the district mill of justice is again silent to allow the accumulation of another grist. Circuit Judge Phelps has forsaken the bench for the easy chair in his office, District Attorney Van Vactor has gone to his home in Heppner, and both the trial and grand juries have been dismissed until their services are again needed.

However, it is very probable that both of these juries will be summoned again within a month, although the next regular term of court does not convene until April. Nevertheless, both Judge Phelps and District Attorney Van Vactor are desirous of cleaning up the docket of the cases which have been hanging fire for some time so that the April term can be started free from these encumbrances.

There are still a number of prisoners in the county jail who have pleaded guilty to various crimes and they will receive their sentences before any great lapse of time.

Jury is Disagreed.

After being out eighteen hours, the jury in the case of Ralph Newman of Milton, charged with assaulting Marshal Propeck, of that town, asked the court to discharge them as they were hopelessly disagreed. This was done and the case will probably come up for another trial at the next session.

SURETY CONCERNS MAY BE EXAMINED

Salem, Ore., Jan. 27.—Representative James Ambrose of Multnomah believes that there are some surety companies doing business in Oregon which are not qualified to meet the possible demands which might be made upon them, and declares they should be excluded from the state. He introduced a resolution yesterday providing for a joint committee of three from the house and two from the senate to investigate the records of the state insurance commission.

"I first heard of this subject when some insurance men were joking about it," said Ambrose today. "It at once struck me as a rather serious matter. I understood the bonds of some of these companies have been accepted in Oregon. If a company capitalized at say $100,000 had a large number of surety bonds out and was suddenly called upon to meet a number of them, where would the men who are supposed to be protected be? These companies may not be unreliable, but they are too small to be safe."

Ambrose's resolution went to the committee on resolutions for consideration and a report.

FEW CONVICTIONS FOR HOMICIDES

Salem, Or., Jan. 27.—To assist the house committee on revision of laws in considering the bill for the abolition of capital punishment, Clerk C. W. Garland of that committee has prepared an exhaustive report showing the laws of every state and territory in the union and all the leading countries of the world and presenting valuable statistics bearing on the subject.

The committee has not yet reached a decision on the bill. In the senate the Judiciary committee has reported a comprehensive measure abolishing the punishment of death and restricting the exercise of the pardoning power in cases of first degree murder

COMMISSION OF 30 LAWYERS PROPOSED

Salem, Ore., Jan. 27.—Planning comprehensive reform of the judicial system of the state, which is generally regarded as having been made easy by the adoption of sweeping amendments to the constitution at the last election, Senator Wood has introduced a bill for the appointment of a committee to devise a new judicial act to cover the entire field of jury system and courts.

The bill calls for a commission of 30 members, all of them lawyers, two to be chosen from each judicial district in the state and the remainder at large. The commission is to be named by the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer, and is required to report by September 1, 1912. Ten thousand dollars is appropriated for expenses.

It is provided that 5000 copies of the report shall be printed and copies sent to all the lawyers and newspapers in the state. By this means the plan proposed will have been fully discussed by the time the legislature meets in 1913. The legislature will then be sufficiently advised to act.

No material amendment to the present judicial system has been proposed at this session of the legislature and none is expected. Fear has been expressed in some quarters that attempts will be made to "tinker" with the system by initiative bills at the next election. The Wood bill is designed to discourage such movements.

by inspiring hope for a general revision that will reconcile the conflicts of present laws and straighten out the kinks, both real and imaginary, connected with the old system. The bill is in line with recommendations made by the Multnomah bar association, which favored the framing of a general revision plan by a state commission.
