As soon as the match flamed up the explosion of the gases occurred.

He denounced the favorite pastimes of North Yakima society, including bridge and dancing, and took a shot at ballroom costumes worn, saying shoulders were exposed which should be covered.

Spanks Boy; May Lose Arm.

White Salmon.—"It was all because I tried to spank my boy," said Albert Darling as he placed his arm under the x-ray and then submitted to an operation which laid open his wrist to the bone. AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS Orpheum.

Pendleton's favorite picture house, where they show all the leading picture plays as natural as life itself. The program for Tuesday's change cannot be excelled.
1. In the Days of Chivalry. Edison. This photo-play is taken from the old French legend, "Ancassin and Nicolette." As a production it ranks with the most ambitious and brilliant of American film dramas. The acting is dignified and brilliantly spirited, and the photo-play beyond criticism.
2. The Yagui Girl. A western drama by the American Pathe company, presenting the tragic results of the jealousy of a Yagui girl for a young Mexican. The staging and costuming are good.
3. Billy's Sister. Melles. This is the swiftest and most dramatic of western dramas. The Melles people have achieved a success well worth while bragging about in this production. It would be difficult to improve upon it.
Four full reels 4000 feet of pictures.

The Pastime.

"The Show of Quality." Leaders in clear, steady pictures. Offers for Tuesday's change the following:
"Art and the Legacy." Lubin. 1000 feet. Remember that the Lubin pictures are as clear as a bell. This one is a comedy representing the way two young people practiced what they called art. The girl receiving a legacy determined to buy one of the young man's pictures for $200, which she did, the dealer receiving 50 per cent of the proceeds of the sale as his commission. The sales continued, one buying the other's pictures with the proceeds received from the dealer until they chance to meet in the store and the legacy has dwindled to $6.50. The picture is filled with interesting and lively comedy and will please any audience. It tells the story simply and without unnecessary complication.
"A Lock of Hair." Urban, 1000 feet. A woman follows the suggestions of an anonymous letter and finds a lock of hair in her husband's pocketbook. A violent quarrel ensues, but a little child stops all trouble by declaring that it is a lock of her own hair, placed there as a surprise. She really does substitute one of her own. The perpetrator of the outrage calls just as this discovery is made and slinks away, realizing that he has failed in his purpose to make trouble.

"On the Brink." An intensely interesting drama.
"The Haunted Hotel." A lively comedy.
"A Wartime Sweetheart." Selig, 1000 feet. A very interesting wartime picture.
Four-reels, 4000 feet of motion pictures and illustrated song.
