GOTHAM GOSSIP.

There will be no shortage in the supply of policemen and politicians. The report of the emigrant society, just issued, shows that 24,369 natives of the "old sod" landed at the port of New York last year, an increase of 2,633 over the previous twelve months.

The Irish immigrants brought with them $767,984. Nearly half of them were destined to points in New York state and the majority either had employment when they came or obtained it within a short time after landing. Sure as you can't keep an Irishman down.

Of the arrivals from the Emerald Isle, 13,024 were male and 11,335 were females. The labor bureau at the base office found jobs for 1,548 Irish immigrants. Ireland is sending yearly a steadily increasing host to this country and Italy and Germany may soon have to look to their laurels.

Prison Experience. Miss Sylvia Pankhurst told about her experience as a suffragette in a London prison at the Hotel Astor, during the course of a lecture under the auspices of the league for political education. Miss Pankhurst is the daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the militant suffragettes of England, and is a worthy daughter of her mother.

Miss Sylvia is a very pretty young girl, and has the face and figure of a child. She is only twenty years of age, but she has all the enthusiasm of the martyrs of old, and when she speaks the listener is impressed with the idea that she would willingly die for the "cause."

She comes of three generations of English radical leaders. Her father, Dr. Pankhurst, was an associate of John Stuart Mill in the first woman suffrage society founded in Great Britain. He was also a radical candidate for parliament and a leader of the labor forces.

Miss Pankhurst is an artist as well as a suffragist, and as a result of two years spent at the Academy of Arts in Venice she was awarded a diploma by the Italian government. In England she won the national scholarship in competition with all the aspiring young art students, both men and women, of Great Britain. She is the author of several books on the suffrage movement.

The U. S. Government in its "Pure Food Law" does not "indorse" or "guarantee" any preparation, as some manufacturers in their advertisements would make it appear. In the case of medicines the law provides that certain drugs shall be mentioned on the labels, if they are ingredients of the preparations. Ely's Cream Balm, the well known family remedy for cold in the head, hay fever and nasal catarrh, doesn't contain a single injurious drug, so that the makers have simply to print the fact that it complies with all the requirements of the law.

NEW BIOLOGICAL CLUB FORMED

O. A. C. Scientists Father Organization to Study Biology of State of Oregon.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., Feb. 17.—The Biological Club was organized Tuesday night at the Oregon Agricultural College by the faculty and graduate students to make thorough and wide studies of the biology of the state. The membership is not confined to members of the faculty or college students, but anyone may join who is actively interested in the work to be undertaken.

Prof. H. S. Jackson of the college botany department was made permanent chairman for the coming year, with George F. Sykes of the department of zoology as secretary. Through the club all of the related departments in the college will be enabled to co-operate in conducting popular science meetings and field trips for first-hand biological, botanical and zoological study.

The club voted to make one of its first problems a thorough biological survey of Mary's peak, a work which will occupy at least two years. Through the meetings, field trips, and collection of material it is hoped to add materially to the present knowledge of the biology of the state, and the related subjects.

Everybody goes to the Orpheum to see the best and the clearest pictures

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum.

1. "The Crimson Scar." Melles. A story that grips the heart. A poor girl with dreams of becoming a great actress, helps in saving a popular star from a fire. Befriended by the actress, she eventually becomes a great actress herself, but she carries all her life the crimson scars which were the result of her experience in saving the actress. The hopes of the child ultimately realized and the life-long gratitude of the actress, are the moving sentiments in the picture and appeal very strongly to the audience.

2. "Rachel." Kalem. A story of Russian oppression. A strong study of the Jewish type, with Alice Joyce in the title role. Rachel is the daughter of a poor Russian shepherd who is banished from the estate of Prince Fedrovna without good cause and she joins the extremist section of the nihilists. Rachel is chosen to carry out the plot of the nihilists, but fails.

3. "An Intrigue." Pathe. La Savell, whose father had been shot for fighting against the emperor, earns a living by singing in the streets. Count De Romagna also hates the emperor and she offers to aid him in his schemes of revenge upon Napoleon III. The piece is a careful study, and scrupulous regard to detail has been invoked.

4. "Fire, Fire, Fire!" Melles. A comedy, presenting a band of suffragettes calling upon the mayor of a city and demanding change of a department. The firemen having struck the department is turned over to the women. The first fire alarm and its disastrous results convince the women that charge of a city department is not all their fancy paints it, and they return to their homes, both wiser and wiser. A rip roaring comedy.

5. "An Indian's Gratitude." Pathe. A story of the gold times in California. The picture is beautifully done and the scenery is attractive. The picture depicts scenes in California in early days.

Four full reels, 4000 feet of good, clear moving pictures.

The Pastime.

"When a Man Loves." Biograph, 1000 feet. A bachelor falls in love with a pretty country girl, the daughter of an old friend, but later, when he discovers that she has a lover, he crushes his own sentiments and helps them to elope, carrying them away in his own automobile. The father of the girl arrives in time to congratulate the newly wedded couple. The picture is intensely interesting because it depicts what actual people would do under the circumstances.

"The Rescue of Molly Finney." Kalem, 1000 feet. Molly Finney was captured by some supposed friendly Indians and taken to Quebec and there sold at auction. She was bought by a French grandee as a servant and companion for his daughter. On the way from her native village on a long canoe trip, Molly managed to drop into the water a message written on birch bark. The message was found by Captain McLelland, who in his sloop, the Rose, went to Quebec and succeeded in locating the Puritan girl. His rescue of the girl forms the dramatic climax of the picture and is an exceptionally strong and thrilling situation.

"The Count and the Cowboys." Essanay, 1000 feet. A comedy which possesses all the crisp and attractive qualities that are usually present in comedies from this house. The scene is laid in the west and presents a French count, in immaculate attire, suddenly dropped among the cowboys. The character studies are excellent. The story is told with a clarity that leaves nothing to be desired.

"The Nine Lives of a Cat." Edison, 1000 feet. A very amusing comedy.

Four reels, 4000 feet of motion pictures.

ELTOPIA RESIDENTS ALL JOIN IN RABBIT DRIVE

Three hundred residents of Eltopia, Wash., including merchants who closed their stores for the day, dispatched several hundred rabbits in a drive near that town. The jacks were driven into a V-shaped inclosure of woven wire, where the drivers made short work of them with clubs. The wire corral was more than 2,000 feet in length and as the jacks dashed against it the recoil hurled them back eight to 10 feet. The drivers, armed with stout clubs, also killed 200 rabbits before the corral was reached. Following the drive the ranchers served lunch and hot coffee. Another drive has been arranged for next Saturday, when it is expected there will be hunters from various parts of Washington and Oregon. The rabbits have caused much annoyance to ranchers and orchardists in the irrigated districts, and the growers have decided upon a series of drives to rid the communities of the pests. There is an element of sport and this has proven attractive to those who join the ranchers in the day's outing.

RHEUMATISM PURIFYING THE BLOOD THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE

No case of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood; just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison, the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are simply superficial effects of the impurities in the circulation, and sometimes may be temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments, hot cloths, etc. But the person who trifles with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone, is certain to pay for the mistake with constant suffering later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are lubricated and fed with nourishing elements instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp, uratic impurity. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood, the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made pliant, and every troublesome symptom of Rheumatism is permanently corrected. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.
