TRAGEDY NARROWLY AVERTED AT NOLIN

(Special Correspondence.)
Nolin, Feb. 20.—While Steve Edwards was sitting astride his saddle horse Sunday morning and holding a horse ridden by his brother, Kermit, while the latter was in the postoffice which is close to the O.-W. tracks, an approaching freight train scared the horses and it was a miracle that Steve was not crushed to death.

The horses turned toward home to a crossing directly in front of the locomotive and the only thing that saved the rider was that he turned Kermit's horse loose and spurred his own steed off the track. Instead of keeping the road the riderless horse ran beside and ahead of the locomotive almost a mile, jumping two stock guards before leaving the track.

He proved himself a good runner but would have been struck had not the engineer slowed down his train. Aside from a merry chase to catch the runaway no damage was done.

Eddie and Dallas Dupuis are home from the O. A. C. at Corvallis for a couple weeks' vacation.

J. B. Howard of Pendleton, visited friends here and at Stanfield last week.

An enjoyable surprise party was given at the residence of Will McCutcheon on St. Valentine's night. Midnight lunch was served and the party did not disperse till the "wee hours of mornin'."

C. C. Connors, secretary and sales agent for the Farmers' Union Fire Insurance company, with headquarters at Pendleton, visited Nolin's prosperous farmers' union Saturday night and succeeded in selling several shares of stock for the company to almost every member present.

Among Pendleton visitors during the past week were Wm. Slusher, W. A. Slusher, John Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wright, James Marple, Emil Bielke, Pat Kirk and Wm. Purviance.

DANCE AT ADAMS IS GRAND SUCCESS

(Special Correspondence.)
Adams, Ore., Feb. 20.—The Adams dance on Friday night was quite a success. It was well attended and a good supper was served at the Adams Hotel at 12 o'clock. The dance lasted till four in the morning and all had a good time. Quite a number of people from Athena and Pendleton were present.

The two basketball teams of the Adams school played a match game on Saturday night in the Maestretta hall. The score was 8 to 5 in favor of the first team. They exhibited some fine team work and all spent a pleasant evening.

C. Chestnut was a Pendleton visitor Saturday.

Mrs. Dora McBride of Athena, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Darr Friday.

Miss Anna Barnes left for Weston Friday evening to spend Sunday at home.

The Misses Lola and Gwendoline Rogers came up from Pendleton Friday to spend Sunday at home.

Mrs. Lonick visited in the city of Pendleton Saturday.

Mrs. T. A. Lienallen was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ferguson of Pendleton Saturday.

Worn Out.

That's the way you feel about the lungs when you have a hacking cough. It's foolishness to let it go on and trust to luck to get over it, when Ballard's Horsehound Syrup will stop the cough and heal the lungs. Price 25c, 50c and $1 per bottle. A. C. Koepfen & Bros.

SUFFRAGE HOSTS STORM NEW YORK LEGISLATURE

Grandmothers of Empire state legislators are likely to die off at a tremendous rate this week. Already the more timid solons are assuming the appearance of grief and are preparing to leave at a moment's notice, in view of the expected onslaught of the suffragettes of the state. The advance guard of the "votes for women" army arrived in Albany this morning, and every train brings additional suffragettes to take part in the meetings to be held during the coming week.

A reception of legislators and other public men of Albany will be held tonight by the Ekuval Suffrage society. Miss Pola La Follette, daughter of the Wisconsin senator, will read an English farce entitled, "How the Vote was Won."

Tomorrow will be the big day, when the joint senate and assembly committee will grant a hearing on the amendment to the state constitution permitting women to vote. Later in the week Miss Sylvia Parkhurst, the noted English suffragette, will speak. Suffrage Sunday will be the closing feature of the gathering. College girls will act as ushering at all the meetings.

Mother's Friend

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

1. "The Italian Barber." Biograph. This picture shows how Cupid plays the Game of Hearts. "Sweet Italian love, mia Italian love You don't need the moonlight your love to tell her." The author of the above lines surely knew his Italian well, for there is no easier victim of Cupid's darts than the Italian. A pretty face and the Latin gentleman falls. A portrayal of this is given in this Biograph comedy drama.
 2. "Cowboy Justice." A sensational subject produced by the American Pathé company. Considerable care has been given to every detail.
 3. "A Child's Plea." Kosmik. The child of nobility prays that she may see her grandmother with whom her own mother was not on good terms. When the mother overhears the child's supplications she begs forgiveness from the old countess and they are reconciled.
 4. "Facari Family." Pathe. A reproduction of acrobatic work which seems almost impossible. The photography is remarkably good.
 5. "The Villain Still Pursued Her." The title of this subject describes it perfectly, as the beautiful scenes, one after the other, show vividly Corsica in its wild state.
 6. "The Hills of Corsica." Gaumont. A travelogue giving a succession of picturesque scenes in Corsica. Many will be surprised to see the character of the surface of the island and how heavily it is wooded. Some of the views are picturesque and all are interesting.
 7. "Poor Coat." A simple comedy, but amusing.
- The Pastime.
"Ramona's Father." Selig. 1000 feet. An Indian story of California, based upon a misunderstanding which arouses the jealousy of a Mexican. First a young man is stabbed, after he recovers nursed back to life by an Indian girl, he is lassoed by the same jealous Mexican but is rescued by the Indian girl and she in turn stabbed. Truly this is one of Selig's best productions.
- "The Home of the Seal." Edison, 500 feet long. This is a very extraordinary series of views, taken at close range, of the harbor seals on the Paloinas islands off the coast of Peru.
- "The Gardener's Ladder." Edison, 500 feet. Comedy. A stern old father, one afternoon chancing to see a young man proposing to his daughter, becomes infuriated, orders the young man off the premises and locks the daughter in her room. The father, very much agitated over the distressing state of affairs, repairs to the garden for a walk and almost stumbles over a ladder which the gardener has placed under his daughter's window. Thinking she had escaped he starts in excited chase. Here is where the fun begins.
- "The Stolen Pig." A very interesting comedy.
- "Indian Pete's Gratitude." Kalem, 1000 feet.
