Aged Farm Hand Killed.

News has been received here that J. H. Becker, an aged farm hand, was found dead six miles from Weston Sunday morning. He was working on the G. De Graw ranch, six miles from Weston, and a straw shed had fallen upon him and killed him. The dead man was deaf and because of this fact it is presumed he did not know the shed was falling until it hit him. He was for many years an engineer on the Southern Pacific railroad.

Old Newspaper Man Here.

M. C. Harris (Harris the Printer), thirty years ago the leading job printer of Walla Walla, and founder of the Morning Journal, which was subsequently sold to Johnson & Herrick and by them changed into the Walla Walla Daily Union, passed through Pendleton today on his way to Baker City. Mr. Harris is up this way renewing old acquaintances and looking over the county, and marvels at the wonderful changes and developments that have been made in every section since he was here last, some 25 years ago.

Fine Amateur Photographs.
The Pendleton Drug company has an exhibition in its south window a collection of as fine amateur prints as has ever been seen here. They were all taken from negatives owned by local camera enthusiasts, many of them belonging to E. D. Weaver, who has gained the reputation of being an artist in amateur work. The prints were made by J. B. Burrell, who will hereafter have charge of the printing and developing work of the Pendleton Drug company, and certainly testify strongly to his ability. The drug company now has on the road here a post card printing machine with which the work can be done rapidly and economically.

Whitmore, 265 feet; W. F. Fanshler, 616 feet; E. E. Hutchinson, 335 feet; Dave Nelson, 445 feet; J. R. Porter, 490 feet; T. R. Hampton, 365 feet; W. J. Furnish, 250 feet; Robert Bissinger, 350 feet; S. A. Edwards, 242 feet.

TELEPHONE COMBINATION PLAN IS STILL ALIVE

New York, Feb. 21.—The proposition to combine the Bell and Independent telephone interests has not been dropped. It was learned today that a "gentlemen's agreement" will be made and that rate cutting and unnecessary competition will be abolished. Representatives of the Bell interests and Independents conferred today in Morgan's office. Such a combination would not be a violation of the anti-trust law and would mean probably a division of territory.

ARNOLD BELIEVES HIS DAUGHTER WAS MURDERED

New York, Feb. 21.—Affidavits that he believes his daughter Dorothy is dead were made today for District Attorney Whitman by Francis Arnold, the millionaire. To urge action in the part of the attorney, Arnold said he had information that she had been kidnapped on Fifth avenue on Dec. 12 and that he was convinced she was murdered later. He said he would spend every dollar he had to avenge her death.

BASEBALL OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

At the gathering of the faithful fans in the Commercial association rooms last night, J. Roy Raley was elected president of the Pendleton club of the Blue Mountain league and the following men were chosen for the other positions: Henry Collins for vice-president, John Dickson for secretary and Fred Lampkin for treasurer. These officers will hold a meeting tonight to select a manager for the team, and common report has it that Clark Nelson will be the favored one. Considerable discussion relative to the coming season was held but no other action was taken. The sentiment as expressed at the meeting was very optimistic for a pennant winning team. A number of the players of last year's team were present and signified their intention of turning out for practice within a few days. The schedule has not yet been drawn up as President Frazier and Secretary Cooley of the league are experiencing some difficulty in arranging the games so that each end of the county will have one each Sunday.

See Erbel & Shaver for well drilling. Estimates furnished on application. Address 118 Lincoln street, Pendleton.

EACH COUNTY TO HAVE PROSECUTOR

NEW LAW LACKS ONLY WEST'S SIGNATURE

Change in Umatilla Not Desirable From Standpoint of Office Holder—Less Pay Provided.

What effect will a county attorney law have upon Umatilla county? This is a question which is being quite generally asked by those who have followed the actions of the legislature. This bill, providing for a prosecuting attorney for each county instead of each judicial district, was passed by both houses and now only needs the affixing of the governor's signature to become a law.

The bill will not affect the present incumbent in office for it does not become active until two years, but in two years both Umatilla and Morrow county will elect a separate prosecuting attorney to assume the duties now done by District Attorney Van Vactor. The county attorney of Umatilla county will draw a salary of $2000 per annum and the county attorney of Morrow county a salary of $1500 whereas the present incumbent is given $2000. In addition each will be allowed their actual traveling expenses and the county court shall provide each with such deputies as is deemed necessary.

The general sentiment is in favor of the bill, according to Deputy District Attorney Stelwer, although there is some opposition in small counties due to the fact that it will be a more expensive system to them than the present. Another argument used against it, is the fact that the salary paid in small counties will not be sufficient to make the office desirable to an able attorney who, by accepting it, would be barred from accepting certain very remunerative cases.

"The only effect of such a law in Umatilla county," said Stelwer this morning, "would be to make the office a little less desirable for while the salary is reduced a third, considerable more than two thirds of the present work of the district attorney comes from this county."

SENSATIONAL VAUDEVILLE AT THE PASTIME THEATRE

A big feature in addition to the high class film service at the Pastime tonight will be "Henry the King of Jailbreakers," and five vaudeville acts new to the coast. "Henry's" reputation is international and his remarkable ability to free himself from locks, bolts, bars and manacles is really sensational. To release himself after having been securely ironed to the floor or walls of a steel cage is his favorite pastime. Getting out of burglar proof vaults is a feat he has performed everywhere with apparent ease. After playing all the principal circuits throughout the land Prof. Henry's exhibits seem to baffle everybody, even the limits of the law. His acts are performed in plain view of the audience without assistance and local officers and deputies will see to it that no trickery is used. Admission prices will be 15 and 25 cents.

My, Ain't They Brave.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 21.—Bent on putting a crimp in the thirteen superstition, the Friday hoodoo and the twenty-three skidoo, the Iowa Retail Hardware association opened here today the biggest convention and exhibition in the history of the organization. This is the thirteenth annual session, and just to prove that there is nothing in the thirteen hard-luck yarn the dealers have put extra ginger in to the program and preparations. The election of officers will be held on Friday, and the principal entertainment on the night of the twenty-third, a date which some folks consider to be ill-omened. The Coliseum is the scene of the big hardware exposition, in which all the leading manufacturers of the country are represented. The Iowa Hardware Mutual Insurance association, which has been highly successful in giving the dealers insurance protection at cost, will also hold its eighth annual meeting tomorrow.

Michigan Dairymen.

Bay City, Mich., Feb. 21.—Michigan dairymen, butter and cheese makers to the number of several hundreds attended the opening here today of the annual convention of their association.

A banquet will be held on Thursday night, at which dairy products will be served almost exclusively, although there will be a little punch for the milk, some macaroni with the cheese and some milk-fed chickens on the bill of fare.

C. T. Godwin, the Baker attorney, who is a member of the firm of Godwin & Neal of Freewater, came in yesterday from his home and is transacting business here.
