The foregoing is a portion of an extensive editorial devoted to the National Apple show in the February issue of the Southern Fruit Grower, published at Chattanooga, Tenn. "Perhaps the most significant result of the two apple shows," the writer adds, "is the widespread attention directed to the commercial orchard districts of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia. The expositions were gratifyingly successful and, taken in all, it was the best exploitation the apple ever had, next to the story of its first appearance in the Garden of Eden. Moreover, the people of the Mississippi valley country and the states to the east, south and north have better acquaintance with the apple belts of the Northwest and Pacific states than ever before.

"The Chicago show, which was instatled in the First Regiment Armory, was attended mostly by men and women who have money to invest and others who are looking for homes in any one's purse. Invest 25 cents in championship car, were viewed with dealers, interest by thousands, who marveled at the color, size and uniformity of the fruit; but it is conceded that the district booths were the ceners of attraction, largely because of the fact that spectators were able to grasp the extent and importance of the
