AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

The Orpheum.

Pendleton's Favorite Picture Theater, has a strong program for Sunday and Monday. All interesting pictures.

1. "The Link that Held." Edison. This is a simple story but direct, true and tremendously appealing, and played with the subtlety and depth for which the Edison players are becoming noted. It is a film which will not soon be forgotten by the public. "Don't miss this picture."

2. "Three Men and a Maid." Vitagraph. A comedy drama of exquisite delicacy with some very telling bits of fun that are perfectly natural and extremely entertaining. It tells of two old bachelors and a young private secretary. The old fellows don't want the maid to have the young secretary but she not only gets him, but gets them, too.

3. "Trailed By An Indian." An intensely interesting dramatic photoplay by the American Pathe company. A feature in fine acting and genuine western scenes of unusual beauty. Full of intense dramatic situations, legitimately thrilling, and great in heart interest.

4. "Washington Under the American Flag." Vitagraph. A piece of true history beginning with Patrick Henry's speech in the Virginia legislature in 1765, when the first spark was lighted of the American revolution and running to the first inauguration in Federal Hall, N. Y., April 30, 1789.

Pastime.

Picture program for Sunday and Monday.

"His Trust." Biograph, 1000 feet.

Depicts a negro servant left by his master to care for his wife and child when he goes to war, and how he proved his faithfulness to the trust reposed in him. The master is killed which causes the servant to redouble his watchfulness. Shortly afterward the union soldiers come and plunder and burn the house. Into the flames rushes the servant and brings out the child, and then once more to get his master's sword. Taking the two he has protected with his own life he leads them to his own cabin and offers them all he has. This seems much like the old times products of the Biograph company. Don't miss it.

"Marguerite's Birthday." Pathe.

A lively mixup caused by a burglar conveying the articles he had stolen ### in one flat into another where a woman supposes them to be birthday presents and the husband is jealous because believes his wife has been receiving attentions from another. The discovery of the burglar ends the controversy.

"The Sealed Letter." Gaumont.

A girl deserts her old sweetheart and goes away with a rich yachtsman, leaving a letter for the unfortunate young man to read when out at sea. Brokenhearted, he goes through life. After many years, when he is an old man, he still remembers the beautiful girl who had broken his heart. Her picture and their last meeting appears to him in a vision.

"Saved by Her Prayers." Pathe.

Telling a very interesting story how a pretty girl was saved by her prayers and was very happy after.

"A Water Contest." Gaumont, A beautiful scenic picture.

"Three Friends." A pathetic story of their great constancy.

Worn Out.

That's the way you feel about the lungs when you have a hacking cough. It's foolishness to let it go on and trust to luck to get over it, when Ballard's Horehound Syrup will stop the cough and heal the lungs. Price 25c, 50c and $1 per bottle. A. C. Koepfen & Bros.
