BRILLAT-SAVARIN.

Tribulations of the Famous French Epicure and Jurist.

Brillat-Savarin, the author of "The Physiology of Taste," was the absolute realization of the typical good liver. The French revolution confiscated his property and removed him from his office as civil judge. He fled to Switzerland and then to the United States, where he played a fiddle in a New York theater to gain a living.

His property was afterward returned to him, and he was made a counselor of the supreme court, an office he clung to successfully through changes of empire and kingdom. His "Physiology of Taste" shared the fate of many celebrated books. It was refused by several publishers and eventually was published at the author's expense, but without his name attached to it, as he considered the nature of the work incompatible with his judicial functions.

It was Brillat-Savarin who declared that "the discovery of a new food does more for the happiness of the human race than the discovery of a star."

"Monsieur the counselor," a hostess asked him one day, "which do you prefer, burgundy or bordeaux?" "Madame," replied the judicial authority, "that is a lawsuit in which I have so much pleasure in taking the evidence that I always postpone judgment."

A LIBERTY WITH TIME.

Castelar's Interrupted Lecture in the University of Madrid.

In "Home Life in Spain" is a fine story of the University of Madrid, which once had among its professors that Senor Castelar who was for a time president of the short lived Spanish republic. But when Alfonso XIII. was brought to Madrid after the fall of the republic Castelar, with his companions, was exiled.

Some years afterward an amnesty was proclaimed, and Castelar returned in triumph to Madrid to resume his office in the university. A vast gathering attended to hear his first lecture, and the greatest orator in all Spain mounted the rostrum, looked imperiously at the sea of eager faces surrounding him and began, "As I was saying yesterday" (Como decia ayer).

Between that yesterday and this day he had fought the battle of the fallen republic and had known the bitterness of years in exile. All memory of this, however poignant in the heart of Castelar, had passed from the professor of Madrid's university, and he continued his lecture at the very point at which it had been broken off.

The Sedan Chair.

The sedan chair is named after Sedan, the town where it was first used. The earliest mention of it in England occurs in 1581. Early in the following century the Duke of Buckingham caused much indignation by its use in London. People were exasperated at that nobleman employing his fellow men to take the place of horses to carry him. Prince Charles brought from Spain in 1623 three curiously wrought sedans, two of which he gave to the Duke of Buckingham. A few weeks after their introduction Massinger produced his play, "The Bondman," and in it he thus adverts to the ladies: For their pomp and ease being borne in triumph on men's shoulders. The reference is doubtless to Buckingham's sedan, which was borne like a palanquin.—"Bygone England."

HARRY DELL TELLS OF GOOD TREATMENT

San Diego, Calif. March 1.—Harry Dell, the American captured at Tia Juana, Mexico, charged with being a conspirator in the insurgent cause has been heard of from Emenda by means of a message sent to the San Diego Sun. He says he has been treated well and believes he will be able to prove his innocence of the charge.

Americans Will Be Held.

El Paso, Tex., March 1.—A determined effort was made today by friends of Lawrence Converse and Edward Viatt, the American youths under arrest at Juarez for bearing arms against Mexico to prevent their being removed to Chihuahua for trial. Their preliminary hearing was secret but enough was learned to ascertain they will be held.

ALFONSO MAY LOSE HIS CHIEF ADVISOR

Madrid, Spain, March 1.—Following a conference of King Alfonso and his advisors it was predicted that the resignation of Premier Canalejas would soon be accepted. The clerical agitation is strong against him on account of his attitude against the church and it is understood he has told Alfonso that his resignation might be a good thing for the government.

Nearly all cooks have a cake fall sometimes. Don't worry. I know a young man who won his wife by saying when her cake fell: "I always did like cake that had fallen."

Time robs us of many things, but wounds our vanity first by introducing wrinkles and the double chin.

RHEUMATISM WEAK KIDNEYS & THIN BLOOD

Not only is the blood the great nourishing source of our systems, but equally as important is its work of removing the waste of oxidized tissues which have been consumed in force and bodily heat. This waste is filtered out through the kidneys. When, however, the kidneys become weak and unable to perform their regular duties, the waste is allowed to remain in the circulation, soon forming uric acid which destroys the greater portion of nourishing elements of the blood and leave it weak and acid. This imperfect blood deposits into the different muscles and joints the uratic impurity with which it is contaminated. Then the pains and aches of Rheumatism commence. The gritty formation which uric acid causes collects in the joints and produces the aches and stiffness which always accompany the disease. Likewise the muscles are coated and lose their elasticity, while the continual irritation to the nerves produces swelling and inflammation of the flesh.

S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to overcome the disease; it cleanses the blood of all uric acid poison and strengthens the kidneys so they are enabled to properly filter out the waste. S. S. S. is not only the best of blood purifiers, but a fine tonic. Book on Rheumatism free to all who write, THE SWISS SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

END OF "FREE SPEECH" FIGHT IS SEEN

Fresno, Calif. March 1.—The end of the I. W. W. campaign here for "free speech" is seen today in the acceptance by a mass meeting of citizens of the proposition of the industrialists to terminate the controversy. A committee was appointed to urge the council to accept. The industrialists say they will stop the campaign if the I. W. W. prisoners now jailed be paroled and two designated blocks in the city be given over to the free speakers. They then promise that most of the industrialists will leave Fresno.

FIFTEEN QUACK DOCTORS ARRESTED IN PORTLAND

Portland, Ore., March 1.—Fifteen warrants for the arrest of physicians practicing without licenses were issued this afternoon by the district attorney's office. It is said this is just the first step in a state-wide crusade by the state board of health to rid Oregon of quack doctors and malpractitioners.
