SPOKANE CAPITAL FOR OREGON MINE

GOLCONA WILL BE PUMPED OUT AT ONCE

Pendleton Men Interested Principally in Grant County Gold Producer—Work Stopped by Wade Failure.

William Kinnear of Susanville, Ore., announced in Spokane yesterday that work on pumping out the Colcona mine near Sumpter, Ore., will begin in a short time, a syndicate of Spokane men has joined him in a lease and bond on the property, which is owned by C. S. Jackson of Portland. Mr. Kinnear said among other things in an interview discussing the property:

"The Golconda is developed by a shaft of 500 feet with drifts on five levels. The property was operated actively during 1903 and 1904 and produced about $500,000 in bullion. Practically all the production was from slopes above the 300-foot level. The lower workings are said to show 115 ore, in shoots from two to 20 feet wide.

"The closing down of the mine was due to the failure of its owner, a Pendleton banker. The mine quarry filled with water and nothing has been done on it since. It has the reputation of having been profitable under good management, at all stages of its operation.

"It is equipped with a 20-stamp mill and concentrator, to which we shall add a cyanide plant, a hoist capable of operating to a depth of 1000 feet, a six-drill compressor, and a hydro-electric plant of 100-horsepower."

Are you frequently hoarse? Do you have that annoying tickling in your throat? Does your cough annoy you at night and do you raise mucus in the morning? Do you want relief? If so, take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you will be pleased. Sold by all dealers.

HOUSTON DAIRYMEN MUST ELIMINATE WATER

Dairymen who have been selling watered and creamless milk in Houston have been brought up with a round turn. The local medical association under the leadership of the city pathologist have put into effect stringent regulations which are now incorporated into a city ordinance that if violated will forfeit the license of the offending milkman. The new rules govern all points of the dairies, taking into account all the conditions which make for unhealthy milk, such as conditions of the stables, the personal cleanliness of the persons doing the milking, the handling of the milk and provide certain tests which must be made to insure its being perfectly pure.

The watering and skimming or separating of milk will have to cease and the practice so common in many cities of changing milk from large cans to bottles while the wagons are out on their run has been ended as no bottles can now be used until they have been taken back to the dairy and washed.

Fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism is simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism, neither of which requires any internal treatment. All that is needed to afford relief is the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. Give it a trial. You are certain to be pleased with the quick relief which it affords. Sold by all dealers.

TEXAS STATE FLOWER PLACED UNDER BAN

Texas poets will have to cease their odes to the cape jessamine and the state's pet flower stands in danger of being ordered out of the boundaries by the agricultural department as the state horticulturist has placed the beautiful white flower and its evergreen bush under the ban because of its menace to the orange industry.

Recent orchardist and government experts have made a thorough examination in the endeavor to ascertain fully just what was the result of the freeze so far as the white fly was concerned, and they found that the defoliation of the orange trees annihilated all the white flies on the orange trees, and that had it not been for the harbor offered in the foliage of the jessamine trees every white fly in the coast country would have been eradicated.

The white fly is housed in the foliage of the trees, both in the orange and jessamine. They do not infest the wood of the trees, hence their eradication from the orange trees when the freeze caused defoliation; also their preservation where they infest the jessamine.

Have you ever tried an old paint brush with which to blacken the stove? If you haven't, you have a joy coming.

THE GREAT COMEDY HIT, "SEVEN DAYS."

She was the sort of a girl any fellow would look at twice, even on Broadway, where the crop of peaches never suffers a blight, so when she came out between the acts and asked where she could find a telephone the chap in charge broke a rule and conducted her to the one in the box office. Then of course he withdrew while she used the phone, but he couldn't help overhearing some of her talk.

There was the usual overture of "hello's" and "is that you" and then: "I'm in New York—yes—O, perfectly fine!—I'm at the matinee—'Seven Days' at the Astor theater—hello—hello—central, please don't disconnect—hello—yes, 'Seven Days'—just dandy! Wish you were here with me to enjoy it; you'd love it. Really, I've never laughed so in my life. It's perfectly splendid, the best I've ever seen. I've laughed till my hair's come down. What? No, I'm not presentable—the chap in charge took mental exception to this indictment—O, she's with me and as crazy about it as I am. You were? O, you've seen it then. Isn't it the best ever?"

A lot more, and then: "I'll be up Saturday. Give my love to—Good bye, I must go in; the next act will be starting and I simply mustn't miss any of it. Good bye—yes, Saturday—good bye."

Her message sent, she thanked the chap in charge sweetly, and he had hardly recovered from his bow of acknowledgement when the regular box office fellow interrupted with: "Say, that was a long distance phone and she didn't pay for it."

"That so?" returned the chap in charge; "let's find out about it," and he called up long distance. "Newburg—forty and ten—seven minutes—eighty cents," was the information. "Oh, well," said the chap in charge, "that boost for 'Seven Days' was worth eighty cents. Charge it to extra advertising."

UNITED STATES IS INTERESTED IN FRENCH DEAL

The state department is now engaged in an investigation of a deal which a French syndicate proposes to put through in Ecuador. For the purpose of cleaning up the city of Guayaquil, the bankrupt government of Ecuador now proposes to borrow several millions from the French. This news comes closely upon the heels of the failure, through opposition of the people, of the administration's attempt to negotiate the lease of the Galapagos Islands to the United States for $15,000,000. This sum, if the lease was negotiated, was to be used to put Guayaquil in sanitary condition, and, incidentally, it was suspected, to enrich the administration.

The United States is particularly interested in the sanitation of Guayaquil, on account of the proximity of this port to the Panama canal. Guayaquil is the last port of call in the west coast before reaching the Pacific terminus of the canal, where Uncle Sam is spending enormous sums in bringing about sanitation. With Guayaquil cleaned up, and under sanitary regulations, a great menace to the canal zone would be removed.

STANFIELD TO HAVE NEW SCHOOL HOUSE

BOARD OF DIRECTORS SEEK GOOD LOCATION

Orchardists Planning to Increase Acreages — Approximately 1500 Trees Will Be Set Out This Spring.

(Special Correspondence.) Stanfield, Ore., March 1.—The school directors have been looking over some new building sites that have been offered, upon one of which the new building may be erected, it being the opinion of a good many that a more slightly location than the one on which the old building stands should be selected.

Many of our orchardists are making preparations for the planting of trees which are expected to arrive very shortly from the nursery, and on all sides may be seen men actively engaged in staking out the land and digging tree holes. It does not require much of an imagination to see the irrigated district adjoining Stanfield flourishing as one great orchard as in the neighborhood of 15,000 trees will be set out this spring, which in addition to those already planted will make a grand showing.

PACKED IN TIN FOIL

Garros, the 105-pound Panamanian, to distinction rests on his feet as an operator of the tiny Demoselle monoplane, went up at 3:35 o'clock in an exhibition flight. He rose to a height of nearly 3500 feet and swept out over the suburban country for a distance of nearly two miles before coming back to earth. Garros, as in the case of his predecessors in the air, operated a plane of his own design, and his earlier rivals had no absolute control of their craft. Garros and forty others began to take the course.
