NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

Auto Fire Engine at Yakima.
 North Yakima, Wash.—The new $8000 fire engine is awaiting the expert for the official test. It is the first automobile fire engine purchased in this territory.

Woman Director at Hatton.
 Hatton, Wash.—Mrs. Laura Fields was elected school director here Saturday. Mrs. Fields is the first woman to hold a public office in this district.

Masons to Lay Cornerstone.
 North Yakima, Wash.—A committee has been appointed to arrange for the laying of the cornerstone of the new Masonic temple about April 1. The grand master and members of the grand lodge will be present.

Resume Operations at Porthill.
 Porthill, Idaho.—The Yale Columbia Lumber company will resume operations for the summer with the railroad as soon as the engine is repaired. Two more cars of rails have been received for an extension.

Patents Auto Gear Device.
 Moscow, Idaho.—An invention has been perfected by J. H. Michaleson to improve transmission gear of an auto. Instead of disengaging the engine clutch and throwing the cog out as a present, this method will shift the shaft instead of the gear.

Clarkston Fruit Prospects Good.
 Clarkston, Wash.—The fruit growers of the Clarkston district are elated over the prospect for a large fruit crop this season. The cool nights have kept the buds back. The First National bank of Clarkston ordered a car of crude oil for the growers.

Sell Walla Walla Wheat.
 Walla Walla, Wash.—Some wheat was sold Monday after a period of practical stagnation for several days. The farmers union sold several thousand bushels for ranchers at Hell, Ore., and L. W. Estes sold 6000 bushels at 71 1-2 and the bluestem about 2 cents higher.

Honey in Granger Hall.
 Granger, Wash.—A large quantity of honey was taken from the walls of the Odd Fellows hall near the roof. The honey was deposited there by a swarm of bees, which for three years has made its home between the siding of the building and the inside wall.

Reward for Convict Lester.
 Walla Walla, Wash.—Walla Walla, Wash.—The state penitentiary is offering a reward of $50 for the recapture of Oscar Lester, a convict, who escaped from the road camp at Carrolton, Jan. 27. Lester was a soldier charged with robbing a man in the Idle Hour.

Rural Branches of Yakima "Y."
 North Yakima, Wash.—The first step in a country-wide movement for the installation of rural branches of the local Young Men's Christian association will be taken Wednesday night when four officers of the association will go into the Covichee valley to meet prospective members.

Legislature Aids Normal.
 Lewiston, Idaho.—President Geo. H. Black of the Lewiston state normal school arrived Sunday from Boise. He is satisfied with the action of the legislature in providing for the maintenance of the school in the passage of the three-fifths mill tax levy, which will provide an annual fund of approximately $75,000.

Toppenish Booze at Auction.
 Toppenish, Wash.—Following the announcement by the city council that all saloon licenses will be revoked on April 30 and that some will not be renewed, Henderson & Lamson held an auction this afternoon at their little brick saloon in which they disposed of hundreds of dollars' worth of liquor, the sale being conducted because of the council's orders.

Saloon Owner Faces Court.
 Walla Walla, Wash.—John Kremer, proprietor of a saloon and restaurant, will be given a hearing in court because Henry Laufer, a protected man to whom liquor must not be sold, appeared before Judge T. H. Brents a few days ago carrying a bottle of whisky. The judge confiscated the bottle and obtained from the man a confession that he had bought it at Kremer's place.

Stites, Idaho.—Nineteen cougars and four lynx comprise the winter's catch of C. B. French, an old trapper of the Clearwater country, who reached Stites last night after being isolated in the mountain fastnesses between Indian Lake creek and Running creek, in Idaho county, since last October. After shooting one female cougar French took her three kittens alive, but subsequently killed them also. He also came upon an eagle on a frozen lake tearing at the carcass of a deer previously slain by a cougar. There is $15 bounty on each cougar killed and the skins are worth $5 to $25 apiece.

A Swollen Jaw.
 is not pretty nor pleasant. Whether it's caused by neuralgia, toothache or accident, Ballard's Snow Liniment will reduce the swelling and relieve the pain. The great and sure cure for rheumatism, cuts, burns, bruises, scalds—any and all aches and pains. A. C. Koepfen & Bros.

JUVENILE JOKELETS.
 "Tommy," asked the teacher, "what is the feminine noun corresponding to the masculine 'stag'?" Tommy, whose father inclines toward occasional gaudy disposition and whose mother also goes out generously: "Tea party. I guess."

AT THE MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

Orpheum.
 Pendleton's favorite picture theater. Interesting program for Tuesday's change.

1. "Mike the Miser." Edison. "Mike the Miser" is a little district telegraph messenger boy who has won the sobriquet by his closeness, and the story deals with the reason for this closeness and also with the trials which the title bestowed upon him forces into his young life. It is one of the most appealing of child stories and full of unconscious humor of boyhood, none of which is lost by the youthful participants.

2. "A Robust Patient." Selig. Jones is sick and a friend tells him he should go to a sanitarium and recommends Dr. Crow's Retreat. Accordingly Jones bids his wife good bye and is off for his health—arrives and is received by Dr. Crow, who promises great things. He is assured that he is in a very serious condition and must diet and train down—is shown to his room, is disgusted and writes his wife as follows: Dr. Crow's Bug House. Dear Wife.—This is no place for me, this is a dippy factory. I tried to leave but they won't let me out. I am to diet and train down. I can see my finish now. Farewell. Willie. Watching his chance he makes his escape. Arriving at the quiet peaceful home of the Jones' he writes the Doctor the following touching testimonial.

Dear Dr. Crow:—Your institution is a wonderful benefit to mankind. If I ever have an enemy who is seeking health, I will take great pleasure in recommending him to try your nut college. Affectionately, Jones.

3. "It Did Look Suspicious." Vitagraph. A case of circumstantial evidence in which a man's carelessness leads him to accuse an innocent party of committing a crime which is purely his own doing and for which he has to take the blame and acknowledge his faults.

4. "The Firemen's Parade." Vitagraph.

graph. The fire fighters are a fine body of men and do some fine work in their exhibition of the way they do things. There is a whole lot of good stuff in this picture that is worth seeing.

5. The Musical Ranch. Lubin. A comedy representing a variety of musical geniuses upon a western ranch. The honors go to the man that could not play anything yet succeeded in winning his lady's favor by the introduction of a phonograph.

"The Pastime.
 The show of quality." Excellent program for Tuesday's change.

"Fate's Turnins." Biograph. 1000 feet. A young man on a visit to a summer resort meets a pretty waitress. Impulsively he becomes engaged to her. Later his father dies and the boy having to take his father's place, reasons that an alliance with the waitress is impossible. He is about to marry a lady of his own sphere when the poor, unfortunate girl with her baby appears and the young man makes reparation by marrying her instead of the heiress, for he finds that is not only duty but he really loves the little girl.

2. "The Border Ranger." Essanay. 1000 feet. Bud, a ranger, captures the leader of a band of Mexican smugglers. The smugglers retaliate by capturing Joe's sweetheart. They declare they will never give her up until Bud gives up Joe. Bud refuses and goes after her, but is captured himself, and subjected to torture to make him give up. The girl escapes, informs a posse where the smugglers rendezvous, and they arrive just in time to save Bud's life.

"Father Makes Himself Useful." Lubin. Often mother-in-law has been called in to settle disagreeable or fancied differences between fond couples, but probably this is the first time father-in-law has been called upon to make the son good. The father arrives and makes love to the angry emfvy emfvywheuu daughter-in-law and the son becomes very angry. But father brings them together and all ends happy with a laugh every second.

600 feet.

"The Adventurers." Gaumont. 1,400 feet. 4000 feet of latest motion pictures.
