Goes to Canada.

A. B. McCarty, one of the pioneer ranchers of Umatilla county and who recently sold his Stage Gulch farm, left this morning for Alberta, where he has large holdings and where his family has been for some time past. He does not intend, however, to remain there permanently, but will stay until past harvest.

Mrs. C. A. Barrett Improving.

Mrs. C. A. Barrett, wife of Senator Barrett, of Athens, is steadily improving from an illness which has compelled her to remain in bed since the opening of the session of the legislature. Shortly after arriving in Salem Mrs. Barrett became ill with what was first thought to be ptomaine poisoning, but later developed into a severe case of la grippe. Senator Barrett has been with his wife during her sickness. They will return to their home soon.

To Work With Credit Men.

B. C. Lindeman, secretary of The Dalles Credit Men's association, and Willis M. Smith, representing the same organization, are in the city today to confer with Secretary Gwinn of the local association regarding cooperation between the two protective organizations. Mr. Lindeman is traveling over the northwest perfecting credit men's associations in order that the "dead beat" may become a defunct species in this section of the country.

Foreigners Pay $50 Fines.

The three foreigners, Lugl, Dan Panjkovic and Joe Salocic, who were arrested following the stabbing of Jap Gulliford in the Olympia saloon Saturday night, were fined $50 apiece this morning when he pleaded guilty to the charges against them. The first one was seen to throw away a knife and the last named had a pair of brass knuckles in his possession when arrested and both were, therefore, charged with carrying concealed weapons. The second named was charged with assault and battery. Zokion paid his fine and was released but the others are still in jail while their friends are busy trying to raise the necessary money.

RURAL PHONE MEN TO MEET SATURDAY

For the purpose of reviving and perfecting their joint organization a meeting of all the rural phone subscribers, on lines running into Pendleton, has been called for the Commercial club rooms Saturday at 2 p. m. W. W. Harrah, and A. Ruppe, president and vice-president respectively of the old rural phone organization are responsible for the call and they desire to have as many present at the meeting Saturday as is possible.

According to Messrs Harrah and Ruppe it is earnestly desired to get all the rural lines into one central company. At this time there are 14 lines running into the city but each is acting independently. By getting the lines into one general company it is held that better service may be secured from the Pacific states company and also the farmers may be able to protect themselves against too rapid advances in rates.

"We are working particularly for better service," says Mr. Harrah. We are not getting the service we should have. We would also like to ascertain why it is that rural line subscribers here, who own and are required to maintain their lines, must pay $1.20 per year for service when subscribers on rural lines running into Walla Walla and into La Grande get the same service for $1 per annum.

Five years ago the local rural lines formed a general organization and chose Mr. Harrah as president, Mr. Ruppe as vice president and H. H. Gilbert as secretary. Through the efforts of that organization the rates were fixed at $3 per annum for a period of four years. With that the organization ceased active work. Of late however the farmers have been anxious to have the company revived and in answer to repeated requests the meeting for Saturday has been called.

Fruitt to Enterprise.
Deputy Clerk W. C. E. Pruitt left last evening for Enterprise where he will take testimony in the disputed land cases of that vicinity.

FANCY SHOOTING FOR THE ROUND-UP

Attendants at the 1911 Roundup will see something in the way of fancy and exhibition shooting that is not accorded them every day in their lives. Exhibition Manager Fred Earl has just closed arrangements with Gus Peret, traveling exhibition man for the Peters Cartridge company, whereby that famous gunman is to be here with his arsenal and his complete bouquet of fancy shots during the wild west show. In addition he is working up a stunt that is new and original and will prove sensational. He will take his stand in an automobile which will be driven around the track at full speed and puncture objects thrown in the air while under way. An effort will also be made to have him shoot from horseback.

Though not the best known of the several fancy shooters in the United States, young Peret is the equal of any and his renown is spreading every day. One year ago he was unheard of as a performer of difficult shots. Last spring a representative of the Remington company gave an exhibition in Yoncalla, Peret's native home, and at the conclusion, invited the spectators to test his guns. Peret accepted and his shots put to shame those of the professional. He was immediately reported to the Remington people, but before they could close with him, the Peters Cartridge company made him an offer which he accepted and since then he has been traveling over the northwest for that company.

Peret is only about 23 years of age, is redheaded, and before his shooting days, was an athlete of much prominence in the Willamette valley, when he represented the Eugene high school on the gridiron, diamond and basketball floor. He was in the city several weeks ago traveling with W. R. Rhinehart of the Marshall-Wells company, but was called home by the serious illness of his mother. However, a letter states that he will be back shortly to continue his eastern Oregon exhibitions.

Dr. Waffle Is Back.
Dr. Eldred B. Waffle returned today from Astoria where he was called by the death of his wife's father, Benjamin Young. His wife will remain there for a while longer as she was appointed one of the administrators of the deceased's estate. Matters of settlement will require almost three months of her time which will make it impossible for her and her husband to resume the extensive tour of Europe and America which they were just beginning when interrupted by the untimely death of Mr. Young.

Special Claim Agent Bert Wilson of the O.-W. company is in the city today.

EVERETT CUTS EXPENSES.

Dry City Must Do Without Lights, Health Officer and Policemen. Everett, Wash., March 7.—Because the city must get along without the $70,000 usually received from liquor licenses, since the town just went dry, the city council today announced there will be no street lights, no health officer and there will be a big reduction in the police force and other cutting off of expenses. This is because there is no law which will permit the taxing of the people to meet these expenses.

As stated in the notice for bids the water main to be built by the state will be approximately 4500 feet in length. The detailed plans are on file with the board at Salem and also with Captain C. A. Murphy, superintendent in charge of the asylum tract.
