ROBINSON IS ORATOR.

Debater Will Represent State University in Oratorical Contest. (Special Correspondence.)

University of Oregon, Eugene, March 10.—In the closest tryout ever held at the university, Charles W. Robinson, yell leader, debater and editor of last year's Oregonian, the university year book, was selected by the judges to represent Oregon in the Tri-state oratorical contest, to be held at the University of Washington during April. Robinson's oration, "The Flames of the Crucible," deals with the immigration problem, and treats of the serious problems the United States faces in absorbing and assimilating the hordes of immigrants which annually flock to America.

"The Rust on Our Legal Machinery," by Carlton Spencer, gave Robinson's oration a close run, and was at first awarded the first decision by the judges. Upon reconsideration, however, Robinson was declared winner.

Robinson is registered from Oregon City, and since his entrance at Oregon has been prominently identified with forensics and student activities generally. He is an effective speaker, and because of his characteristic delivery and peculiar style, which are distinctly southern, he has acquired the sobriquet of "The Gentleman With the Southern Accent."

EDWARD TERRY COMING.

Dean of English Comedians Will Delight Pendleton Audience.

At the Oregon theater Wednesday, March 15, Mr. Edward Terry, who ranks as the dean of English comedians, will present a well chosen repertoire of some of the many successes which have made his name familiar to playgoers on both sides of the Atlantic. The exuberant humor, and delightful personality of this actor has made him a universal favorite for more than a generation and while it is six years since he last visited America, he left behind so many admirers that the success of his present tour would seem to be assured. Mr. Terry is a versatile artist and the list of the successful characterizations which he has given would be a lengthy one but undoubtedly those which have done the most to endear him to the public have been roles such as Dick Phenyl in "Sweet Lavender" and William Todman in "Liberty Hall." The extravagant fancy and dry sententious wit which underlie his impersonations is inimitable in such characters as these.

"THREE WEEKS."

A Moral Play With a Purpose Coming to the Oregon Theater Tuesday.

Much has been said and written both pro and con upon the subject of the play "Three Weeks," which is booked to appear at the Oregon on March 14, being moral or otherwise. No book, even among the "six best sellers," has been so widely read or discussed, not only in America but in Europe, and it is a fact that perhaps a majority of those who have read the book have done so with the idea of whetting their appetites for sensationalism. But to the reader who thinks, who tries ever so little to delve beneath the surface of things, it shows that Miss Glynn had a purpose and a very great one, for it leads up to the greatest question that is confronting every throne in the old world today, as well as the leaders of society in our own country, the marriage of royalty, of state and convenience. The marriage where no thought of love is ever enter tained. Such a marriage, Miss Glynn believes, is immoral in every sense of the word and is the direct cause of more unhappiness and the wrecking of more souls than any other conditions in our social lives.

If there be any unpleasant scenes or suggestions in the book there are absolutely none in the play. Only the plot has been used in the dramatization, and the play is as far from unpleasant suggestion as that great masterpiece, "Romeo and Juliet." The production is magnificent, the scenery the costumes and music being conceived by one of the greatest masters of stagecraft in the profession, and the cast has been selected with a view to perfectly fit the rather unusual types that the play demands.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are safe, sure and reliable, and have been praised by thousands of women who have been restored to health through their gentle aid and curative properties. Sold by all dealers.

PENDLETON MAN IS HEIR.

Brothers Share in Estate of Sister Slain by Husband.

A petition was filed in the probate court in Los Angeles Thursday by Walter E. Hersenger, of Redding, brother of Louise Reynolds, who was shot and killed by her husband, Charles F. Reynolds, near Lankershim, February 14.

It asks for his appointment as administrator of her estate, which was valued at $5700 and in which two Oregon brothers share. Of this amount $4000 is in realty and the balance in jewelry and other personal property. The heirs are the following brothers: John A. C. W. and W. E. Hersinger, of Redding; H. L. and W. F. Hersinger, of Grants Pass Ore.; T. J. Hersinger, of Stockton, and E. C. Hersinger of Pendleton, Ore.
