

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. And I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, fibroids, tumors, irregularities, pelvic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

UNION LABEL You may often think that hard is your lot; That with moral wounds you're scarred. When you're not; But remember, when you doubt What's ahead That you're never down and out Till you're dead. When Fate thumps you on the nose With a whack, Don't you whimper at her blows; Hit her back! Grit your teeth and "go the route." Till she's fled, For you're never down and out Till you're dead. Pull and wealth and all the rest Help a bit; But the man who stands the test Has the grit. Keep your heart and courage stout As you tread, For you're never down and out Till you're dead!

LIBERAL POLICY BETTER. Pendleton wants population and one of the best ways of getting the same is by treating with fairness and liberality those who come here to reside and to take advantage of our school system. We cannot hope to be popular if we draw our robes close about us and look upon newcomers as intruders who should be penalized for their coming.

These remarks are prompted by the recommendation of Frank K. Welles, county school superintendent, that outside children who attend the local schools be required to pay tuition. Under the law the school board has power to charge tuition from students who come here from the country or from abroad. However the board takes the broad view that people should be encouraged to come to Pendleton for school purposes. So they waive the right to charge tuition. That the majority of local people uphold the school board in this policy is scarcely to be doubted. At a meeting of the Commercial club last week this subject was discussed and a motion by R. Alexander to the effect that the board be endorsed in its policy was carried by unanimous vote. At the request of Superintendent Welles this paper will publish that portion of his report which deals with the subject of tuition. But the East Oregonian does not endorse his recommendation. On the contrary it believes that the school board is taking a wise course in waiving any tuition charges that might be imposed. The money that could be derived from tuition charges imposed on outside students would make no great difference in our school tax. On the other hand the moral effect of complying with Mr. Welles' suggestion would be bad. These days people look upon the public school as a free institution. The tuition school is a thing of the past and it should be. To revive tuition charges here would mean to take a backward step and Pendleton is going forward, not to the rear.

A CHANCE TO CELEBRATE. In the litigation that was on for a time between Messrs. Furnish and Coe the East Oregonian took no especial interest for the reason that the lawsuits affected the welfare of the two litigants rather than the people under the Furnish project. Apparently the people under that project and in Stanfield had little direct concern in the outcome of the litigation. But despite this fact it is most gratifying to know that the suits have been settled amicably. The litigation was hurting the development of the project in a moral way. People heard that a controversy was on and it made them scared and uneasy. This was true, even though they were told that settlers would not suffer because of the suits. It was true even though the reservoir was completed and the project turned from a flood irrigation project into a storage water project as agreed upon.

Now that the cloud has been lifted it would be very fitting for the people of Stanfield and of the project to hold a celebration. By holding such a celebration at Horseshoe curve they could celebrate the advent of peace and also dedicate the fine reservoir which is now full of water and is going to make the Furnish project fulfill the dreams of builder and promoter.

NO CLAMOR FOR IT. The Portland Oregonian has had some very sensational stories regarding "errors" in the senate journal and it has predicted that a special session will be made necessary. It is a case though where "the wish is father to the thought." The Oregonian along with standpatters in general would like to see a special session so that the legislature could take up the bills vetoed by the governor and pass some of them over the head of the chief executive. But the state at large has had enough of the legislature for one time and is not shouting for a special session. Most of the bills that were vetoed by the governor deserved the axe. Incidentally he trimmed appropriations to the extent of $600,000 and by doing so made the work of the session less odious to taxpayers who favor economy. Furthermore it would be bad indeed were a governor forced to call a special session of the legislature because of an irregularity discovered following an adjournment. It would mean to place a premium on skulduggery. It would be very easy for some clerk or legislator to extract something from the record and thus throw the situation into turmoil following each session.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER. At the Commercial club rooms a mass meeting is to be held tonight to discuss the proposition of changing the charter at a special election to be held soon. There are some charter changes that are needed and they must be made if this city is to do any great amount of street improving. Local businessmen and taxpayers should be on hand tonight and join in the discussion. Any differences of opinion should be threshed out now so that such amendments as are needed may be adopted at the special election.

The supreme court has held that the corporation tax is legal. In other words the government has a right to tax a corporation one per cent of its net earnings if above $5000 per annum. A corporation will have to pay that much for the privilege of being a corporation. No doubt the privilege is worth all it costs but it will be surprising how many corporations have net earnings that fall below the $5000 limit.

In Mexico the federals declare they NO MORE GREASY DOUGHNUTS. A lady in Greenville, S. C., recently wrote a friend as follows: "For years, after preparing doughnuts with the utmost care, I was disappointed to see them come out greasy and unwholesome looking. However, with my first use of Cottolene for frying them, I was delighted, as they were brown, crisp and delicious. "For making doughnuts, pastry, light bread and flaky biscuits I prefer Cottolene to any other shortening on the market. We even carry a pair of it on our annual camping trips through the mountains." Cottolene is made by The N. K. Fairbank Company, and is much more wholesome and economical than lard. It is sold by all good grocers.

will kill the insurgents without mercy when captured and now Madero comes back with a similar statement regarding federalists. If affairs continue at this rate it is entirely possible some people on both sides of the war may be injured.

In spite of the wars and other excitement incident thereto there seems no let up in the matter of mine explosions. The Grim Reaper is having a busy season.

The high school bill will look much better with a modern structure in place of the pile of brick now used for school purposes.

Whatever may be the cause of the mobilization the soldiers are not complaining.

ADAM II. Lewis Nixon, at the American Rubber club's recent dinner at Delmonico's in New York, said of the rubber market:

"It is, as a rule, a firm market. It isn't affected by imaginary ills. Thus it differs from little Adam Jones. "Little Adam Jones, at church one Sunday morning, showed marked interest in the sermon—a sermon about the creation of Eve. "After church Adam ate heartily of the Sunday dinner of turkey and mince pie, and then he went and sat down in a corner with his hands pressed tight upon his ribs and a look of pain and horror on his face. "Here an hour later, his mother found him. " "Why, Adam, what's the matter?" she cried. "Mamma," said little Adam, I am afraid I'm going to have a wife."
