MORE INDUSTRIOUS HENS.
Portland Fancier Says Orpingtons Are World-Beaters at Every Turn.
Portland, Or., March 8.—To the Editor of the Journal—I see from the Oregonian that a Milton woman has 45 hens which laid 960 eggs in one month and wishes to be shown if any other breed of fowls is better than the Buff Rocks. Nine hundred and sixty eggs would be an average of 21 1-3 eggs per hen, which is extremely good, but there is an old saying there never was a man so good but there was another just as good, and I think this proverb would do well applied to hens. I have a pen of five Buff Orpington pullets which started laying in November, laying 192 eggs that month, 191 in December and 110 in January. In February there was one of them setting the entire month and another two weeks of the month, yet I got 86 eggs from that pen during February. This is an average of a little over 24 eggs per hen. If I had had 45 hens during January that averaged 110 eggs to every five hens I would have received 990 eggs or 30 eggs more than the Buff Rocks laid. While we think the Buff Orpingtons better, for utility stock and good layers they are hard to beat. I have raised the Rocks but find the Orpingtons best, as for broilers they are ready for market some two weeks in advance of the Rocks; and as winter layers it cannot be denied they are not to be grinned at. And I have noticed there are considerable more people breeding the Orpingtons every year.

$370,000 WILL BE SPENT.

Salem, Ore.—The handsome total of $370,000 will be expended in this city by the Oregon Electric if the franchise for that railroad's extension is granted by the council tomorrow night. This will mean the payment of between $10,000 and $12,000 in additional taxes each year.

Among the many improvements contemplated is the construction of a handsome passenger station, probably at some point on High street.

Fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism is simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism, neither of which requires any internal treatment. The Latest About Appendicitis.
It has been announced that wind or gas in the stomach or bowels, sour stomach or constipation, are symptoms of chronic appendicitis which may any minute become acute. A doctor states that A SINGLE DOSE of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-Ika, the new German appendicitis remedy, relieves these symptoms almost INSTANTLY. Pendleton Drug company reports that many Pendleton people are receiving QUICK benefit.
