LYTLE REAPPOINTED SHEEP INSPECTOR

STATE BOARD OF SHEEP COMMISSIONERS MEET HERE

Pendleton Man Has Held Office Continuously Since Its Creation—Has Directed Campaign for Eradicating Scab.

Dr. W. H. Lytle of this city, state veterinarian, was last night reappointed state sheep inspector by the state board of sheep commissioners at their annual meeting here. The full membership of the board, President Charles Cleveland of Gresham, Secretary Herbert Boylen of Pilot Rock and H. C. Rooper of Antelope, was in attendance. Aside from the appointment of Lytle no action was taken but considerable discussion on sheep conditions was held.

Dr. Lytle has held the office of sheep inspector ever since the creation of that office four years ago by the legislature and it is due to his efforts that the diseases which ravage the flocks are almost entirely eradicated. In speaking of the condition of Oregon sheep this morning, he stated that no cases of scab have been reported this year but that there is still time for the dreaded disease to develop. However, he does not anticipate any great prevalence of it and thinks he can handle all cases easily. The winter was not a severe one and has left the sheep in fine condition, he says.

Dr. Lytle also spoke of the new veterinary law, a section of which, it has just been discovered, is void, stating that provisions of the section affected were not vital and that the nullification will not have any disastrous effect. The section in question is section 6 of the new act creating the state veterinary medical board and setting forth its powers. It is the act amending a former act and falls in the title to specify what similar section of the former act is intended to be amended, which, according to the constitution, will nullify that section. The section referred to relates to the application for permits to practice veterinary in Oregon. The result is that the provisions of the old law with reference to the admission to practice of a veterinary will prevail for two years longer. It was not as complete as the new law, which prescribes the subjects which the applicants should be examined in before they could be permitted to practice, and provided other reasonable regulations not now required.

EXODUS OF DUTCH.

More Than Two Hundred Farmers Sail from Amsterdam for America. Amsterdam, March 22.—Another exodus of Dutch farmers, the third in a month, took place today when about 250 persons boarded a liner to leave for America, which to the Dutch agriculturist has only lately become the land of promise. Most of the emigrants are going to Iowa, where many Dutch colonies have been highly successful and have spread the glad tidings among their relatives and friends at home. If the exodus continues at the present rate, the government may take some action to induce the farmers to remain in their native land.

Most of those who sail today, like the previous parties, are well-to-do and take enough money with them to buy farms and begin life prosperously in the New World. Dutch capital has played a large part in the development of the western part of the United States, but the emigration to America from Holland has been comparatively small.

INSTITUTE AIDS MILWAUKEE.

Municipal Aid Social Service Organization Works for Beer Town. Milwaukee, Wis., March 22.—It is probable that the Institute of Municipal and Social Service, which, with the sanction of the socialist city administration, has accomplished a great work for Milwaukee in the past year, will become a permanent institution with increased scope. Mrs. Anna Garlin Spencer, director of the institute, will lecture this afternoon on "Social Education, the Training for Efficiency in Social Work."

The first year of the institute, the only one of its kind in the country, will be rounded out next week. Campaigns have been inaugurated by the institute for better housing for workmen, child-saving and nursing and medical aid for the poor.

The first requisite in the line of construction is thought.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Daughter Is Born.
Dr. E. O. Parker reports the birth of a six pound daughter to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hunt of 215 Perkins avenue.

An Accidental Discharge.
While exhibiting a new automatic high power rifle to some friends at the depot about 1 o'clock, a stranger allowed the weapon to be discharged. The owner of the weapon was very much frightened and the crowd waiting for the train somewhat excited.

Has Patent Squirrel Trap.
J. B. McIlvain, formerly connected with the Spokane Spokesman-Review is in the city today exhibiting a patent squirrel trap. It is a heavy wire contrivance, can be pushed into a hole at any angle and looks like sure death to the little rodents. He will attempt to sell a large number to Umatilla county farmers.

Makes Good With Company.
Glen Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burr Johnson of this city, is making good with the O. W. R. & N. company with which he is employed. He has recently been promoted and transferred from the counting department of Portland to the same department in Seattle.

Begin Filling Well.
Workmen today began filling the old railroad well which was abandoned last winter and which is located near where the old roundhouse stood. The well is about 25 feet in diameter and will require a considerable amount of dirt for the fill.

Police Court Happenings.
Neal Dozier, who was arrested yesterday on complaint of Robert Willner charged with assault and battery, was adjudged technically guilty yesterday afternoon by Police Judge Fitz Gerald and given the minimum fine of five dollars. William Bonehead contributed five dollars this morning for being drunk and John Dryland is lingering in the city jail for five days on a vagrancy charge.

Street Closing Ordinance.
At the regular meeting of the city fathers tonight, an ordinance to close Aura and Lilith streets at their intersections with the railroad in order to give the railroad further room for operation will come up for its first reading. The majority of the council is in favor of the proposition but at least one is unalterably opposed to it and there promises to be some warm discussion before the evening is over.

Was a Shot Gun Shell.
A shot gun shell which exploded in a trash fire, that caused injury to Mrs. Olney Simpson and to her little son at the Harvey ranch 12 miles from the city yesterday. As the shell exploded one shot penetrated the little boy's hand, while two shots struck the mother. Neither were seriously hurt and are now rapidly recovering. They were brought to the city yesterday afternoon and their wounds dressed by Dr. C. J. Smith.

Jaw Broken by Horse.
Dr. I. U. Temple received a summons last evening to attend a rancher by the name of Bowman who lives about nine miles from the city in the Despain gulch and who had been kicked in the jaw by a horse. He hurried to the farm and discovered that the man's jawbone had been broken. The fracture was reduced but the physician is doubtful whether it remained until a cast could be made.

Mrs. Farnum Well Received.
Mrs. Marion Wards Farnum appeared at the Methodist church last night in a dramatic recital and that her efforts pleased the audience was attested by the enthusiastic applause which greeted her after each number. She recited a number of very difficult pieces and the manner in which she ran the gamut of human emotions stamps her as a finished elocutionist. The affair was given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church.

Raise Baseball Money.
The baseball committee consisting of Henry Collins, John Dickson and Fred Lampkin, circulated among the fans of the city yesterday and in a few hours succeeded in selling 50 season tickets at five dollars a ticket. These tickets give the bearer and his lady admission to all games played in the city and to grand stand privileges as well. The committee will go out again in a few days and expects to sell at least 50 more. Fans who have been missed can send a V-note to any member of the committee and will receive a ticket by return mail.

Bettering Tourist Travel.
Returning from a traffic meeting at Ogden, John M. Scott, assistant general passenger agent for the Harriman lines in Oregon dropped off in Pendleton yesterday. One of the steps arranged for at the Ogden meeting was to provide for a through sleeper from Portland to Yellowstone via Pocatello during the summer. Such a service as this was given during the Lewis & Clark fair and the service is being re-established this year for the benefit of the tourist travel. From here Mr. Scott went to North Yakima for the opening of the North Road into that city. He is to be at Madras April 25 when the Harriman line will be completed to the interior town.

WILLIAM P. STURGIS DIES THIS MORNING

The many friends of William P. Sturgis, eldest son of Mrs. Lina H. Sturgis of this city, were surprised and shocked today to learn of his death at the home of his mother on the north hill this morning at 8:30 o'clock. Death was caused by pneumonia which developed from an attack of pleurisy with which he was seized about ten days ago. For several days he has been quite low and this morning expired after hovering between life and death all night.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Charles Quinney of the Episcopal church at the Sturgis residence Thursday evening at 8 o'clock and the body will be taken to Walla Walla Friday morning for interment in the family vault beside the remains of his grandfather, grandmother and father. Roy Raley, Fred Earl, Royal Sawtelle, Ben L. Burroughs, Mark Moorhouse and Roy Alexander have been selected to act as pall bearers.

William Paine Sturgis was born at Weston, Oregon, September 4, 1881, and during the March of the following year moved to Pendleton with his parents, his father, Sam P. Sturgis, in that year opening the First National Bank here. Since that time he has spent his entire life here with the exception of several years during which he attended Shattuck school at Fairbault, Minn., and the University of California at Berkeley. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lina H. Sturgis, two brothers, James and Cyrus, who are now students of the University of Washington, and a young son.

James and Cyrus Sturgis were notified of their brother's death this morning and will reach this city from Seattle tomorrow morning.

The deceased was a life member of the Pendleton Aerle of the Eagles.

TO HECKLE TAFT.

President Will Be Grilled for Sending Troops to Border.

Washington, March 22.—Two weeks from yesterday the sixty-second congress will convene in extraordinary session to take up the Canadian reciprocity matter. That the senators will not stop at that, however, is certain from the statements given out by the democrats who will control the lower house. Present indications are that, immediately upon the convening of congress, a resolution will be introduced which will have the effect of putting President Taft on the grill in regard to the sending of troops to the Mexican border. The president will be called upon to make an unreserved statement in regard to the matter. Certain senators and representatives opposing the administration openly insinuate that the "interests" having great financial stakes in Mexico were responsible for the assembling of American soldiers on the threshold of a friendly nation.

Both Speaker Clark and Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee, declare that a downward revision of the tariff, cutting the schedules to a tariff for revenue basis will be undertaken at the special session. The woolsen schedule, it is now definitely known, will be the first subjected to the cutting process. Cotton, steel and textile schedules will follow. If the democrats succeed in getting these schedules approved, by the aid of progressive republicans in the senate, it is probable they will wait until the regular session next winter to tackle other schedules. The Canadian reciprocity agreement will almost certainly be passed by the house as it comes from the president. Some radical democrats want to tack on some other tariff measure, requiring the president to accept or reject both, but most of the leaders oppose this plan.

WASHINGTON WILL LEAVE FOR HIS COLLEGE HOME

New York, March 22.—Booker T. Washington will start south Sunday for an indefinite stay. He will return to prosecute Ulrich if his attorney wishes him to do so. Washington said he did not believe the incident would affect his work at Tuskegee.

You don't see the newspaper boys kicking on the income tax. It is human nature not to kick about something that only hurts the other fellow.

HERMISTON MAN IS BURIED AT ECHO

(Special Correspondence.)

Echo, Ore., March 21.—On Sunday afternoon at the I. O. O. F. cemetery of this place occurred the funeral of Adam Sappier of Hermiston. Mr. Sappier was 60 years five months and 20 days of age. He leaves two sons to mourn their loss. He was a member of the K. of P. order and the members of the local reclamation lodge of that place conducted the funeral, coming up on the local passenger and after the interment returning to their homes on the motor.

The ground in the baseball park is in splendid condition for the game that is to be played here next Sunday, March 26, between the Pendleton team and the Echo team. Sunday promises to be a gala day here. Besides the ball game, which opens the baseball season, there is to be a balloon ascension and parachute jump by M. E. Davis, known as the dare devil, who won the international balloon race at the A. Y. P. exposition in 1909; also the provincial balloon race at Victoria, B.
