SHEEP AND CATTLE PRICES ADVANCING

QUOTATIONS ARE 25 CENTS HIGHER FOR MUTTON

Hogs Weaker in the East But Values Are Unchanged—Stock Show Exhibits of Beef Spring the Market.

(Thursday's Journal)

There was another advance in the price of sheep today, quotations being generally 25c higher. The entire livestock market, with the exception of hogs, was firmer and the latter market was weak and sold generally at $7.75@7.85 for top stuff. Real heavy hogs were very much depressed and for this class of stuff prices ruled down as low as $5 in the yards today. Only one animal went at this figure, but even then it was docked 50 pounds in weight, making the net price extremely low. Another animal that sold at $7 was docked a similar weight.

The Portland market is just 10c above what it costs to land supplies from Nebraska. This is the smart premium that has been offered for the home grown product for some time and tends to indicate that buyers are tired of paying the exorbitant premiums they have offered to date.

There was a weaker showing in the hog market in the east today, but values were little changed. At South Omaha the market was steady to lower, with tops selling at $6.51, while at Chicago the market was weak to 5c lower, with tops at $11.10.

Packers have shown a willingness to pay something better for a portion of the show stock that did not receive prizes than for the regular run. Sales in this respect were made as high as $7.25 today, but the general market for what is ordinarily considered top steers here ranges no higher than $6.75. Even this is an advance of a quarter over previous quotations.

Mohair Market Mixed.
The market for mohair is mixed. Views of dealers are apart, but prices being offered show a range of only 2c a pound, which is not more excessive than during previous years.

Mohair prices here today range from 30c to 32c a pound, according to quality and size of slip offering. General market stands midway between these two figures and most of the small business now offering is going at that figure.

"We do not see how the mohair market is going to do better at this time," said Theodore Bernheim & Co. "Manufacturers who do business with us state that the demand for goods is not brisk and therefore their wants of hair are not likely to be quite as extensive. Whether this is merely the ways of the man who wants to buy we are unable to say, but the parties imparting the information are among our best customers and generally pay the price asked."

Still another note of warning is being sounded by buyers of wool and mohair regarding the tying of bundles with sisal. For two years manufacturers and dealers have made a campaign against the use of sisal owing to the great damage it does in the making of cloth. Last season most buyers and manufacturers enacted a penalty of 2c a pound on all mohair or wool tied with sisal, but this year dealers say they intend to enforce the discrimination in order to stamp out the practice at once.

A small amount of new wool is coming forward from eastern Oregon. Quotations generally offering are about 3c a pound under those in effect at the start of last season. The general run of eastern Oregon wool is being quoted around 12@12 1-2c a pound, while a year ago it was picked up around 15c.

While wool shearing in the Willamette valley will not start for about six weeks dealers are already putting out prices. Willamette valley stock is now being quoted at 15c to 17c a pound compared with 19c to 20c.

Bluestem Scarce.
Bluestem wheat is exceedingly scarce and millers throughout the Pacific northwest are offering from 86c to 88c a bushel. The higher price is said to be offered on the sound this morning. Club wheat is again dull here, with offers not ranging above 82c a bushel, although 84c is being offered and paid in a limited way in the north by the same people who are operating here.

Export flour has been advanced 10c a barrel all along the coast. According to the Portland Flouring Mills company its quotation was advanced two days ago and business is now coming forward at the higher figures.

Patent flour is firmer and in some quarters there is talk of putting values higher.

Barley continues to show considerable strength on account of the liberal demand for brewing from the east. Quotations are unchanged for the day.

Oats market is generally firmer at $7.50 and $28 a ton locally.

Chicken Market Good.
Market for chickens is very good and while the receipts continue liberal the trade is cleaning up at the prices quoted recently.

Packers continue to bring in storage chickens from the east but as yet these importations have no effect upon the local trade.

Dressed Hogs Lower.
Sharply lower prices for hogs recently in the livestock market has affected the dressed meat trade to a considerable extent and values are down. General run of fancy hogs is selling at 11c a pound while ordinary stuff is not quoted higher than 10c.

Dressed veal is steady at the recent decline.

OMAHA CATTLE STEADY.
Market is Good Today; Some Weakness is Exhibited in Hogs.
South Omaha, Neb., March 23—Cattle, 3900; market steady; steers, $6.10 @6.25; cows and heifers, $4.30@4.70.

Hogs, 10,000; market steady to lower, sales, $6.40@6.55.

Sheep, 7800; market steady; yearlings, $5.35@5.65; wethers, $4.85@5.15; lambs, $6.10@6.40; ewes, $4.65@5.00.

CHICAGO HOGS LOWER.

Market is Weak at 5c Down, and With Heavier Receipts.
Chicago, March 23.—Run: Hogs, 23,000; cattle, 5500; sheep, 14,000.
Hogs are weak to 5c lower; left-over, $2.00; receipts a year ago, 14,000; mixed, $6.70@6.95; heavy, $6.70 @6.90; rough, $6.60@6.85; light, $6.75@7.10.
Cattle, strong.
