Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Mrs. Jennie E. Crouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Taylor, is now here upon a visit from her home in Portland.

Story Hour Tomorrow.
The regular weekly story hour will be held tomorrow morning at the public library rooms with Miss Elsie Conklin in charge of the young folks.

Old Timer Returns.
Ben F. Wammuth, who lived in this city twenty years ago, surprised many of his old time friends by dropping in on them today. He is at present living in Portland.

Membership Cards are Ready.
Mrs. James A. Fee, president of the Library and Civic association announces that the membership cards for the organization are now ready and can be had at the free public library by those wishing to become members of the association.

H. E. Bickers Coming.
H. E. Bickers, formerly of Pendleton, and until recently superintendent of the home for the feeble minded, is to return to this city to reside. He will arrive here about April 4 and is intending to go into the real estate and insurance business with his relative, Lee Teutsch.

Ladies Will Meet.
An important meeting of the Library and Civic association has been called for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the city hall. A full attendance is desired for the reason that the plans for the cleaning up campaign to be waged next Friday and Saturday, are to be made.

Two Drunks in Court.
Two drunks, George Emory and William Nelson were brought before Judge Fitzgerald this morning and received the usual sentence of three days in jail or five dollars fine. As they both lacked the necessary pecunia for the fine, they are at present languishing.

Upholstery Shop Opened.
A new business establishment was opened here today when the Pendleton Upholstery and Cabinet Finishing company was started. The proprietors are J. H. Orr and F. Freedman and for the time being they will have orders for work left at the Folsom furniture store. They will have a work shop on Cottonwood street.

Fine Lot of Porkers.
Bert Whitman purchased a fine car load of hogs at Stanfield yesterday for the slaughtering firm of Carney & Whitman and unloaded the animals this morning at the local stockyards of the O.-W.-R. & N. Co. There were 67 hogs in the lot, with an average weight of 177 pounds, this being about the size most in demand at this season of the year.

Good Roads Meeting.
At the rooms of the Commercial club tomorrow afternoon a meeting of the Umatilla county good roads association will be held. A good attendance is desired by President H. J. Taylor who says that some business of importance will come up for consideration. One of the biggest subjects for the consideration of the association now is that of improving the Wild Horse road.

Handsome Piece of Work.
The congregation of the local Methodist church has purchased a large silver tablet upon which is engraved "To the Memory of John L. Stockman," which will be placed upon the pipe organ for which instrument he deceased and his widow subscribed two-thirds of the purchase price. The engraving, which was done by Will Hanscom, was a handsome piece of work. The tablet will be unveiled at the morning service Sunday.

Many Attend Sturgis Funeral.
The funeral of Will Sturgis, who died Wednesday morning from pneumonia, was held at the Sturgis home on the north hill last evening at 8 o'clock and there were many friends present to pay their last respects to the dead. Rev. Charles Quinney of the Church of the Redeemer, preached the funeral sermon. The body of the deceased was shipped to Walla Walla this morning, where it was interred in the family vault.

Two Carloads of Sows.
Lee Teutsch is a believer in hog raising as a profitable industry for this county. Recently he asked W. H. Daugherty, president of the Union Stock yards at Portland, to secure him two carloads of brood sows in the east. Accordingly, Mr. Daugherty sent Perry Gould, formerly of this city, to Omaha to make the purchases and Mr. Teutsch has just been notified that the shipment will be made tomorrow and will reach this city during the latter part of next week. There are about 125 sows in the two carloads, a part of which will be put on the Teutsch and Milne farm near Barnhart and the remainder sold.

J. S. Kees is Sued.
J. Huleman, through his attorney, Will M. Peterson, has entered suit against J. S. Kees for the collection of $356.25 and $50 attorney fees. He alleges that on May 5, 1908, the defendant as principal and the plaintiff as surety delivered to George W. Beddow their joint and promissory note for $300 which was to be taken up one year after date. He further alleges that defendant only paid $30 interest in August 1909 and that on March 21, 1911 he was forced to pay the balance due, $356.25 upon the demand of Mr. Beddow. He complains that J. S. Kees had the sole use of the $300 borrowed and should therefore reimburse plaintiff.

Mayor James Kyle of Stanfield, attended the Commercial club banquet last night.

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS WIN.

ripe for providing them. This year, however, conditions seemed favorable and we determined that we would ask the people to vote the necessary bonds. Their answer yesterday is most gratifying."

Demonstration Planned.
City Superintendent Landers is also quite elated over the victory and Principal Hampton is jubilant. As one student expressed it, "He is wearing a smile today for the first time in several weeks." The students themselves are beside themselves with joy and are planning a demonstration to celebrate their victory. President Devine has issued a call for a student body meeting after school this evening and plans for giving vent to their exuberance will be taken up. It is probable that they will do some serpentine and yelling on the streets this evening.

According to Chairman Tallman, every effort will be made to commence the work of tearing down the present structure in preparation for the erection of the new at the earliest possible time. It will be first necessary, he said, to advertise the bonds and have them taken up. This he considered would be done by May 1 and by that date, it is the intention of the board to move the students of the high school to the Pendleton Academy building on the north side of the river so that Architect Troutman can begin the work of destruction. While every effort will be made to have the new building ready for occupancy by the beginning of the next term of school, it is probable that the first month will have to be spent in the academy buildings.

Architect Troutman will also begin work on the addition to the Lincoln school about May 1. The plans for this addition were made at the time the present building was constructed and they will be carried out as originally made.

Miss Mandy Price came in from her home near Adams on the local this morning and is spending the day with friends.

Winter Forgotten

Old Jack Frost and Winter have been relegated to the past at this store--all thoughts now are of spring

Our entire store is a busy scene of rearranging, displaying spring goods and preparing for the coming season, which we expect to eclipse all our past season's records.

During our great sale, just closed, we succeeded in cleaning out all the old stock and are now showing nothing but the very latest--all new goods.

WEISER DELEGATION VISITS PENDLETON

A delegation of prominent business men, capitalists, farmers and fruit growers from Weiser, Idaho, spent last evening in Pendleton and were the guests of the local commercial association at the first monthly luncheon. The party was traveling in a private car and were on their way home from an excursion to Walla Walla and North Yakima, having taken advantage of the opening of the North Coast road to visit eastern Oregon and Washington.

In addition to those from Weiser, J. R. Blackaby of Ontario, Oregon, which is just across the Snake river from Weiser, was in the party. Two other men, one of them the publicity manager and secretary of the Ontario Commercial club, started out on the trip but remained in Yakima to round up a bunch of capitalists to take to the far eastern Oregon town in an effort to induce them to invest.

The Idaho men who were here last evening were Charles and John Bohrer, farmers and fruit growers; George W. Waters, sheriff of Washington county; J. M. Snider, fruit grower; R. C. McKinney, real estate dealer; William Wilson, farmer; George Nesbit, capitalist; J. T. Stephen, farmer; Henry Hughes, farmer; D. Mitchell, fruit grower; J. H. Mitchell, fruit grower; and F. Harding, editor of the Weiser American. These were all from Weiser, while R. E. Wilson, another member of the touring party, is a banker from Cambridge, Idaho.

David Bruce-Brown, the racing driver has gone to Turin, Italy, where he will look over the Fiat works and select a car that he will likely drive in the French Grand Prix next July.

BASEBALL SEASON TO OPEN NEXT SUNDAY

BLUE MOUNTAIN LEAGUE TEAMS READY FOR BATTLE

Manager Nelson and His Bronchos Will Tackle Jackrabbits at Echo--Thompson and Milne Slated for the Mound.

The last touches are being put upon the teams of the Blue Mountain league in preparation for the ushering in of the season next Sunday afternoon. From all reports the teams will be much stronger than those of last year and the fans will witness a much more creditable class of ball.

Manager Nelson is putting his men through their paces each evening and stated this morning that his team intended to start the season right by returning from Echo Sunday with the scalps of their first foes. He announced his lineup for the initial game as follows: Ward, catcher; Thompson and Milne, pitchers; Nelson, first base; Blough and Walsh, second base; Dickson, third base; Leonard, short stop; Jones, Alexander, Strand and Irwin, outfielders. Ward has been appointed captain of the team and as he has a good knowledge of inside baseball, the appointment should assist the team on to victory.

Echo is fairly agog over the opening of the season and is preparing a celebration that sounds like Fourth of July. A parade has been planned to precede the game and in the pageant will be Echo Cornet Band, automobiles with the speaker of the day, managers and visiting officials of the Blue Mountain base ball league; Echo and Pendleton ball teams, citizens in carriages and on horse back; a band of cowboys and cowgirls on horse back followed by bicyclists and others who desire to join the parade.

Another attraction for that day will be the big balloon ascension which will take place at the ball park immediately after the ball game, by Prof. M. E. Davidson, known as Dare Devil Davidson, who will guarantee a high and spectacular ascension and a most thrilling parachute jump from cloud-land. The aeronaut goes through a routine of daring trapeze performances during the entire ascension and descension.

COMMERCIAL CLUB LUNCHEON.

by the toastmaster and responded with brief remarks was James Kyle, mayor of Stanfield and booster for the Furnish irrigation project.

Attorney J. P. Neil of Freewater, brought forth cheers by declaring that Orchard county had ceased to exist and that the most of the same should be allowed to sleep in peace.

Don Campbell of Hermiston, responded in behalf of the little west end city and expressed the gratitude of the people of the west end country for the work of the Pendleton commercial club in working for the west extension of the Umatilla project and also for the passage of a herd law that is of advantage to the settlers on the project.

Douglas Belts of Pilot Rock, was the last speaker of the evening and he told of the development work in prospect for the southern end of the county. He also paid a tribute to President Dan P. Smythe of the Commercial club and declared that if the club followed his leadership the coming year would be a prosperous time for the organization.
