KNOWLEDGE COMPETITION.

The East Oregonion today announces a novel and interesting competition, the basis of which is familiarity with Pendleton's commercial life and practical acquaintance with her various firms and business houses.

A number of questions are asked. Who will answer them? As will be noted, several attractive prizes are offered as a stimulus to competition.

Answers, to be correct, must have firm names correctly spelled and in the usual style of the firm. By this is meant that it will not be sufficient to merely say "Smith's" or "Smith's Grocery," when the firm's pame and style is "Lohn D. Smith & State of the transaction is complete.
