ARTILLERY COMING TO FORT WALLA WALLA

That Fort Walla Walla, which has been practically abandoned for the past seven months, has not been permanently abandoned by the government is proven by the fact that detachments of artillery which have been on duty in the Philippine islands for the past three years, have been ordered to this post, says the Walla Walla Union. The order called for immediate transfer, and it is probable the troops will be at the fort here within the next few weeks.

News of the decision of the war department to again employ Fort Walla Walla, was contained in a letter received here Monday by a resident of Walla Walla, the author having been a relative now sojourning in the islands, and in a position to know the details of the transfer ordered.

DELIRIOUS WITH SMALLPOX LOST IN BLIZZARD

Fort Collins, Colo., April 5.—Calvin Miller, delirious with smallpox, and wife and her seven months old baby are lost in a blizzard that is raging on the Medicine Bow range. It is feared they have perished. He took his family on a sledge and started for the mountains yesterday. The rescuers started upon the trail shortly afterward. No trace has been found. He had neither food or sufficient clothing.

Milwaukee is fighting the smoke nuisance. Electricity is to be substituted.

PLACE SUBMARINE MINES AT MOUTH OF COLUMBIA

Fort Stevens, Ore. — Submarine mines, charged with powerful explosives, are to be placed at the mouth of the Columbia river beginning on the last day of April on a scale never before attempted on Pacific coast waters.

A veritable network of the grim protectors will be placed and orders have been received from the war department that immediately the mines are placed, practice is to be held by the coast defense forces stationed at Fort Stevens and at least three exploded for the purpose of testing the completed work.

Active operations will be started when the mine-planter Ringgold arrives at the mouth of the Columbia river on April 30. When the work is completed the approaches to the Portland harbor will be guarded not by a few scattered mines as heretofore, but by a comprehensive system which will cover the entire channel, arranged in several groups of 19 mines each.

Some idea of the danger which would be encountered by any hostile warship attempting to enter the river will be gleaned from the fact that these mines will be laid, according to the war department maps, in such a manner that each mine shall be located so as to be within a distance of not exceeding 100 feet from its nearest deadly neighbor.

Officials point out the effectiveness of this system by calling attention to the fact that the length of battleships and cruisers averages from 500 to 700 feet and they declare that destruction is an absolute certainty if any such vessels should pass over any portion of this carefully arranged network of destruction.

To add to the strength of the defense and to prevent the possibility of war vessels passing around the groups of mines, they are to be located in narrow portions of the channel, completely obstructing the river.

TO ERECT LABOR TEMPLE

New Structure at Spokane Will be Four Stories High—To Cost $160,000.

Spokane, Wash.—Four stories high, built of concrete reinforced and stone and covering a site 50 by 142 feet, will be the labor temple to be erected this year by the trades unions of Spokane at a cost of $160,000. The features of the structure will be a gymnasium, reading and lounging rooms, a plunge 30 by 100 feet, eleven halls with seating capacity ranging from 150 to 1,200, a large auditorium, 12 office suites and two store rooms. The lighting, heating, water and ventilating systems will be the most modern in practical use. The money is being raised by selling stock to members of the local organizations. David C. Coates, commissioner of public works, acquired the first $10 share for $3 at an auction. The unions are now meeting in different parts of the city, paying a total rental annually of $5,500 for halls and offices. While Spokane cannot be regarded a strict union city, as the open shop policy is maintained by the largest employers, the various trades are well represented and their relations with employers are cordial.

IMMIGRATION FROM AFRICA IS ENORMOUS

If the imagination be allowed to range over the facts disclosed by the history of slavery in the new world the dramatic magnitude of the great episode becomes almost oppressive. Weston, in the "Progress of Slavery" (1857), called attention to the fact that instead of America's being settled by the European races, "the truth really is, that America, including its islands, has been settled chiefly from Africa, and by negroes;" and that prior "to the commencement of the present century the number of negroes brought hither had probably exceeded the whole number of Europeans of all nationalities, who had emigrated hither, twenty-fold or even more."

The Encyclopedia Americana (1851) computed the negroes taken for transportation to the new world during the last three centuries at "about 46,000,000, of whom 15 or 20 per cent died on the passage."—Winthrop M. Daniels in Atlantic Magazine.
