DEBATING TEAM TO LEAVE FOR FOSSIL

Laden down with heavy arguments, the Pendleton high school debating team will leave tomorrow for Fossil, where the Wheeler county high school trio will be met in forensic contest Friday night. The local team is composed of James Hartwell, leader, Claud Hampton, first colleague and Chester Fee, second colleague. Hartwell was a member of the renowned team of last year which carried off the interscholastic championship of Oregon, while Fee has had much experience in debating work. Hampton is the only new man on the team, but he has shown up exceptionally well in the practices.

This will be the first actual debate for the local team this year, the scheduled contest with La Grande having been won on a forfeit. The winner of the debate at Fossil will meet the Baker team for the championship of eastern Oregon, that team having recently administered a defeat to Prineville.

The Pendleton boys will have the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, That further material increases in the United States navy are desirable." They will be accompanied on their trip by Prof. C. C. Ruth.

Newsy Notes of Pendleton

Bank Examiners Here.
 Will Wright, state bank examiner, and Will H. Bennett, assistant state bank examiner, have been here today. They are upon a routine trip of inspection and left this afternoon for Helix.

Accused of White Slavery.
 Immigration Agent Wells of Walla Walla passed through Pendleton last evening en route to Salt Lake City, having in his custody a young man by the name of William Morrison, who is charged with bringing a young girl from the Utah city to Walla Walla for immoral practices.

Says Wife Deserted Him.
 M. T. Starr has commenced suit against his wife, Stella S. Starr, for a divorce, alleging in his complaint that they were married on October 23, 1909, and that since January, 1910, the defendant has refused to live with him. Homer I. Watts of Athena, is attorney for the plaintiff.

Coon Catches Fish.
 Quite a crowd gathered in front of the window of La Dow & Peterson this afternoon to watch a raccoon catch minnows which had been placed in a small pool of water. The little animal seemed to meet with much better success than did a number of piscatorial experts who lashed Umatilla county streams last Sunday.

Fruit Is Undamaged.
 Attorney James P. Neal of Free-water, is in the city today and states that the reports to the effect that the recent cold weather has killed the buds and blossoms of the fruit trees in the Milton-Freewater district are false. He says that up to date there has been practically no damage done.

Will Show Cheyenne Pictures Here.
 Pendleton people will have an opportunity during the next two days of seeing moving pictures of the only show on earth that rivals the Round-up. Harry Fleishman, who has purchased the state rights for the pictures, is in the city today and will arrange with one of the local picture houses to show his films here. They are said to present the most thrilling scenes ever produced by a moving picture company.

Will Repair Railroad Walk.
 C. E. Fisher, of the firm of Fisher & Petri, was in the city this morning and inspected the cement walks which lead to the depot, which walks were laid by his firm. Although it has been but a short time since the work was done, the surface of the walks is crumbling and in many places there are large holes worn. As a result of the visit of Mr. Fisher, the walks will be repaired in the near future.

Services at Catholic Church.
 Tomorrow, Holy Thursday, the Catholic church will commemorate the institution of the Most Holy Eucharist. Ceremonies will begin at 8 a. m. with high mass, followed by the Procession to the Altar of the Repository. During the day the various Sodalties will be in attendance at the hour of Adoration appointed for each Sodality. Evening service will begin at 7:30, consisting of rosary, sermon on the Most Blessed Sacrament, followed by appropriate prayers.

Chicken Yard Is Flooded.
 Edgar F. Averill, the well known poultry enthusiast and former secretary of the Umatilla-Morrow County Poultry association, is thinking seriously now of supplanting his famous flock of Buff Orpingtons with ducks and geese as the result of an experience he had yesterday. The water main near his place broke and immediately the whole vicinity, including the Averill chicken yard, was flooded, and the journalistic chicken raiser had a task of rescue cut out for him. The last setting hen he reached was all but submerged by the rising water.

Umatilla-Morrow Directory.
 W. J. Lloyd, representative of the Polk Directory company, has been in the city today doing advance work in connection with the publication of a Umatilla-Morrow county directory next fall. In the past the R. L. Polk & Co.'s directory has been for Umatilla, Union and Baker counties. Moved by complaints made by the East Oregonian and by local business men when the last directory was published Morrow county will be linked with Umatilla this year, while Baker and Union will be grouped in another directory.

Dr. Mann Goes to Canada.
 Dr. E. A. Mann, the well known dentist, will close his offices temporarily tomorrow and leave for Alberta, where he will attempt to sell a tract of land owned by himself and other local people. The prospects for a bumper crop are good in that country and Dr. Mann believes he will experience no great difficulty in turning the land. Mrs. Mann, who has been very ill for some time, is sufficiently recovered to travel to Walla Walla, where she will remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, during her husband's absence in the north.

Case Is Non-Suited.
 The case of W. H. Gibson vs. Lovelin & Brown which was appealed from the justice to the circuit court was this morning non-suited, Judge Phelps ruling that the evidence submitted by Attorney J. B. Perry for the plaintiff was not sufficient to prove his contention. This is the case in which a traveling representative of the defendant company hired a livery rig of the plaintiff and charged it to the company. The company refused to pay the bill, claiming that their agent was not authorized to charge any of his expenses to them. A jury in the justice court rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and Attorney Roy Raley for the defendant appealed the case. A jury was drawn this morning and, after the evidence of the plaintiff was introduced, Attorney Raley moved for a non-suit which motion was allowed.

H. S. Students Cast Ballots.
 The students of the local high school this afternoon are exercising their right of franchise in their annual election of officers of the student body. Competition is keen for several offices, notably for the presidency three candidates, Chester Fee, Chester Gordon and Cliff Jordan being in the field. For several offices, there is no competition at all.

Will Open Bridge Bids Tonight.
 At the regular meeting of the council tonight, the sealed bids for the contract for building a new Main street bridge will be opened. Up until 3 o'clock there had been only three bids filed with the recorder. The contract for furnishing cork carpet for the city hall and opera chairs for the vacant room on the top floor will also be let tonight.

MAJOR LEAGUES OPEN TODAY.

fied his team against reverses as far as it is possible for human ineptitude to do so.

New York's chances are considered particularly good this year because of the belief that Mathewson is as good as ever and that Pitchers Raymond and Marquard will be of tremendous service to the team.

The only change in the Pittsburg lineup is the placing of Hunter at first in place of Flynn. Hunter is the umpire's man who has tried to play first for the Pirates since Kirby Bransfield quit Smoketown. Some of these days Manager Clark is bound to find a good man for this bag—on the law of chances—and those who have seen him say Hunter is the man.

Change in Soul, Teams.
 Cincinnati and Philadelphia will show the most changes of any of the leading teams, due to the swap of players. Eddie Grant, according to reports, is playing a bank-up game at third for the Reds and Pitcher McQuillen, another Quaker castoff, is showing great form. "That Cincinnati has a good team—even a dangerous team—no one will deny, but the team has blasted hopes so often that it is next to impossible to consider Griffith's men as anything more than trouble makers for others. In Froome and Gaspas, Griffith has two men who should win a big majority of their games if their arms remain intact.

Manager Chase's New York Highlanders, runners-up last year, are generally picked to repeat this trick, although it will not be the same this year. Austin at third and Laporte and Gardner at second, are gone from the lineup this year. Jack Knight, who played short last year, is doing well at second and Johnson, Hartzell and Elliott are fighting it out for the positions of third and shortstop. It is divulging no secret to say that many New York fans doubt the managerial ability of Hal Chase. They say that a man who once deserted his team and brought about his own elevation through the medium of disorganizing cliques, is not the man to hold a team together throughout an entire season. The Highlanders look strong, especially in their batteries, and have a lot of pep, but it is feared that a hard row is ahead of them.

Detroit Looks Good.
 Hughey Jennings at Detroit says the Tigers are going to do what the Cubs did last year; come back after their reverse and carry off the flag. Jennings is known as a great manager but if he beats out Connie Mack this year with his somewhat doubtful bunch of Tigers, he may well be called the greatest manager. Jennings has lost Tom Jones from first and Matty McIntyre from right field and their successors look to be men of only mediocre ability.

Cleveland Fans Quiet.
 Cleveland fans are refraining from making any predictions, as it is realized that nearly everything depends on how Maguire's big string of young pitchers turns out. Maguire will have to rely almost entirely on youngsters in the box, as Joss, Falkenberg and Young are all tottering. Several of the Cleveland youngsters showed well toward the close of last season, but a long grinding season, when the whole circuit has learned a pitcher's stock in trade, is a different proposition. Few experts pick Cleveland for the upper berth.

The easiest thing in the world to do is to pick the most probable occupant of the last place in the American league race. Bobby Wallace's luckless Cardinals have a warranty deed to the ground floor and if there were twice as many teams in the league, the same condition would prevail. If the Cardinals have a single strength, it has been concealed up to date. Twenty-nine of the baseball writers referred to, condemned the Cardinals to the cellar, but one writer determined to have his joke done up St. Louis to beat out Washington.

The Boston Red Sox are sure to be heard from, although their work last year was disappointing. The Red Sox used to be known as the "speed merchants," but they seem to have lost this characteristic. Manager Donovan has been gradually dropping out of the managerial firmament and it is up to him to do valiant things this year to prevent his effacement. With Jake Stahl quitting the game and Lord and McConnell traded to the White Sox, Boston will have to build up a new infield this year. Once in a while you will find a manager who will tell you that this is no snap.

All in all it looks like a merry race with many a thrill between now and the time the flag falls.

.. A Camera ..

Optically speaking, the eye is like a camera, as it possesses a light bending and a light registering apparatus. In a camera the light registering plate is chemically sensitized and in the eye the corresponding plate is nervously sensitized, thereby communicating the impression made by waves of light to the brain. The eye, like the camera, in order to do good work must have its light registering and light bending apparatus in perfect adjustment to each other.

If an eye for instance, is not deep enough from front to back, then an adjustment that is not normal must be maintained through an excessive exertion of the small muscles governing the focal power.

The excess exertion required to keep up this visual adjustment, as well as others, constitutes what is known as "eye strain," because tension on the muscles can produce fatigue and a strain of headache and other nervous reflexes.

Glasses correctly fitted serve to bend the rays of light before they enter the imperfectly formed eye and thus enable it to perform its visual function without excess effort.

We are at your service for consultation and properly fitted glasses.
