Demand Parcels Post.
Washington, April 25.—A conference on the parcels post was opened this forenoon at the New Willard by the Postal Progress league. The object of the meeting is to push the parcels post project in and out of congress and to arouse a general public demand for such mail facilities.
Resolutions were adopted by the league favoring a general parcels post for packages of 11 pounds or less at eight cents a pound, a cheap local parcels post on the rural routes and insurance of all mail matter.
It is pointed out that the present rate for parcels within the United States is sixteen cents a pound, while packages of eleven pounds weight or less may be sent from Europe to any point in this country for eight cents a pound, involving a 100 per cent protection of foreigners against citizens.

detective who tracked down the accused men, is keeping his own counsel, and has not informed any one of the movements of the prisoners.
That they are coming across the continent by zigzag routes, however, is asserted on all sides. Chief of Police Sebastian said today he believed the prisoners and their guards would not arrive for two weeks. Sheriff Hamel, who will be directly charged with the custody of the alleged plotters, declared they would probably not arrive until the last of the present week, instead of Wednesday, as expected.
Burns said that when John McNamara reaches Los Angeles he will be identified as Bryce, who bought the dynamite at Giant and the man whom they have traced and learned is one of the dynamiters.
Berger Asks Investigation.
Washington, April 25.—Resolution demanding an investigation of the arrest of John McNamara in Indianapolis was introduced in the house today by Representative Berger, the Milwaukee socialist.
Brought to Los Angeles Secretly.
Los Angeles, April 25.—While the suspected dynamiters are nearing Los Angeles, preparations are being made to house the men in either the city or county jail. They probably will be brought into this city secretly. The district attorney's office has full charge of the prosecution. It has been decided to try the McNamaras for murder. The train should reach this city at midnight.
Burns Confident.
Columbus, Ohio, April 25.—Detective Burns, who was in Columbus for an hour last night enroute to Indianapolis, divulged for the first time some of the evidence upon which he bases his charges that the McNamara brothers and McManigal were connected with the dynamite outrages in Los Angeles.
Burns said he had learned that J. W. McNamara was in Los Angeles at the time of the explosion, in fact had been there for several days prior to the disaster.
"When J. W. McNamara reaches Los Angeles this week he will be identified as the man who purchased dynamite from the Giant Powder company, and who used the alias of J. B. Bryce at the time," said Burns.
"Aside from saying he fits the description of the man who purchased the dynamite, I am not now privileged to say what other facts we have on which to base our conclusions. But you may say I am absolutely positive that he will be recognized as the purchaser of the dynamite."
Two sticks placed under the Times building failed to explode. They were taken to the Giant Powder company and identified as pieces purchased by this man Bryce.
Burns said that with McNamara when he bought the dynamite were David Kaplan and M. A. Schmidt, for whom detectives have been searching since the disaster occurred. These two men, Burns said, were anarchists and had no connection with the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers.

"We have learned that McNamara (J. W.) was in the pay of J. J. McNamara, secretary of the Iron Workers' association, during the time that he was in Los Angeles, we have also proof that McManigal was in the pay of the secretary," continued Burns.

this point the doctor calls to treat Priscilla for her sore throat. This M. D. is a crank on germs and microbes, arguing that bacteria lurks in everything and thorough and frequent disinfection is our only hope to escape disease. Paul is introduced to the doctor, but before taking Paul's hand the doctor disinfects it.
2. "Her Child's Honor." Lubin. The dramatic story of a woman who, by a cruel joke of fate, found herself married to two men. How she righted the wrong and kept the name of the child untarnished by sacrificing herself. A feast of clever acting and a unique plot.
3. "Rescued from the Desert." Kalem. A story of Mad Mule Canyon. This production was made on the Great American desert.
"A Fatal Resemblance." Pathe. An American drama filled with interest. This is a story that might well happen and has excellent dramatic quality.

JACK LONDON'S SHOW AT OREGON THEATER

Tomorrow evening at the Oregon theater the attraction will be Johnson's Travelogues and Willard, the Man of Mystery Co. No better popular priced attraction was ever presented in Pendleton than this attraction. Two and one-half hours of amusing, interesting and instructive entertainment. Everyone remembers London's memorial trip to the South Seas in "The Shark." Martin E. Johnson, who was Jack London's companion on this trip, comes back with camera and motion picture to show what they saw among the cannibals of that far away land.
Willard, who divides honors with Johnson, stands today in a class by himself as an entertainer, doing many marvelous and wonderful stunts. Among other things he increases his height from 5 1-2 to 7 inches, while standing in full view of the audience. While you may have seen some noted magicians and wizards at various times, yet Willard is surely the peer of them all. A complete change of program is given each evening. Popular prices, 15, 25 and 35c will prevail.

The Pastime Theater.

"The house of quality." A special feature film goes on Tuesday.
"The Little Lad in Dixie." Vitagraph portrayal of an incidental story of the civil war. Here is a picture that wins the attention and hearts of people because it has to do with a phase of inborn heroism that asserts itself in a child with the fervor and strength of mature years, putting to blush the cowardice of the man who would desert the cause of his people, for which the lad was willing to lay down his life. The scene where the boy threatens to shoot a confederate deserter unless he helps him defend the pass is a thrilling and momentous one that stirs up every drop of red blood in your veins. Then comes the wild ride of the mother in her last effort to save her son. We unconsciously shed tears of sympathy and intermingling them with smiles of admiration for the "little lad in Dixie."
"Priscilla's April Fool Joke." Biograph. A comedy acted with the care which characterizes most of the work of the Biograph players. Priscilla's rage when she finds another girl in her place is a good bit of work.
"Cured." Biograph comedy. With this old gent it was a case of kill or cure and the remedy seems to have been worse than the disease.
"Love in Madrid." American Pathe. A love story of strength with the scenes laid in Madrid, Spain. The picturesque "Jota" dance will be presented.
"The Trickster Tricked." A remarkably clever comedy.
"The Missing Bride." This beautiful drama enthralled the spectator from the moment it appears on the screen.

Pendleton's favorite picture theater. Interesting program for Tuesday's change.
"Priscilla's Engagement Kiss." Biograph. A romance of hearts and microbes. Germs and microbes are all very well in their way, but they should not be mixed up in love affairs, at least that is what Paul, Priscilla's sweetheart, thinks. Priscilla is ill with throat trouble and Paul is much concerned about this and his sympathy for her intensifies his love to such an extent that he proposes. Priscilla, of course, is willing, but papa in a joke declares Paul too young to marry. He must grow whiskers and become more manly. At
