A Mighty Man. Topham, the prince of English strong men, had knots of muscles where the armpits are in the ordinary man. He could take a bar of iron one and one-half inches in diameter and five feet long, place the middle of it over the back of his neck and then force the end forward until they met before his face. On one occasion he called upon a village blacksmith and made of him an everlasting enemy by picking up a number of horseshoes and snapping them in two as easily as if they had been pine sticks.

HAD FURNISHED ROOMS.

And He Had a Sign Out to Let the Neighbors Know.

In a little settlement on the outskirts of Chicago two houses stand out more boldly than the rest. These two are the domiciles of two Italians of means, who, although being very ignorant men, vie with each other for the social leadership of the locality.

One day a newcomer, in search of temporary lodgings, attracted by a conspicuous sign in the window of the first of these two houses, stepped to the door to make inquiry.

"I see you have furnished rooms here," he said to the swarthy man who answered his knock.

"Ya," rejoined the foreigner, pointing to the furnished room sign, "dere's da sign."

"Well, if you have one that's suitable I'd like to rent it for awhile."

"We no rent da rooms," was the bewildering declaration. "I got my family in here, and dey take up all da house."

"Don't rent any rooms? Why, then, have you that sign stuck in the window?"

"I'll tell you. Las' week dat fellow next door hang such a sign in his front window, an' we'n I see dat I put one of da same kind in my front window, just to show da people dat he ain't only man in dis place dat have his rooms furnished!"—Judge's Library.

SEEING THE FAR EAST.

It Should Be Viewed Through the Bible and "Arabian Nights."

The best books on the east, as every one knows, are the Bible and the "Arabian Nights," and yet I found most travelers were saturating themselves with snippy descriptions of monuments and places, with tabloids of history, with technical paragraphs on architecture and the ethnic religions, with figures about the height of this and the length of that or condensed statistics of exports and imports and the tonnage through the Suez canal and dates about the Pharaohs and the Mughals. No wonder they see nothing, know nothing, enjoy nothing and come home bringing a few expletives, adjectives and photographs which can be had for a small price in either New York or London.

The first thing to do in going to the east is to turn your education out on your desk so that you can get at the bottom of it, and there you will find the Bible and the "Arabian Nights" and the "Odyssey" and "Iliad" and "Virgil" and "Herodotus" and "Xenophon," and you will realize what a fool you were not to have devoted more time to them when you were asked to do so. Guide books can get you to the east, but they do not get you inside. It is temperament, not trains, that counts.—Price Collier in Scribner's Magazine.

SOCIALISM IS A FAILURE.

One Year of It Disgusts Milwaukee—Party Horde of Office Seekers.

Milwaukee, Wis. — Milwaukee has had one year of socialism. It has been a disappointment even to the socialists themselves, who complain that their own party has failed to support them in many of their undertakings. For twelve months the government of the city has been in the hands of the avowed disciples of Carl Marx. For four months the county of Milwaukee has also been in charge of the "Party of Discontent."

Milwaukee is disgusted and ashamed. Her citizens are holding "tax meetings" nightly. They have been doing so for many weeks. The "let-alone policy" that was adopted by the citizens generally for the first six months of the socialist administration has been discarded. Thousands of the socialists themselves have become alarmed and are joining the taxpayers' association—that is protesting against the prospects of greatly increased taxation. The vague alarm felt some months ago has at last become definite. Milwaukeeans are afraid of the high taxes that are certain in case the great scheme and visions of the socialists become an assured fact.

Milwaukeeans assert that the prestige of the city has been hurt all over the country. Orders are being withheld from their manufacturers because of a fear that strikes and labor troubles may delay or prevent them from being filled.

FIVE DEPOTS PLANNED.

O-W. R. & N. to Build Well on Deschutes Line in Near Future.

Contracts for the erection of five new passenger stations on the Deschutes line of the O-W. R. & N. Co. have been awarded to Moore Bros., of Portland and work on their construction will be started at once.

Three of these structures—one each at Hunts Ferry, Gateway and Madras—will have general dimensions of 24 by 70 feet and will be two stories high at one end. It is estimated that they will cost $4500 each. The two others will be erected at Fargar and Paxton respectively and will cost about $2000 each. They will be 24 by 70 feet and one story high.

The Hunts Ferry, Gateway and Madras stations will be fitted up with facilities for both freight and passenger service, commodious waiting-rooms for the public, offices and several rooms to be used as quarters by the agents.

Although these buildings will be somewhat larger than is demanded by present conditions on the new line, the company has looked into the future and intends that they be in use five or ten years. They will be modern in every detail and will be equal in many ways to the stations on the main line.

Work on these buildings will be rushed so that they will be completed by the time the road is ready for operation. Tracklayers now are approaching Madras and with the completion of the new bridge across Willow creek at the edge of that town the steel rails will be laid through that point to Culver Junction, which will make the line complete, as south of Culver Junction a joint track now being built by the other Deschutes valley road, will be used.

In the last 30 days Gateway has sprung from a sagebrush flat to a town of more than 200 people. At least 50 dwellings have been erected, nearly all of them housing families. Some are of crude construction, but others are of a permanent nature.

Orpheum.

Pendleton's favorite picture show offers a fine program for Friday's change.

1. "1861." Selig. An interesting story of the civil war. "Hold Chattanooga by all means, Hooker and Sherman marching to your relief. (Signed) Grant." Those memorable words had just died upon the lips of the grand old general, as he gave Lieutenant Allen orders to reach Thomas. One of the best war stories ever made.

2. "Jim, the Mule Boy." Edison. A mining story. There is novelty, pathos and keen reality in every foot of this wonderful film.

3. "Secret of the Forest." Kosmik. A beautifully photographed picture, it presents numerous unusually picturesque scenes.

4. "Tribulations of Jiggers." Kosmik. The laughable experiences of the well known comedian, Jiggers. He buys a new hat which proves to be haunted.

5. "The Twin Cinderellas." Pathé. Freres, Jeanette Nally in the exuberance of her joy at the wedding of her friend, takes off her overslipper and throws it after the happy departing couple. Officer Smith, Jeanette's lover, finds it and taking it to the police station, puts it in his locker for safekeeping. Hardly has he done so when Officer Swat stows away another pretty slipper in his locker. The latter has been lost by an actress on leaving the stage door and when she discovers the loss things begin to happen for stowed away in the toe is all her jewelry. Detective Reagan is assigned to the case but it is baffling until, upon going with Smith to call on Jeanette, what should he see but the missing slipper. Of course, it's not the one he wants but he doesn't know that. Jeanette is arrested, the actress is summoned, Detective Regan, Sergeant Doyle, Officer Smith and Jeanette get mixed in an uproariously funny situation. Explaining would spoil the picture. See it and find out for yourself whose feet the slipper fitted.

The Pastime.

The house of quality. A program of interest for Friday's change. "Sir Percy and the Puncturers." A comedy drama of the experiences of an Englishman with Texas cowboys, produced by G. Melles. You all know him, that handsome, haughty, effeminate Englishman, who lives for society's sake and who figures out that the world over owes him a living. Of such a type is "Sir Percy Granville" who falls heir to a ranch in Texas and while on the way there becomes acquainted with Mary Stevenson, whose father owned the adjoining ranch to "Sir Percy." Mary was returning from college and her youth and freshness appealed to this Englishman. So attentive was he to the girl that when Billy James, her old time sweetheart, met them at the station "Sir Percy" insisted on riding home in the same carriage. From the start he was the rival of young James. Don't miss the finish. It will bring a hearty laugh.

"Her adopted Father." Selig. A clean and wholesome drama having its inception on the storm beaten coast and carrying the aroma of the salt sea air. A love story interwoven gives heart interest.

"Dr. Charcot's Trip Toward the South Pole." Urban. Contains wonderful and impressive views of the polar regions. A picture at once educational and thrilling. It is a stupendous spectacle to see the ocean heaving, swirling and as if it were chafing under the ice floes which encumber it.

"The Camorralists, or Japanese Catching Fish With Birds." A novel picture.

"Girls Will Be Boys." Essanay Co. The novelty of the plot, the cleverness of the acting and the beautiful scenic appointments make this story especially interesting.
